Green Manure/Cover Crop Systems of Smallholder Farmers Marjatta Eilittä, Joseph Mureithi, Rolf Derpsch, 2007-05-08 In the 1980s and 1990s green manure cover crop GMCC systems became a popular agricultural technology in research and development efforts for smallholder tropical and subtropical farmers However few syntheses of these experiences have been conducted This volume of case studies contributes to bridging this gap by reviewing field level experiences with these systems Twelve case studies are included Eleven of them describe experiences from Latin America 4 cases Africa 6 cases and Asia 1 case and the twelfth case reports on the development of a GMCC systems database Two concluding chapters Learning from the Case Studies and Future Perspectives build upon the cases The systems described are diverse Some systems have been spontaneously adopted by farmers while others have been introduced to the farmers through diffusion efforts Some of the cases reviewed describe small localized efforts while others report on large scale well known ones such as the combination of GMCCs and conservation tillage in Santa Catarina Brazil the maize Mucuna system in northern Honduras and the improved fallow systems in Eastern Zambia Most experiences include both development and research aspects and to the extent possible the cases integrate these two Discussion of the strengths and shortcomings of the systems and efforts is frank and the goal is to learn from these experiences to benefit future efforts It is expected that both researchers and development practitioners and students of tropical farming systems and soil management will find this volume of case studies useful

Public Sector Leadership Petri Virtanen, Harri Jalonen, Marika Tammeaid, 2022-11-30 Drawing its origins from the Human Relations movement of the early 20th century and from public leadership orientations emphasising human aspects human centred public leadership approaches leadership from a system s perspective It explores societal institutions organisations and phenomena as an emergent system structure that manifests its existence through the multilateral and reciprocal interaction of its parts Systems thinking and the need for systemic change suggest that one can only understand and improve a system by looking at how all the parts interact with each other and how they are integrated

The systemic nature of public leadership refers to dynamic learning mechanisms as they relate to the contents of leadership development tools which are derived mainly from the changing mode of the operating environment from the leaders own experience from their own personalities from a learning by doing approach to leadership development and from the ways in which leaders learn and unlearn This book presents key concepts approaches origins applications and best practices to understand the evolution and nature of human centred approach in public leadership It introduces a new public leadership paradigm that is needed in a complex internationally interconnected social economic cultural and political environment Based on scholarly public leadership research in addition to the authors professional experience as academics managers practitioners and consultants this volume offers guidance for decision makers public business and non governmental sector leaders managers and practitioners about how to create a context and contents for human centred leadership in the age of complex society and turbulent operating environment It will be of value to researchers academics and students in the in the fields of leadership and public management

Shifting Protracted Conflict Systems Through Local Interactions Tamra Pearson d'Estrée, 2023-12-29 This volume explores the evolution of theoretical and practical approaches to intervening in protracted conflicts following the work of Herb Kelman Interactive problem solving as developed by Kelman and others sought to increase understanding about the microprocesses of international relations Kelman early on emphasised the centrality of an interactive approach for constructing new identities new narratives and new ways forward Transforming conflict systems requires strategic attention to the interactions between agents of change that provide stability or induce shift This volume on interactive conflict approaches includes both critical reflections and new ideas from scholar practitioners who have developed revised and expanded these approaches Contributors take up important issues from the shape and likelihood of solutions in intractable conflicts to how individuals can exist in realities with seemingly irresolvable inner and outer conflicts The volume represents the best of current thinking about how the mechanisms theoretical framework and application of interactive problem solving should be moved into the twenty first century context of increasing complexity increasing uncertainty and increasing polarisation This book will be of interest to students of peace studies conflict resolution and international relations

Camarinha-Matos, Hamideh Afsarmanesh, 2013-06-05 Towards Balanced Automation The concept Manufacturing industries worldwide are facing tough challenges as a consequence of the globalization of economy and the openness of the markets Progress of the economic blocks such as the European Union NAFTA and MERCOSUR and the global agreements such as GATT in addition to their obvious economic and social consequences provoke strong paradigm shifts in the way that the manufacturing systems are conceived and operate To increase profitability and reduce the manufacturing costs there is a recent tendency towards establishing partnership links among the involved industries usually between big industries and the networks of components suppliers To benefit from the advances in technology similar agreements are being established between industries and universities and research institutes Such an open tete cooperation network may be identified as an extended enterprise or a virtual enterprise In fact the manufacturing process is no more carried out by a single enterprise rather each enterprise is just a node that adds some value a step in the manufacturing chain to the cooperation network of enterprises The new trends create new scenarios and technological challenges especially to the Small and Medium size Enterprises SMEs that clearly comprise the overwhelming majority of manufacturing enterprises worldwide Under the classical scenarios these SMEs would have had big difficulties to access or benefit from the state of the art technology due to their limited human financial and material resources

Strategic Contracting for Health Systems and Services Eric de Roodenbeke, 2017-07-05 Until the start of the new century efforts to strengthen health systems focused solely on the public sector and health programs overseen by public bodies The private sector was sidelined in certain countries and even banned in others At the same time some private sector stakeholders readily adapted themselves to this special situation so as to avoid becoming part of a structured health system This volume notes profound changes in health care around the world in two areas The stakeholders involved in the health sector are increasing in number and diversifying as a result of the development of the private sector They are also responding to a process of democratization and decentralization These developments have been paralleled by greater functional differentiation Various stakeholders are increasingly specializing in particular areas of the health system service delivery procurement management financing and regulation The interdependence of health stakeholders becomes more evident along with the increased complexity of delivery systems as these respond to changing demand There is a compelling need to forge relationships Such relationships are in fact emerging in developed countries and more recently in developing countries They may be informal but are increasingly organized and structured
