Political Ideologies and the Democratic Ideal Terence Ball, Richard Dagger, Daniel I. O'Neill, Jenet Kirkpatrick, 2024-10-29 Now in its twelfth edition Political Ideologies and the Democratic Ideal continues the book's tradition of offering a clear concise and comprehensive introduction to the ideas and ideals that shake and shape our political world. The text outlines a framework defining each ideology in terms of the four functions ideologies performs: explanation, evaluation, orientation, and political program, allowing students to compare, contrast, and analyze the various ideologies, developing their own unique views and critical thinking skills. New to this Edition: A new co-author, Jenet Kirkpatrick, recognized for her teaching and scholarship in political theory, feminist theory, and resistance. Chapter 2: updated material on voter suppression and populism. Chapter 3: expanded discussion of the relationship between Adam Smith's moral and economic theories, how John Stuart Mill's views on free speech might apply to contemporary controversies, differences between John Rawls and Robert Nozick, and between neoclassical and welfare liberals, more generally. Updated discussion of the Great Recession and broader issues of economic inequality. Chapter 4: extended discussion of Edmund Burke's place within the conservative tradition. Updated assessment of contemporary conservatism in light of Donald Trump's presidency, new section on Christian Nationalism. Chapter 5: extended discussion of Marx's theory of history. Chapter 6: updated the status of the socialist and communist traditions in China, Russia, and the United States. Chapter 7: charted the resurgence of far right and neo-fascist politics in Europe. Discussion of the Alt Right in the United States has been expanded, including new sections on QAnon and the Great Replacement theory. Also expanded upon discussion of whether fascism could gain serious traction in the United States, and a new section on the reasons why some critics say Donald Trump is either a fascist or dangerously close to becoming one. Chapter 8: updated sections on Black liberation and feminism, including reference to George Floyd's murder and the Dobbs decision that overturned Roe v. Wade. Also new material on settler colonialism and on the issues for all liberation ideologies raised by the case of undocumented immigrants, and extended discussion of liberation theology. Chapter 9: updated material on the severity of the climate crisis and the variety of responses that have emerged to address it. Chapter 10: a new section on Hamas and extended discussion of protests against Islamist rule in Iran, focusing on the responses to Mahsa Amini's death in police custody. Also updated sections on ISIS and the Taliban in light of the former's erosion and the latter's return to power, in addition to references to internecine conflicts among radical Islamists. Chapter 11: updated reasons for the conclusion that there will be no end of ideological conflicts soon, especially with the continued power of religious worldviews, globalization, and perhaps most especially the return of fascism worldwide. Essential Personal Finance Lien Luu, Jonquil Lowe, Jason Butler, Tony Byrne, 2017-02-24 Young people face unprecedented financial challenges: rising student debt, stiff competition for jobs, barriers to home ownership, dwindling state benefits, and prospects of a longer working life. Designing Inclusive Public Toilets Jo-Anne Bichard, Gail Ramster, 2025-07-09 It has never been more important for inclusive design research to inform society Based on 20 years of research and incorporating perspectives from over 500 participants this book provides a critical overview of public toilet design in the UK and presents an urgent need to re evaluate the accessibility of and culture around these essential spaces Public toilets are a vital element of public health infrastructure and an area of the built environment that everyone would use if they could Drawing from a rich body of research into toilet design public services accessibility and social injustice Jo Anne Bichard and Gail Ramster explore the complexities around using these facilities and examine a diverse array of design considerations related to age disability neurodiversity and gender The authors look at the development of toilet design in the UK discussing examples of successful and failed designs and present an innovative approach for the future that reframes a space associated with unpleasantness and inaccessibility as one that is essential and respected This rigorous study takes into consideration the body's needs and decision making on leaving home issues of navigating locating and entering facilities and issues related to cubicles fixtures products and hygiene The authors present an inclusive design approach that can help designers planners and managers create these spaces more effectively and understand what every prospective user might need with a sense of safety comfort and dignity

Literature and Social Media Bronwen Thomas, 2020-01-31 From Instapoetry to BookTube contemporary literary cultures and practices are increasingly intertwined with social media In this lively and wide ranging study Bronwen Thomas explores how social media provides new ways of connecting with and rediscovering established literary works and authors while also facilitating the emergence of unique and distinctive forms of creative expression The book takes a 360 approach to the subject combining analysis of current forms and practices with an examination of how social media fosters ongoing collaborative discourse amongst both informal and formal literary networks and demonstrating how the participatory practices of social media have the potential to radically transform how literature is produced shared and circulated The first study of its kind to focus specifically on social media Literature and Social Media provides a timely and engaging account of the state of the art while interrogating the rhetoric that so often accompanies discussion of the new in this context

The Performance of REDD+ Bas Arts, Verina Ingram, Maria Brockhaus, 2021-09-09 REDD represents countries efforts to reduce emissions from deforestation and forest degradation and foster conservation the sustainable management of forests and the enhancement of forest carbon stocks The basic idea is that more carbon can be sequestered and stocked in tropical forests by improving their conservation management and sustainable use thus contributing to mitigating climate change The developing countries and relevant stakeholders concerned will be financially compensated for these endeavors either through public funds or private carbon markets Given this context this book will address the need to assess the political and socio economic dimensions of the performance of REDD which is relevant to policy makers practitioners and scholars This implies taking into account the various levels from global to local and dimensions e g results based payments MRV co benefits and community engagement as well as divergent disciplinary connotations of performance We therefore pose the following question What does performance mean In answering this question we provide examples of assessments of performance We present 9 cases of how REDD has performed on local national and international scales and reflect on the representativeness of these examples and their limitations when looking at the current range of REDD initiatives along with what is missing in terms of evaluating the performance of REDD We conclude by establishing why performance assessment remains so relevant today

Un/familiar Theology Susannah Cornwall, 2017-06-15 Through engagement with theologies of adoption pro natalism marriage and queer theology Susannah Cornwall figures developments in models of marriage and family not as distortions of or divergences from the divinely ordained blueprint but as developments already of a piece with these institutions being Much Christian theological discussion of family sex and marriage seems to claim that they are or should be unchanging and immaculate that to celebrate their shifting and developing natures is to reject them as good gifts of God However models of marriage family parenting and reproduction have changed and are still in some cases radically changing These changes are not all a raging tide to be turned back but in continuity with goods deeply embedded in the tradition Alternative forms of marriage and family stand as signs of the hope of the possibility of change Changed institutions such as same sex marriage are new beginnings with the potential to be fruitful and generative in their own right In them humans create new imaginaries which more fully acknowledge the interactive nature of our relationships with the world and the divine

Why Punish? Rob Canton, 2017-09-16 Why do we punish Is it because only punishment can achieve justice for victims and right the wrong of a crime Or is it justified because it reduces crime by deterring potential offenders offering rehabilitative treatment to others and incapacitating the most dangerous The complex answers to this enduring question vary across time and place and are directly linked to people s personal cultural social religious and ethical commitments and even their sense of identity This unique introduction to the philosophy of punishment provides a systematic analysis of the themes of retribution deterrence rehabilitation incapacitation and restorative justice Integrating philosophical sociological political and ethical perspectives it provides a thorough and wide ranging discussion of the purposes meanings and justifications of punishment for crime and the extent to which punishment does could or should live up to what it claims to achieve Why Punish challenges criminology and criminal justice students as well as policy makers judges magistrates and criminal justice practitioners to think more critically about the role of punishment and the moral principles that underpin it Bridging abstract theory with the realities of practice Rob Canton asks what better punishment would look like and how it can be achieved Uzbekistan's Foreign Policy Bernardo

Fazendeiro,2017-08-25 Uzbekistan s foreign policy from 1991 to 2016 starting from independence right up to the death of its first president Islam Karimov is one of the more distinctive approaches to international politics since the end of the Cold War This distinctiveness rests on the republic s gradual struggle for self reliance upon becoming independent Authorities in Uzbekistan especially its President were sceptics of the norms that came to prevail across regional and broader international politics This book addresses the making of Uzbekistan s general foreign policy and its corresponding effects outside Central Asia particularly at the highest level among state officials heads of state and ministers It shows how a particular set of promises slogans and attitudes became the pillars upon which Uzbekistan s international role was shaped a role which then affected Tashkent s twenty five year relations with Russia the United States Germany and Turkey The book argues that the Government of Uzbekistan sought to be recognised as a self reliant power after independence but that the international norms of the post Cold War order coupled with the conflicting aims of the partners with whom it interacted hindered acknowledgement and contributed to a twenty year struggle for recognition Providing a thorough assessment of President Karimov s legacy in the foreign policy domain this book contributes to the developing field of role theory and recognition in International Relations It will also be of interest to academics in the fields of Central Asian and Eurasian politics and international relations American Independent Cinema Yannis Tzioumakis,2017-09-01 A comparative analysis of key

Islamic ity platforms and their debates Push Back Judith Large,2016-12-15 In 2009 after decades of conflict the Sri Lankan government proclaimed the decisive defeat of the Liberation Tamil Tigers of Elam Subsequently the state proved resistant to attempts by the UN and other international bodies to promote post war reconciliation or reform In this incisive new work Judith Large investigates the ways in which the Rajapaksa government was able to subvert international diplomatic efforts as well as exploring the wider context of rising Sinhalese nationalism the attendant growth of discrimination against minorities and efforts by both the diaspora and citizens within Sri Lanka to work towards a positive peace Push Back is vital reading not only for those interested in Sri Lanka but also for those concerned about the wider implications of the conflict for human rights peace making and geopolitics

From an Ethic of Sufficiency to its Policy and Practice in Late Capitalism Manu V. Mathai, Sylvia Lorek, Wolfgang Sachs, 2023-12-13 That the notion of sufficiency is essential for a good life is an idea that enjoys support across many ethical philosophical religious and cultural persuasions This notion reasserted itself in the study of sustainability once modern society reluctantly took cognizance of the limited low entropy energy and matter available for human appropriation There is today therefore a general recognition of i e not necessarily wide agreement on the merits of or needs for notions of sufficiency as a species of environmentalism within secular communities In this context a critical question that invites our attention is how to effect sufficiency and in particular of dealing with the daunting challenge of injustice as well as questions of distribution within and between countries that it brings to attention. Given sufficiency's original home as it were in tradition, the modern world has tended to dismiss it or to plead to individual voluntary simplicity when faced with evidence asserting its necessity. Sufficiency is also often written away as a spiritual problem. The domain of ascetics and the religious. How to rehabilitate sufficiency in a political economy for the secular modern facing its biggest existential challenge yet in the form of the environmental crisis. The Role of the human dimension in promoting education for sustainable development at the regional level Jana Dlouhá, Rodrigo Lozano, Philip Vaughter, Andrew Reeves, Kiran Banga Chhokar, Clemens Mader, Roger Petry, Detlev Lindau-Bank, 2023-10-27

Contemporary Debates on Terrorism Richard Jackson, Daniela Pisoiu, 2018-09-03 Contemporary Debates on Terrorism is an innovative textbook addressing a number of key issues in terrorism studies from both traditional and critical perspectives. This second edition has been revised and updated to cover contemporary issues such as the rise of ISIL and cyberterrorism. In recent years the terrorism studies field has grown in quantity and quality with a growing number of scholars rooted in various professional disciplines beginning to debate the complex dynamics underlying this category of violence. Within the broader field there are a number of identifiable controversies and questions which divide scholarly opinion and generate opposing arguments. These relate to theoretical issues such as the definition of terrorism and state terrorism substantive issues like the threat posed by al Qaeda ISIL and the utility of different responses to terrorism different pathways leading people to engage in terrorist tactics and ethical issues such as the use of drones. This new edition brings together in one place many of the field's leading scholars to debate the key issues relating to a set of 16 important controversies and questions. The format of the volume involves a leading scholar taking a particular position on the controversy followed by an opposing or alternative viewpoint written by another scholar. In addition to the pedagogic value of allowing students to read opposing arguments in one place the volume will also be important for providing an overview of the state of the field and its key lines of debate. This book will be essential reading for students of terrorism studies and political violence critical terrorism studies security studies and IR in general. A Decadal Survey of the Social and Behavioral Sciences National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Behavioral, Cognitive, and Sensory Sciences, Committee on a Decadal Survey of Social and Behavioral Sciences for Applications to National Security, 2019-06-26 The primary function of the intelligence analyst is to make sense of information about the world but the way analysts do that work will look profoundly different a decade from now. Technological changes will bring both new advances in conducting analysis and new risks related to technologically based activities and communications around the world. Because these changes are virtually inevitable the Intelligence Community will need to make sustained collaboration with researchers in the social and behavioral sciences a key priority if it is to adapt to these changes in the most productive ways. A Decadal Survey Of The Social and Behavioral Sciences provides guidance for a 10 year research agenda This report identifies key opportunities in SBS research for strengthening intelligence analysis and offers ideas for integrating the knowledge and perspectives of researchers from these fields into the planning and design of efforts to support intelligence analysis
