Men and Mothers Hendrika C. Freud, 2018-03-08 Not all men vie with their fathers for the love of their mothers In some families the mother becomes the central figure for her son the father is excluded or excludes himself and does not come between mother and son The main thesis of this book using clinical vignettes and quotes from the work of Marcel Proust to illustrate the author s points is that in these cases fantasies of matricide replace patricide Men develop their male gender identity by being permitted to separate from their mother early on but when a man does not resolve his infantile tie to his mother he risks remaining in a passive and or dependent position towards her Over identification with the mother might ensue hampering masculine development Mothers who seek emotional support by binding their sons too closely can become seductive towards them The child is inclined to try to satisfy the emotional needs of his mother and he fears rejection if he asserts his independence instead of complying

Breaking the Mother-Son Dynamic John Lee, 2015-08-04 Therapists and the general public are familiar with the terms s mothering helicopter moms and boomerang sons because they have been popularized in films like Monster in Law Cyrus and Failure to Launch but what makes for humorous fodder onscreen depicts a troubling issue that s being played out for real in therapists offices bedrooms and divorce courts across the nation an epidemic of men who are enmeshed in unhealthy energy sucking and emasculating relationships with their mothers Even though these men are grown and living away from Mom her influence has left them unable to fully commit or to fully love and they are plagued with anger issues indecisiveness depression or toxic stress In Breaking the Mother Son Dynamic John Lee takes an eye opening look at how a mother's love or lack thereof impacts a son's life choices and life partner or lovers Perhaps you are one of these men or maybe you recognize these behaviors in the man you love Do you hold back swallow or bottle up things you wish you could say to your mother for fear it would upset or kill her Did you grow up hearing negative things about men masculinity being a male and how you shouldn't be like the rest of them Does your mother or did she fail to respect your boundaries as a child adolescent or adult Does your mother keep referring to you as her baby or her little boy even after you became an adult If you answered yes to any of these questions you may be caught in an unhealthy mother son dynamic that is negatively affecting key areas of your life Several years ago John Lee wrote what came to be the most authoritative book on why men run from relationships The Flying Boy Healing the Wounded Man Here he visits the mother son relationship and gently but assertively shows men how to separate from the mother energy that has a massive pull on their hearts and souls no matter how young or old they may be In a work that is a combination of memoir self help psychology recovery and personal growth he discovers why a relationship of 50/50 responsibility doesn't work and what does work how men can stop sonning mothers lovers and wives why one must learn his or her own rhythm of closeness how to be really present to those we love and to life itself and much much more Using case studies personal stories and assessments the book helps men release any anger and grief toward their mothers and teaches them how to take responsibility for their adult selves most importantly Lee provides an understanding of what healthy adults should and shouldn't expect from each other Lee shows wives and girlfriends how to stop being their man's surrogate mother and shows well meaning mothers how certain behaviors may perpetuate an unhealthy cycle and how to better relate to their sons in healthier ways By helping mothers and sons identify this dynamic and providing them with the tools to dismantle it this book will change lives For anyone who is ready to make a clean clear and guilt free separation from the kind of s mothering and sonning that just hasn't worked John Lee will show them the way Men and Mothers HENDRIKA C. FREUD, Taylor & Francis Group, 2019-07-10 Male Poets and the Agon of the Mother Hannah Baker Saltmarsh, 2019-04-23 A thoughtful exploration of male poets contributions to the literature of motherhood In the late 1950s the notion of a mother poem emerged during a confessional literary movement that freed poets to use personal psychosexual material about intimate topics such as parents childhood failed marriages children infidelity and mental illness In Male Poets and the Agon of the Mother Hannah Baker Saltmarsh argues that male poets have contributed to what we think of as the literature of motherhood that confessional and postconfessional modes have been formative in the way male poets have grappled with the stories of their mothers and how those stories reflect on the writers and their artistic identities Through careful readings of formative elegies and homages written by male poets of this time Saltmarsh explores how they engaged with femininity and feminine voices in the 1950s and 60s and sheds light on the inheritance of confessional motifs of gender and language as demonstrated by postconfessional writers responding to the rich subject matter of motherhood within the contexts of history myth and literature A foreword is provided by Jo Gill professor of twentieth century and American literature in the Department of English and associate dean for education at the University of Exeter

The Mother Town Gwen Kennedy Neville, 1994 Horses with riders trailed by foot processionalists silver bands and pipe bands furling medieval banners lavish costumes and singers and actors the Common Riding is an elaborate little studied ritual phenomenon of the border towns of Scotland In this vividly written and insightful analysis Gwen Kennedy Neville uses this civic ceremony as a window for glimpsing the process of ritual symbol and experience in the development of the concept of the town in Western culture Based on extensive fieldwork in the town of Selkirk The Mother Town looks at the Common Riding in detail uncovering pre Reformation symbolism and pageantry often medieval and Catholic in a region that has been Protestant for over four hundred years Neville shows how the ceremony is a model of the way civic ritual serves to construct a system of towns which gives rise to the modern world Further she contends that these civic rituals create a ceremonial setting in which the contradictions between tradition and modernity can be temporarily resolved and where past and present live side by side Neville offers a provocative and illuminating study of how the ritual of Common Riding makes a dramatic statement about local strife communal independence and Protestantism in the towns of the Scottish Borders
