

The background of the cover is a photograph of a winter forest. In the foreground, a single evergreen tree stands on the left, its branches heavily laden with snow. The rest of the forest is a dense, out-of-focus sea of white snow-covered trees. The sky is a pale, bright blue with soft, wispy white clouds. The overall mood is serene and quiet.

An Ethic of Mutual Respect Bruce Morito, 2012-08-30 Over the course of a century until the late 1700s the British Crown the Iroquois and other Aboriginal groups of eastern North America developed an alliance and treaty system known as the Covenant Chain Bruce Morito offers a philosophical re reading of the historical record of negotiations showing that the parties developed an ethic of mutually recognized respect This ethic Morito argues remains relevant to current debates over Aboriginal and treaty rights because it is neither culturally nor historically bound Real change is possible if efforts can be shifted from piecemeal legal and political disputes to the development of an intercultural ethic based on trust respect and solidarity
