

CLOUD BANK

(Pointing to sky.) See that? Way up there? The gray thing near the sun that looks like a big mushed-out pillow. It's a cloud bank. That's what my grandpa says. What? What do they keep in a cloud bank? Silly! Everybody knows they keep baby clouds in a cloud bank. Why? So the baby clouds can grow and collect interest. Then, when the baby clouds have become mature — that's a grown-up word that means "grown-up" — the cloud mothers and fathers take their baby clouds out of the cloud bank and send them to cloud school, which is like our school except with no desks or chairs or homework. In cloud school the young clouds learn to make rain and snow and how to shelter birds from airplanes that get too close and how to cover the sun so it never gets too hot. Oh, and they also learn to form themselves into shapes that spell letters when God wants to say something to people on Earth. Now that's something I wish we could learn in our school.

ROLE CALL

Comic

Star just found out she didn't get the role she wanted in the school play — her best friend did. Upset, she tries to scare her friend out of playing the role.

Star: You got the role? You got cast as Annie? That role was mine. I'm perfect for it. What did I get? (Beat.) Understudy?! For you?! You've got to be kidding me! You can't even sing. I'm just telling you so you won't embarrass yourself in front of everyone. And you know that song, (She sings.) "The sun will come out, tomorrow"? That means the sun's not out. It will be rainy and cloudy and gloomy the whole time you work on the show! Plus, that woman is gonna be so mean to you because you're an orphan. And you don't even get a cat. Just a big, old, ugly dog! Gosh, I feel so bad for you. (Beat.) What? Will I do it for you? I don't know, it's a pretty pathetic role. (Beat.) Okay, okay, I'll do it. But only because you're my best friend.

The Ultimate Scene and Monologue Sourcebook Ed Hooks, 1994

Preparing for an audition and unsure of what you want to do, The Ultimate Scene and Monologue Sourcebook is the book you've been waiting for. Unlike scene books that reprint 50 to 75 monologues excerpted from plays but don't include any background information, this annotated guide tells you what you really need to know about audition material from more than 300 contemporary plays. Here is how the book works. Suppose that you're looking for a dramatic male/female scene. When you scan Part One, Play Synopses and Analyses, you come across an entry for The Middle of the Night by Paddy Chayefsky. This is what you see: The Middle of the Night by Paddy Chayefsky, Samuel French. Synopsis: A kindly 53-year-old widower falls in love with a 23-year-old woman who is unhappily married to a musician. No one in their circle of acquaintances approves of this union, but their love is true. Analysis: Excellent human drama frequently touching. Actors who play the widower need to have a good feel for New York City/Brooklyn speech patterns. This sensitivity isn't as essential for the part of the woman. All levels. Scenes/Monologues: Male Monologues 1, Female Monologues 1, Female Scenes 1, Male/Female Scenes 2. In addition to basic information about the play, author and publisher, the entry provides you with the story line, a critique of the play, and the number of audition-worthy monologues and scenes it contains. If the description of this particular play piques your interest, your next step is to turn to Part Six, Male/Female Scenes, for specifics about the selection. This is what you'll see there: The Middle of the Night by Paddy Chayefsky, Samuel French. Drama. Act II, Scene 2, pp. 40-44. The Manufacturer, 53. After an unsatisfactory attempt at lovemaking, The Manufacturer feels awful that he wasn't able to perform well. He is very understanding. He then asks her to marry him. The actor playing The Manufacturer must have a good feel for regional New York speech patterns. This skill is less critical for the actress playing The Start The Manufacturer I m sorry Betty End The Manufacturer Oh my sweet I love you so much you don t know If you change your mind tomorrow I won t be angry with you I won t lie to you Betty I m afraid This entry tells you what type of scene this is dramatic where you ll find the selection act scene and page numbers the length of the scene the names and ages of the characters the context in which the characters are speaking and the first and last lines of the scene If the material seems appropriate all you have to do is get a copy of the play and get to work BecauseThe Ultimate Scene and Monologue Sourcebookenables you to make informed decisions about the suitability of more than 1 000 monologues and scenes which you can find easily through the book s extensive cross indexes you ll gain a critical edge in the auditioning process Dictionary Catalog of the Research Libraries of the New York Public Library, 1911-1971 New York Public Library. Research Libraries,1979 Werner's Readings and Recitations ,1929 Get the Callback Jonathan Flom,2016-05-02 All great auditions require preparation and practice but what s the secret to securing a callback What are the best ways to prepare for that pivotal moment And once you re in front of the casting director what does it take to make the most out of your moment in the spotlight In this second edition of Get the Callback The Art of Auditioning for Musical Theatre Jonathan Flom provides practical advice on the many facets of preparation including selection of songs and monologues to suit your voice and the audition organizing and arranging your music working with the accompanist and presenting yourself to the casting team The book gives a detailed description of the actual audition performance and even offers advice on how non dancers can survive a dance audition In addition to extensively revised chapters on the audition process and how to build a repertoire book this guide also features updated chapters on headshots resumes and cover letters voice training techniques from Matthew Edward advice from musical director Joey Chancey and a foreword by casting director Joy Dewing Aimed at professionals as well as young artists this second edition of Get the Callback is a must have for both seasoned and aspiring musical theatre performers Best Monologues from The Best American Short Plays, Volume Three William W.
