Thresholds: Rethinking Spirituality Through Music Marcel Cobussen, 2017-07-05 In Thresholds Marcel Cobussen rethinks the relationship between music and spirituality. The point of departure is the current movement within contemporary classical music known as New Spiritual Music with its main representatives Arvo P. John Tavener and Giya Kancheli. In almost all respects the musical principles of the new spiritual music seem to be diametrically opposed to those of modernism: repetition and rest versus development and progress; tradition and familiarity versus innovation and experiment; communication versus individualism and conceptualism; tonality versus atonality and so on. As such this movement is often considered as part of the much larger complex called postmodernism. Joining in with ideas on spirituality as presented by Michel de Certeau and Mark C. Taylor, Cobussen deconstructs the classification of the spiritual dimensions of music as described above. Thresholds presents an idea of spirituality in and through music that counters strategies of exclusion and mastering of alterity and connects it to wandering, erring and roving. Using the philosophy of Martin Heidegger, Georges Bataille, Jean-François Lyotard, Jacques Derrida and others, and analysing the music of John Coltrane, the mythical Sirens, Arvo P. and The Eagles to mention a few, Cobussen regards spirituality as a non-concept that escapes categorization and classification and linguistic descriptions. Spirituality is a topological, non-discursive and a manifestation of otherness. And it is precisely music or better listening to music that induces these thoughts by carefully encountering, analysing and evaluating certain examples from classical, jazz, pop and world music. It is possible to detach spirituality from concepts of otherworldliness and transcendentalism. Thresholds opens a space in which spirituality can be connected to music that is not commonly considered in this light, thereby enriching the ways of approaching and discussing music.

In order to do this, Cobussen refers to the concept of Ongewone alledaagsheid (Bart Voorsluis, 2003). Filosofische beschouwingen over spiritualiteit in het dagelijks leven. Essays on the Real Church (Dirk J. Smit, 2024-08-15). The spirit of the Reformation is often expressed in the well-known slogan that Reformed churches are always being reformed according to God's Word: ecclesia reformata semper reformanda secundum verbum Dei. Over the last century, the spirit of this slogan motivated someone like Dietrich Bonhoeffer to argue that the visible form and life of the church should reflect the truth and message of the church. Already in his doctoral dissertation called Sanctorum Communio, the communion of the saints, the young Bonhoeffer combined theological claims and traditions with social theory and analysis in this spirit, in an innovative way, to study the nature and integrity and witness of the church. At the time, this was a radical claim with major consequences and challenges for Protestant churches. Their life, which meant their order, structure, actions, statements, convictions, public presence and role, was to be measured by their gospel, which meant their message, proclamation, convictions, claims. They could no longer proclaim one truth yet live a different life. It was this spirit which led to the well-known Theological Declaration of Barmen in 1934 and to the formation of the Confessing Church in Nazi Germany. Many called this a moment of truth, a status confessionis. It was this same spirit which later inspired the struggle in South Africa.

Africa for the integrity and faithfulness of the church and for the credibility of its message proclamation and witness The contributions in this volume 52 papers essays sermons studies were all produced in this spirit Most of them have not been published before They were all occasional pieces written over several decades in different contexts and for different purposes and audiences yet they all breathe this self critical spirit of the Reformation considering whether the real church the concrete every day actual living church that people know and experience and perhaps belong to truly strives to embody the gospel itself the message which it claims and proclaims They all inquire under different circumstances and in diverse ways about different social forms of the real church from worship to congregation from denomination to ecumenical church from individual believers to movements and organisations whether and how they embody the truth of the church or not Together these contributions tell a story the story of this spirit in South African circles over several decades but also in the ecumenical church in our globalizing world They offer one small glimpse into different concrete moments in the story of this spirit in the life of this tradition and community of faith Hopefully some of these accounts may resonate with others who also shared the same spirit and still share it today in new and ongoing ways     Het leven vieren Fulbert Steffensky,1984 Progressief christelijke meditaties over geloof maatschappij betrokkenheid en vooral spiritualiteit     Magische momenten Marianne Williamson,Karin van Grieken,2003 Spiritualiteit in het dagelijks leven kan vorm krijgen door zich in gebed en meditatie open te stellen voor de magie in alledaagse ervaringen     De spiritualiteit van het dagelijkse leven E.
