Recruitment and Retention in the Armed Forces Great Britain: National Audit Office, 2006-11-03 This two volume NAO report examines the recruitment and retention of armed forces personnel As of July 2006 the trained strength of the armed forces stood at around 180 690 with an estimated shortfall of 5 170 against the Departments requirement Overall the armed forces are not in manning balance with the figures masking a wider shortage of trained personnel within a range of specific trade groups across all three services All three services expect to be within manning balance by April 2008 though historically the services have consistently run below the full manning requirement The NAO has identified 88 operational pinch point trades where there is insufficient trained strength to perform operational tasks The report sets out a number of conclusions and recommendations including that the Department should review overall manning requirements within individual operational pinch points and also develop guidelines on the expected levels of voluntary outflow for individual operational pinch points regular surveys of personnel should be carried out focusing on factors that reduce retention the Department should also assess the impact of the work life balance and the extent to which breaches of individual harmony may be understated further the Department should look to investigate measures to provide greater stability and certainty of work patterns for personnel between operational deployments also that a cost effective analysis should be conducted on the payment of financial retention incentives and the impact on decisions to continue serving in the armed forces the Department should also review the scope of schemes which provide opportunities to offer competitive salaries and consider the recruitment to a wider range of trades than is currently the practice the Department should also develop a clear order of priority for the wide range of long term projects it has planned and commit to firm timescales and funding programmes for the most important A companion volume HC 1633 II session 2005 06 ISBN 0102943575 is available separately which contains case studies and detailed survey results NATO and the Russian War in Ukraine Janne Haaland Matlary, Rob Johnson, 2024-03-21 For three decades after the Cold War NATO member states no longer faced a major threat and focussed on out of area operations They took the opportunity to reduce defence spending and foster their own national defence industries interoperability was limited to air and maritime missions on a small scale The 2014 Russian annexation of Crimea and war by proxy in eastern Donbass was a wake up call while China s creeping seizure and fortification of islands in the South China Sea as well as its relentless acquisition of Western technologies similarly alerted the Western leadership to a less benign strategic environment But the real shift occurred in 2022 China and Russia not only announced their unlimited friendship but made clear their intention to reduce American hegemony by breaking up the NATO alliance and its Pacific equivalents This volume is the first account of the challenges and solutions for so called strategic integration in this coercive global situation The contributors show thematically and through selected national case studies how strategic integration and interoperability are conceived debated problematised and resolved The chapters are written with specific reference to the illegal Russian invasion of Ukraine which has galvanised a new era of integration and alliance cooperation within NATO

Trust and Confidence in Government and Public Services Sue Llewellyn, Stephen Brookes, Ann Mahon, 2013-10-28

Trust and confidence are topical issues. Pundits claim that citizens trust governments and public services increasingly less, identifying a powerful new erosion of confidence that in the US goes back at least to Watergate in the 1970s. Recently media exposure in the UK about MP expenses has been extensive and a court case ruled in favor of publishing expense claims and against exempting MPs from the scrutiny which all citizens are subject to under freedom of information. As a result, revelations about everything from property speculation to bespoke duck pond houses have fueled public outcry and survey evidence shows that citizens increasingly distrust the government with public resources. This book gathers together arguments and evidence to answer questions such as: What is trust? Can trust be boosted through regulation? What role does leadership play in rebuilding trust? How does trust and confidence affect public services? The chapters in this collection explore these questions across several countries and different sectors of public service provision: health, education, social services, the police, and the third sector. The contributions offer empirical evidence about how the issues of trust and confidence differ across countries and sectors and develop ideas about how trust and confidence in government and public services may adjust in the information age.

Varying Dimensions of India's National Security Anshuman

Behera, Sitakanta Mishra, 2022-02-14 This book engages a comprehensive approach to understand both traditional and non-traditional security issues in addressing dimensions of India's national security. The issues highlighted in the book through fourteen distinct yet inter-related chapters offer insightful reading to India's national security. This edited book explores the criticalities of various security issues in India: internal and external, and digs deep into the government responses to each of these issues. Stepping away from merely focusing on the state-centric understanding of national security, this book also includes human security perspectives. In this process, this book also offers a set of policy recommendations which could be used for effectively dealing with the national security challenges. The themes covered in this edited book range from offering a conceptual framework of national security to issues such as energy security, maritime security, nuclear security, internal security, neighborhood policy, dumping, terrorism, economic security, cyber security, role of media, defense, preparedness, and use of GIS in security domain. This book highlights some of the important security issues around the larger perspective of India's national security. This book will be highly useful for the students and scholars of security and strategic studies and international relations and also to the policymakers in the region.

Building Defence Capacity in Europe The

International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS), 2025-02-12 European states have embarked on the long road to rebuilding their defence capabilities. After decades of underinvestment in the armed forces and the defence industrial base, the challenges are significant. However, since Russia's full-scale invasion of Ukraine in February 2022, NATO countries have committed to ambitious readiness and war-fighting plans. Against this background, this IISS Strategic Dossier evaluates key areas for building defence capabilities in Europe including recent developments in the transatlantic defence ecosystem defence spending defence industrial production capacity building more resilient forces and improving supply chain security Europe's ability to meet its NATO commitments will depend on the degree to which it manages to address these important issues The analysis covers the trend of increased defence spending by most European NATO members and the growth in defence production capacity in important capability areas It also provides insights into the ways in which various European countries have sought to address their recruitment and retention challenges The volume discusses other ongoing challenges including uncertainty over the long term affordability sustainability and effectiveness of increased defence spending in Europe In addition the dossier highlights the requirement for long term government investment as well as firm demand signals in order to sustain increased defence production This IISS Strategic Dossier was produced in the context of the IISS Prague Defence Summit PDS 2024 which has been supported by the government of the Czech Republic

Public Technology Procurement and Innovation Charles Edquist,Leif Hommen,Lena Tsipouri,2012-12-06 Public Technology Procurement and Innovation studies public technology procurement as an instrument of innovation policy In the past few years public technology procurement has been a relatively neglected topic in the theoretical and research literature on the economics of innovation Similarly preoccupation with supply side measures has led policy makers to avoid making very extensive use of this important demand side instrument These trends have been especially pronounced in the European Union There as this book will argue existing legislation governing public procurement presents obstacles to the use of public technology procurement as a means of stimulating and supporting technological innovation Recently however there has been a gradual re awakening of practical interest in such measures among policy makers in the EU and elsewhere For these and other related measures this volume aims to contribute to a serious reconsideration of public technology procurement from the complementary standpoints of innovation theory and innovation policy The Parliamentary Debates (official Report). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1917 Contains the 4th session of the 28th Parliament through the 1st session of the 48th Parliament Finland ,1927 The Nations of NATO Thierry Tardy,2022-10-20 War has returned to Europe and NATO stands at the forefront of the response to Russia s aggression in Ukraine But how does NATO function How do NATO member states perceive and act through the Atlantic Alliance And ultimately how do states shape NATO s cohesion and relevance in the face of threats The Nations of NATO explores national policies within the Atlantic Alliance It examines the foreign policies of 16 allies focusing on issues such as their strategic cultures relationship with the United States contributions to NATO operations levels of defence spending domestic challenges and decision making processes The recent crisis in Ukraine has without doubt reinvigorated NATO as a military alliance but over the last decade it has also been affected by a number of challenges both endogenous and exogenous Whether the Alliance is threatened from the outside Russia terrorism China or is being undermined from within intra Alliance politics diverging threat perceptions has become an increasingly debated issue The degree to which the Alliance can adapt to evolving threats has also been at stake At the heart of these debates are NATO allies policies preferences threat perceptions and level of commitment to the shared enterprise By analysing the drivers constraints and specificities of relevant national policies the volume offers an overview of NATO s contemporary functions and challenges and constitutes an important source of data for future research and comparative analysis
