Mirroring People The Science Of Empathy And How We Connect With Others:

Mirroring People Marco Iacoboni, 2015-06-25 What accounts for the remarkable ability to get inside another person's head to know what they're thinking and feeling? Mind reading is the very heart of what it means to be human, creating a bridge between self and others that is fundamental to the development of culture and society. But until recently, scientists didn't understand what in the brain makes it possible. This has all changed in the last decade. Marco Iacoboni, a leading neuroscientist whose work has been covered in The New York Times, The Los Angeles Times, and The Wall Street Journal, explains the groundbreaking research into mirror neurons, the smart cells in our brain that allow us to understand others. From imitation to morality, from learning to addiction, from political affiliations to consumer choices, mirror neurons seem to have properties that are relevant to all these aspects of social cognition. As The New York Times reports, "The discovery is shaking up numerous scientific disciplines, shifting the understanding of culture, empathy, philosophy, language, imitation, autism, and psychotherapy." Mirroring People is the first book for the general reader on this revolutionary new science.

The Science of Evil Simon Baron-Cohen, 2012-09-04 A groundbreaking and challenging examination of the social, cognitive, neurological, and biological roots of psychopathy, cruelty, and evil. Borderline personality disorder, autism, narcissism, psychosis. All of these syndromes have one thing in common: lack of empathy. In some cases, this absence can be dangerous, but in others, it can simply mean a different way of seeing the world. In The Science of Evil, Simon Baron-Cohen, an award-winning British researcher who has investigated psychology and autism for decades, develops a new brain-based theory of human cruelty. A true psychologist, however, he examines social and environmental factors that can erode empathy, including neglect and abuse. Based largely on Baron-Cohen's own research, The Science of Evil will change the way we understand and treat human cruelty.

Educating for Cosmopolitanism: Lessons from Cognitive Science and Literature

M. Bracher, 2013-10-31 Drawing on developments in cognitive science, Bracher formulates pedagogical strategies for teaching literature in ways that develop students' cognitive capabilities for cosmopolitanism, the pursuit of global equality and justice. Several staple classroom texts, such as Things Fall Apart, provide detailed examples for teaching practices. Sociological Reflections on the Neurosciences Martyn Pickersgill, Ira Van Keulen, 2012-07-30 The neurosciences are more than a collection of scientific practices; they offer up various ways of thinking about mind, body, and society. This title casts light on the place, role, and impact of neuroscience. It reflects on the insights the neurosciences have to offer sociology. Making Sense of Emotion Frank John Ninivaggi, 2017-08-31 Children not shown tools to develop emotional intelligence fail emotionally and socially. Basic empathy skills are absent. In adult life, employment and occupational advancement are less likely. Making Sense of Emotion grasps the Yale integrative emotional intelligence ability model. Adding key missing elements, this book unlocks its potential to trigger emotion performance utilization in real life and real time. The epidemic of overusing medications, substance use disorders, addiction, drug overdoses, even global doping in sports, reflects emotional malaise. Emotional illiteracy is one underlying cause and demands innovative emotional intelligence Written by a psychiatrist this volume supplies literacy tools a vivid action language showing how emotions unfold as personal dramas Emotions are our first language the mother tongue infants and children are lived by Emotional awareness is refined emotional intelligence This book clearly defines emotions feelings affects moods and the social emotional competencies needed to understand and build emotional awareness Skills take shape resulting in unfolding self attunement In real time emotional intelligence is effective emotional performance The missing link between the two is the application of emotion regulation in real life knowledge in the head displayed in skilled everyday behavior Innovative ideas in this book explain how to apply this emotional hygiene fitness program to benefit children and adults

Sustainable Happiness Joe Loizzo, 2012-09-10 Today's greatest health challenges the so called diseases of civilization depression trauma obesity cancer are now known in large part to reflect our inability to tame stress reflexes gone wild and to empower instead the peaceful healing and sociable part of our nature that adapts us to civilized life The same can be said of the economic challenges posed by the stress reactive cycles of boom and bust driven by addictive greed and compulsive panic As current research opens up new horizons of stress cessation empathic intelligence peak performance and shared happiness it has also encountered Asian methods of self healing and interdependence more effective and teachable than any known in the West Sustainable Happiness is the first book to make Asia's most rigorous and complete system of contemplative living hidden for centuries in Tibet accessible to help us all on our shared journey towards sustainable well being altruism inspiration and happiness

The Storytelling Animal Jonathan Gottschall, 2020-06-11 Insightful draws from disparate corners of history and science to celebrate our compulsion to storify everything around us The New York Times Book Review Humans live in landscapes of make believe We spin fantasies We devour novels films and plays Even sporting events and criminal trials unfold as narratives Yet the world of story has remained an undiscovered and unmapped country It s easy to say that humans are wired for story but why In this delightful original book Jonathan Gottschall offers the first unified theory of storytelling He argues that stories help us navigate life s complex social problems just as flight simulators prepare pilots for difficult situations Storytelling has evolved like other behaviors to ensure our survival Drawing on the latest research in neuroscience psychology and evolutionary biology Gottschall tells us what it means to be a storytelling animal Did you know that the more absorbed you are in a story the more it changes your behavior That all children act out the same kinds of stories whether they grow up in a slum or a suburb That people who read more fiction are more empathetic Of course our story instinct has a darker side It makes us vulnerable to conspiracy theories advertisements and narratives about ourselves that are more truthy than true National myths can also be terribly dangerous Hitler s ambitions were partly fueled by a story But as Gottschall shows stories can also powerfully change the world for the better We know we are master shapers of story The Storytelling Animal finally reveals how stories shape us Lively San Francisco Chronicle Absorbing Minneapolis Star Tribune One of my favorite evolutionary psych writers always insightful and witty Steven Pinker Categorical versus Dimensional Models of Affect Peter Zachar,Ralph D. Ellis,2012-06-27 One of the most important theoretical and empirical issues in the scholarly study of emotion is whether there is a correct list of basic types of affect or whether all affective states are better modeled as a combination of locations on shared underlying dimensions Many thinkers have written on this topic yet the views of two scientists in particular are dominant The first is Jaak Panksepp the father of Affective Neuroscience Panksepp conceptualizes affect as a set of distinct categories The leading proponent of the dimensional approach in scientific psychology is James Russell According to Russell all affect can be decomposed into two underlying dimensions pleasure versus displeasure and low arousal versus high arousal In this volume Panksepp and Russell each articulate their positions on eleven fundamental questions about the nature of affect followed by a discussion of these target papers by noted emotion theorists and researchers Russell and Panksepp respond both to each other and to the commentators The discussion leads to some stark contrasts with formidable arguments on both sides and some interesting convergences between the two streams of work

The Heart of WATSU@ Ingrid Keating,Harold Dull,2023-04-21 The first practitioner guide to clinical applications of WATSU this book combines research therapeutic assessments and practice models to show how to integrate a range of techniques for working with clients with PTSD chronic pain and neuromuscular disorders Kinesthetic Spectatorship in the Theatre Stanton B. Garner, Jr.,2018-09-21 This book is about the centrality of movement movement perception and kinesthetic experience to theatrical spectatorship Drawing upon phenomenological accounts of movement experience and the insights of cognitive science neuroscience acting theory dance theory philosophy of mind and linguistics it considers how we inhabit the movements of others and how these movements inhabit us Individual chapters explore the dynamics of movement and animation action and intentionality kinesthetic resonance or mirroring language speech and empathy In one of its most important contributions to the study of theatre performance and spectatorship this book foregrounds otherness divergence and disability in its account of movement perception The discussions of this and other issues are accompanied by detailed analysis of theatre puppetry and dance performances Brain and the Gaze Jan Lauwereyns,2012-09-07 A radically integrative account of visual perception grounded in neuroscience but drawing on insights from philosophy and psychology How do we gain access to things as they are Although we routinely take our self made pictures to be veridical representations of reality in actuality we choose albeit unwittingly or construct what we see By movements of the eyes the direction of our gaze we create meaning In Brain and the Gaze Jan Lauwereyns offers a novel reformulation of perception and its neural underpinnings focusing on the active nature of perception In his investigation of active perception and its brain mechanisms Lauwereyns offers the gaze as the principal paradigm for perception In a radically integrative account grounded in neuroscience but drawing on insights from philosophy and psychology he discusses the dynamic and constrained nature of perception the complex information processing at the level of the retina the active nature of vision the intensive nature of representations the gaze of others as visual stimulus and the intentionality of vision and consciousness An engaging point of entry to the cognitive neuroscience of perception written for neuroscientists but illuminated by insights from thinkers ranging from William James to Slavoj i ek Brain and the Gaze will give new impetus to research and theory in the field

Methodologies for the Rhetoric of Health & Medicine Lisa Meloncon,J. Blake Scott,2017-07-06 Methodologies for the Rhetoric of Health Medicine charts new methodological territories for rhetorical studies and the emerging field of the rhetoric of health and medicine It advances the larger goal of differentiating the rhetoric of health and medicine as a distinct but pragmatically diverse area of study The Language of Transition in Leadership Jakob van Wielink,Riet

Fiddelaers-Jaspers,Leo Wilhelm,2023-08-24 In this book the authors utilise their decades of experience in leadership and coaching for change to help leaders develop the necessary skills to lead people and organisations in transition Combining a scientific and practice based approach they show readers how to develop and maintain their own impactful leadership style while creating psychological safety in their teams Leadership that achieves sustainable results comes from connecting past present and future Describing leadership as a journey the book invites the reader to discover their calling and realise the importance of examining the roots of their leadership before thinking about its destination It gives leaders access to a new dimension of unprecedented growth and demonstrates the ways these lessons and skills can transform change into lasting transitions Accessible and written in a lively style The Language of Transition in Leadership is an important book for leaders and executives It will also be of interest to coaches organisational advisors management consultants students of leadership and those transitioning into the workforce Integrating the New Science of Love and a Spirituality of Peace Christian E. Early,Annmarie L. Early,2013-11-01 In Integrating the New Science of Love and a Spirituality of Peace the contributors explore the intersection between the science of attachment theory and the vision of Anabaptism What emerges is a deeper

Wittgenstein on Other Minds Constantine Sandis, 2025-03-11 The book brings together Constantine Sandis's essays on Wittgenstein's approach to understanding others Sandis sketches a picture of how his anti-scepticism with regard to the philosophical problem of other minds is not only compatible with but also supported by his scepticism concerning the real-life difficulty of understanding others and being understood by them While each individual essay focuses on particular issues in Wittgenstein including philosophical anthropology interpersonal psychology and animal concepts they collectively paint a picture of what he takes the real problem of other minds to be how to overcome it and the limitations of our understanding Sandis not only offers a fresh exegesis of Wittgenstein's public and private writings on these matters but proceeds to show the relevance of Wittgenstein beyond the academy Embodied Cognition and Cinema Peter Kravanja, 2015-07-31

The impact of the embodied cognition thesis on the scientific study of film The embodied cognition thesis claims that cognitive functions cannot be understood without making reference to the interactions between the brain the body and the environment The meaning of abstract concepts is grounded in concrete experiences This book is the first edited volume to explore the impact of the embodied cognition thesis on the scientific study of film A team of scholars analyse the main aspects of film narrative style music sound time the viewer emotion perception ethics the frame etc from an embodied perspective By combining insights from various disciplines such as cognitive film theory conceptual metaphor theory and cognitive neuroscience they show how the process of meaning making in film is embodied and how empathy and embodied simulation play a role in understanding the way in which the viewer interacts with the film Foreword by Mark Johnson Knight Professor of Liberal Arts and Sciences Department of Philosophy University of Oregon Contributors Warren Buckland Oxford Brookes University Juan Chattah University of Miami Maarten Coenraets University of Antwerp Adriano D Aloia Universit Cattolica del Sacro Cuore Milan Michele Guerra University of Parma Mikl's Kiss University of Groningen Peter Kravanja KU
