Reading the Classics and Paradise Lost William Malin Porter, 1993-01-01 Milton's early commentators Henry Todd Thomas Newton Joseph Addison and others not only knew their classics well they took them seriously as models of literary excellence and repositories of values In the twentieth century however the classics have become mere background As a consequence William M Porter argues not only is the foundational dimension of Milton's poetry now hardly visible even to scholars but the potential of Milton's poetry to revitalize the reading of the classics has been diminished In this insightful study Porter attempts once again to read both the classics and Milton's epic poem sensitively and intelligently He exposes the recklessly speculative and tendentious character of much earlier work on Milton's allusions in which allusions were promiscuously posited and in which Paradise Lost was too often regarded naively as triumphing over the classics Porter demonstrates that Milton's allusions in which allusions to the classics while fewer than has been supposed are rich with wit irony and thought that can be grasped only by a reader with a double perspective

House and Home Thomas Barrie,2017-03-16 House and home are words routinely used to describe where and how one lives This book challenges predominant definitions and argues that domesticity fundamentally satisfies the human need to create and inhabit a defined place in the world Consequently house and home have performed numerous cultural and ontological roles and have been assiduously represented in scripture literature art and philosophy This book presents how the search for home in an unpredictable world led people to create myths about the origins of architecture houses for their gods and house tombs for eternal life Turning to more recent topics it discusses how writers often used simple huts as a means to address the essentials of existence modernist architects envisioned the capacity of house and home to improve society and the suburban house was positioned as a superior setting for culture and family Throughout the book house and home are critically examined to illustrate the perennial role and capacity of architecture to articulate the human condition position it more meaningfully in the world and assist in our collective homecoming Catalog. Supplement - Food and Nutrition Information and Educational Materials Center Food and Nutrition Information and Educational Materials Center (U.S.),1973 Virgil's Homeric Lens Edan Dekel,2012-01-25 Virgil s Homeric Lens reevaluates the traditional view of the Aeneid s relationship to Homer s Iliad and Odyssey Almost since the death of Virgil there has been an assumption that the Aeneid breaks into two discrete halves Virgil s Odyssey and Virgil s Iliad Although modified in various ways over the centuries this neat dichotomy has generally diminished the complexity and resonance of the connection between the two canonical epic poets This work offers an alternate approach in which Virgil uses the transformative power of the Odyssey as a precise filter through which to read the Iliadic experience By examining the ways in which Virgil bases his own epic project on the dynamic interaction between the two Homeric poems themselves Edan Dekel proposes a system in which the Aeneid uses the Odyssey both as a conceptual model for writing an intertextual epic and as a powerful refracting lens for the specific interpretation of the Iliad and its consequences The traditional view of the Homeric poems as static sources for the construction of distinct Odyssean and Iliadic halves of the Aeneid is supplanted by an analysis which emphasizes the active and persistent influence of the Odyssey as a guide to processing the major thematic concerns of the Iliad and exploring the multiple aftermaths of the Trojan war Choreographing Creativity Jennifer Lynne Bird,2009-12-03 Choreographing Creativity Teaching as Artistic and Technical within the Curriculum of Composition views teaching as a combination of artistic and technical elements similar to a figure skating or dance routine Dr Jennifer Bird presents a fictional story founded in factual teaching methods to illustrate this concept The fifteen teachers in Cohort for Change join her on this journey to share snapshots of their classroom experiences and advice for educators who wish to reclaim classroom creativity in the current teach to the test culture of education The American Catalogue ,1905 American national trade bibliography
