Reflections Frances Wright,2013-03-15 Rearview Mirror Reflections depicts the family biographical reflections of one who was born and reared in the Deep South during the late 1940s This narrative presents a collection of illuminating short stories and incidents that reveals the delightful difficult and sometimes complicated experiences of my childhood These informative reflected stories events people and places were collected as the remembrance of them flowed from my richly endowed memories However the presentation of them will not always be arranged in the order in which these experiences occurred Life has a way of beckoning at us from our past Reflections of it show up as bright as the noonday sun alluding to the fact that it has in some way shaped our present day Experiences and lessons learned stare toward us with clear perceptions of those former days The joys and the sorrows of our family still stand out as markers of progressiveness and accomplishments Nowhere has it been known of as having a childhood such as ours As I was growing up I did not have anything to compare my life with So I simply accepted things as they were Nevertheless my growing up years holds many fond memories that I would not have traded for anything else Therefore many of my reflections may seem somewhat amusing and maybe incredible to believe by some or even a bit absurd Nevertheless they all identify my youth as I reflect upon my childhood It is my hope that you will enjoy reading my family biographical reflections as well as I did in sharing them with you

Mirages Alex Saliba,2004 The new concept of preemptive wars has generated much debate and controversy on each side of the divide What impact could it have in aggravating world instability Is it acceptable Is it even moral or legal Many reports and statements are presented and discussed as to why the war on Iraq was launched the occupation of that country and the quagmire of post war in Iraq that we hear about almost daily America's good will amongst our friends has been squandered and its foreign policy according to many outsiders has been uneven and capricious Thus in recent debates it has been suggested by some that this indeed has caused civil unrest in many parts of the world and may have actually increased terrorism Many knowledgeable persons have argued that trumpeting democracy at the point of a gun through violence has not worked well in the past and the US is doing more of the same This is tragic We have not learned much from the lessons of history some of the social experiences are presented both for the developed nations and those less fortunate the overall economy education health care poverty and discrimination pollution injustices and civil rights the enormous expenditures on the military and on weapons of destruction the precarious state of democracy etc as well as proposals to strengthen the UN The sources for these collected data include politicians newscasters writers guest speakers lecturers and other personalities in newspapers magazines on television and on the Internet The search continues for that elusive peace in our world today and especially in the Middle East The role of America in the general scheme of things needs to be better defined as many
