chapter Chapters discuss the botany of the crop including its history and origin geographical distribution and morphology before focusing on the chemical composition and phytochemical attributes They then review postharvest technology aspects such as processing and value addition before concluding with the general and pharmacological uses for each crop A complete compilation of the subject this book forms a vital resource for researchers students farmers and industrialists in the area of leafy medicinal herbs The Indian Journal of Agricultural Sciences, 2017-07 An Introduction to Agroforestry P. K. Ramachandran Nair, B. Mohan Kumar, Vimala D. Nair, 2022-01-12 Agroforestry the practice of growing trees and crops in interacting combinations is recognized the world over as an integrated approach to sustainable land use Agroforestry systems being multifunctional facilitate not only the production of food and wood products but also provide a variety of ecosystem services such as climate change mitigation biodiversity conservation and soil quality improvement Agroforestry research has made rapid strides since organized efforts started in the late 1970s Today a vast body of scientific knowledge and an impressive array of publications on agroforestry are available Four World Congresses on Agroforestry conducted once every five years since 2004 have brought together the global community of agroforestry professionals and practitioners to share and discuss the emerging trends and paradigm shifts in this field The fifth Congress is scheduled to be held in Qu bec Canada However a comprehensive college level textbook incorporating these research findings did not exist until this book was first published The first edition of this book in 1993 Nair P K R 1993 is out of print and somewhat dated This revised edition with emphasis on the scientific developments during the past more than four decades addresses this long felt need

New Vistas in Agroforestry P. K. Ramachandran Nair, M.R. Rao, L.E. Buck, 2013-03-09 It was in late 2002 that the idea of preparing a collection of multi authored chapters on different aspects of ag st forestry as a compendium for the 1 World Congress of Agroforestry June 2004 was tossed around With the approval of the idea by the Congress Organizing Committee serious efforts to make it a reality got under way in early 2003 The rigorously peer reviewed and edited manuscripts were submitted to the publisher in December 2003 Considering the many different individuals involved in the task as authors and manuscript reviewers we feel quite pleased that the task could be accomplished within this timeframe We are pleased also about the contents on several counts First of all the tropical temperate mix of topics is a rare feature of a publication of this nature In spite of the scientific commonalities between tropical and temperate practices of agroforestry the differences between them are so enormous that it is often impossible to mesh them together in one publication Secondly several of the chapters are on topics that have not been discussed or described much in agroforestry literature A third feature is that some of the authors though well known in their own disciplinary areas are somewhat new to agroforestry the perceptions and outlooks of these scholars who are relatively unin uenced by the past happenings in agroforestry gives a whole new dimension to agroforestry and broadensthescopeofthesubject Finally ratherthanjustreviewingandsummarizingpastwork mostchapterstake the extra effort in attempting to outline the next steps Bioprospecting of Ethnomedicinal Plant
