Parliamentary Debates New Zealand. Parliament,1934 A System of Logic, Ratiocinative and Inductive John Stuart Mill,1855 Proceedings of the Institution of Electrical Engineers Institution of Electrical Engineers,1920 Vols for 1970 79 include an annual special issue called IEE reviews Brains, Buddhas, and Believing Dan Arnold,2014-04-08

Premodern Buddhists are sometimes characterized as veritable mind scientists whose insights anticipate modern research on the brain and mind Aiming to complicate this story Dan Arnold confronts a significant obstacle to popular attempts at harmonizing classical Buddhist and modern scientific thought since most Indian Buddhists held that the mental continuum is uninterrupted by death its continuity is what Buddhists mean by rebirth they would have no truck with the idea that everything about the mental can be explained in terms of brain events Nevertheless a predominant stream of Indian Buddhist thought associated with the seventh century thinker Dharmakirti turns out to be vulnerable to arguments modern philosophers have leveled against physicalism By characterizing the philosophical problems commonly faced by Dharmakirti and contemporary philosophers such as Jerry Fodor and Daniel Dennett Arnold seeks to advance an understanding of both first millennium Indian arguments and contemporary debates on the philosophy of mind The issues center on what modern philosophers have called intentionality the fact that the mind can be about or represent or mean other things Tracing an account of intentionality through Kant Wilfrid Sellars and John McDowell Arnold argues that intentionality cannot in principle be explained in causal terms Elaborating some of Dharmakirti s central commitments chiefly his apoha theory of meaning and his account of self awareness Arnold shows that despite his concern to refute physicalism Dharmakirti s causal explanations of the mental mean that modern arguments from intentionality cut as much against his project as they do against physicalist philosophies of mind This is evident in the arguments of some of Dharmakirti s contemporaneous Indian critics proponents of the orthodox Brahmanical Mimamsa school as well as fellow Buddhists from the Madhyamaka school of thought whose critiques exemplify the same logic as modern arguments from intentionality Elaborating these various strands of thought Arnold shows that seemingly arcane arguments among first millennium Indian thinkers can illuminate matters still very much at the heart of contemporary philosophy Primary Speech Ann Belford Ulanov,1982-01-01 Prayer is our basic expression of religious belief It is our personal and most private act of devotion Words cannot do justice to the feelings wishes terrors pains or pleasures that we exchange with God This book sets out to define prayer as both a means of drawing nearer to God everyday and as a coping tool that people can use in order to achieve harmony balance and satisfaction in their in their lives The Norwegian Aurora Polaris Expedition, 1902-1903 ... Kristian Birkeland,1913 According to
