Moondial Helen Cresswell:

Moondial Helen Cresswell, 1988 Minty is staying with her maiden aunt and discovers that the moondial in the huge house nearby has the power to take her back in time On her time travels she meets two children who are desperately in need of help and she encounters danger and excitement in her bid to rescue them Horrifying Children Lauren Stephenson, Robert Edgar, John Marland, 2024-03-07 Horrifying Children examines weird and eerie children's television and literature via critical analysis memoir and autoethnography There has been an explosion of interest in the impact of children's television and literature of the late twentieth century In particular the 1970s 80s and 90s are seen as decades that shaped a great deal of the contemporary cultural landscape Television of this period dominated the world of childhood entertainment drawing freely upon literature and popular culture like the Garbage Pail Kids and Stranger Things and much of it continues to resonate powerfully with the generation of cultural producers fiction writers screenwriters directors musicians and artists that grew up watching the weird the eerie and the horrific the essence of 21st century Hauntology In these terms this book is not about children's television as it exists now but rather as it features as a facet of memory in the 21st century As such it is the legacy of these television programmes that is at the core of Horrifying Children The haunting of adults by what we have seen on the screen is crucial to the study This collection directly addresses that which scared us in the past inasmuch as there is a correlation between individual and collective cultural memory with some chapters providing an opportunity for situating existing explorations and understandings of Gothic and Horror TV within a hauntological and experiential framework Moondial Helen CRESSWELL, 1988 Through the Looking-Glass - With Audio Level 3 Oxford

Bookworms Library Lewis Carroll, 2014-09-30 A level 3 Oxford Bookworms Library graded reader This version includes an audio book listen to the story as you read Retold for Learners of English by Jennifer Bassett I wish I could get through into looking glass house Alice said Let's pretend that the glass has gone soft and Why I do believe it has It's turning into a kind of cloud A moment later Alice is inside the looking glass world There she finds herself part of a great game of chess travelling through forests and jumping across brooks The chess pieces talk and argue with her give orders and repeat poems It is the strangest dream that anyone ever had Exploited, Empowered, Ephemeral Denise Burkhard, 2023-07-10 Childhood in neo-Victorian fiction for both child and adult readers is an extremely multifaceted and fascinating field This book argues that neo-Victorian fiction projects multiple competing visions of childhood and suggests that they can be analysed by means of a typology the childhood scale which provides different categories along the lines of power relations and literary possible worlds theory The usefulness of both is exemplified by detailed discussions of Philippa Pearce's Tom's Midnight Garden 1958 Eva Ibbotson's Journey to the River Sea 2001 Sarah Waters' Fingersmith 2002 and Dianne Setterfield's The Thirteenth Tale 2006 Exploring Children's Literature Nikki Gamble, Sally Yates, 2008-02-20 This book is based on the belief that deep subject knowledge of language and literature provides a foundation for effective teaching and learning It provides a comprehensive guide to the range of genres and characteristic features of English language fiction written for children It will help readers to o develop their understanding of literature within social cultural and political reading practices o extend their knowledge of language features and conventions of different genres o develop skills in analytical and critical reading The scope of the first edition has been expanded from solely fiction to cover a range of contemporary literature including poetry plays and picture books The case study material investigative activities and practical exercises promote an active approach to learning The second edition focuses on a range of fiction relevant to the National Curriculum for England and the National Literacy Strategy It provides examples from a range of world literature written in English Examples from work in translation are also included It also addresses the requirements of the primary curriculum for ITT English This book is essential reading for student teachers on PGCE and undergraduate teacher education courses and for teachers undertaking CPD in English literacy or children s literature It provides useful support material for language coordinators SCITT coordinators and literacy consultants

Future Folk Horror Simon Bacon,2023-07-24 Future Folk Horror Contemporary Anxieties and Possible Futures analyzes folk horror by looking at its recent popularity in novels and films such as The Ritual 2011 The Witch 2015 and Candyman 2021 Countering traditional views of the genre as depictions of the monstrous rural and pagan past trying to consume the present the contributors to this collection posit folk horror as being able to uniquely capture the anxieties of the twenty first century caused by an ongoing pandemic and the divisive populist politics that have arisen around it Further this book shows how through its increasing intersections with other genres such as science fiction the weird and eco criticism as seen in films and texts like The Zero Theorem 2013 The Witcher 2007 2021 and Annihilation 2018 as well as through its engagement with topics around climate change racism and identity politics folk horror can point to other ways of being in the world and visions of possible futures
