

⚠ DANGER: There is a hot water SCALD potential if the thermostat is set too high. Households with small children, disabled, or elderly persons may require a 49°C (120°F) or lower thermostat setting to prevent contact with HOT water.

Water Temperature Setting

The EU Drinking Water Directive (98/83/EG) and IEC62395-2:2013 require that a water heater provide the means to inhibit growth of Legionella bacteria in potable water. This water heater can satisfy these requirements provided it is operating and the thermostat is set between 50 and 60°C, or higher, including when it is used as an in series booster water heater for a solar water heater.

With this in mind, please review the information below regarding hazards associated with exposure scalding from hot water. Always test the water and mix with cold to ensure the water is at a safe temperature for use.

The temperature of the water in the water heater can be regulated by setting the temperature dial of the adjustable surface mounted thermostat(s) located behind the jacket access panel(s).

Safety and energy conservation are factors to be considered when selecting the water temperature setting of the water heater's thermostat(s). The lower the temperature setting, the greater the savings in energy and operating costs.

Water temperatures above 52°C (125°F) can cause severe burns or death from scalding. Be sure to read and follow the warnings outlined in this manual and on the label on the water heater. This label is located on the water heater near the thermostat access panel.

Mixing valves for reducing point of use water temperature by mixing hot and cold water in branch water lines are available. Contact a licensed plumber or the local plumbing authority for further information.

The chart below may be used as a guide in determining the proper water temperature for your home.

Time/Temperature Relationship in Scalds

Temperature	Time To Produce a Serious Burn
49°C (120°F)	More than 5 minutes
52°C (125°F)	1½ to 2 minutes
54°C (130°F)	About 30 seconds
57°C (135°F)	About 10 seconds
60°C (140°F)	Less than 5 seconds
63°C (145°F)	Less than 3 seconds
66°C (150°F)	About 1½ seconds
68°C (155°F)	About 1 second

- 2 Remove the jacket access panel(s) and insulation exposing the thermostat(s).
