On The Cultures Of Exile Translation And Writing Comparative Cultural Studies:

On the Cultures of Exile, Translation, and Writing Paolo Bartoloni, 2008 The hypothesis of Paolo Bartoloni's book is based on the belief that a substantial and innovative discussion of the philosophical notions of immanence and potentiality is not only overdue but also necessary to address the social political cultural and ethical aporia confronting us today The phenomenon of globalization with its countless sub narratives such as mobility migration security authenticity and inauthenticity can be thought and contextualized through a close reading and articulation of immanence and potentiality The author provides a tangible and workable philosophical and cultural discourse within which to present an alternative understanding of subjectivity by engaging in a theoretical discussion with the philosophical discourse on potentiality and immanence of which the writings of Gilles Deleuze and Giorgio Agamben are among the most advanced and innovative examples to date Secondly Bartoloni presents a virtual insight into the potential immanent subject and community through exploring a radically new interpretation of exile translation and temporality Finally the author shows how the experience of potentiality and immanence and their ontological statuses have been explored and realized in literature through a close reading and articulation of a series of selected texts especially works by Giorgio Caproni and Maurice Blanchot The methodology of the study is interdisciplinary ranging across literary theory postmodern cultural analysis hermeneutics and comparative culture analysis

Cultural Studies and the New Weltliteratur Elke Sturm-Trigonakis, 2013-11-15 In this English translation and revision of her acclaimed German language book Elke Sturm Trigonakis expands on Goethe's notion of Weltliteratur 1827 to propose that owing to globalization literature is undergoing a profound change in process content and linguistic practice Rather than producing texts for a primarily national readership modern writers can collate diverse cultural literary and linguistic traditions to create new modes of expression that she designates as hybrid texts The author introduces an innovative framework to analyse these new forms of expression that is based on comparative cultural studies and its methodology of contextual systemic and empirical approaches to the study of literature and culture including the concepts of the macro and micro systems of culture and literature To illustrate her proposition Sturm Trigonakis discusses selected literary texts that exhibit characteristics of linguistic and cultural hybridity the concept of in between and transculturality and thus are located in a space of a new world literature Examples include Gastarbeiterliteratur migrant literature by authors such as Chiellino Shami and Atabay The book is important reading for philologists linguists sociologists and other scholars interested in the cultural and linguistic impact of globalization on literature and culture The German edition of this volume was originally published as Global playing in der Literatur Ein Versuch ber die Neue Weltliteratur 2007 and it has been translated in collaboration with the author by Athanasia Margoni and Maria Kaiser Transcultural Writers and Novels in the Age of Global Mobility Arianna Dagnino, 2015-06-30 In Transcultural Writers and Novels in the Age of Global Mobility Arianna Dagnino analyzes a new type of literature emerging from artists increased movement and cultural flows spawned by globalization This transcultural literature is produced by authors who write across cultural and national boundaries and who transcend in their lives and creative production the borders of a single culture Dagnino's book contains a creative rendition of interviews conducted with five internationally renowned writers Inez Baranay Brian Castro Alberto Manguel Tim Parks and Ilija Trojanow and a critical exegesis reflecting on thematical critical and stylistical aspects By studying the selected authors corpus of work life experiences and cultural orientations Dagnino explores the implicit often subconscious process of cultural and imaginative metamorphosis that leads transcultural writers and their fictionalized characters beyond ethnic national racial or religious loci of identity and identity formation Drawing on the theoretical framework of comparative cultural studies she offers insight into transcultural writing related to belonging hybridity cultural errancy the Other worldviews translingualism deterritorialization neomadism as well as genre thematic patterns and narrative techniques Dagnino also outlines the implications of transcultural writing within the wider context of world literature's and identifies some of the main traits that characterize transcultural novels Gustav Shpet's Contribution to Philosophy and Cultural Theory Galin Tihanov, 2009 This book offers original research by leading scholars from the United States United Kingdom Germany France and Russia which covers the central areas of Shpet's work on phenomenology philosophy of language cultural theory and aesthetics and takes forward the current state of knowledge and debates on his contribution to these fields of enquiry

The book also contains for the first time in English translation the most seminal portions of Shpet's book length study of hermeneutics which is his most significant work for contemporary students of cultural theory. The first part of the book maps out Shpet's legacy in the main areas of his multi-faceted work; the second part examines in closer detail particular aspects of Shpet's philosophical affiliations and contributions in the framework of cultural theory, phenomenology, hermeneutics, and in the field of Russian intellectual history; the final part features the publication of extracts from Shpet's 1918 book on hermeneutics.

Urban Cultures in (post)colonial Central Europe Agata Anna Lisiak, 2010. Agata Anna Lisiak shows in her book Urban Cultures in Post-colonial Central Europe how the postcolonial idea developed recently to study Central and East European culture can help us see the transformations of cities in the region. Transnational Discourses on Class, Gender, and Cultural Identity Irene Marques, 2012-01-16. This exploration of class feminism and cultural identity, including issues of race, nation, colonialism, and economic imperialism, focuses on the work of four writers: the Mozambican Mia Couto, the Portuguese Jos Saramago, the Brazilian Clarice Lispector, and the South African J. M. Coetzee. In the first section, the author discusses the political aspects of Couto's collection of short stories Contos do nascer da terra (Stories of the Birth of the Land) and Saramago's novel O ano da morte de Ricardo Reis (The Year of the Death of Ricardo Reis). The second section explores similar themes in Coetzee's Life and Times of Michael K and Lispector's A hora da estrela (The Hour of the Star). Marques argues that these four writers are political in the sense that they bring to the forefront issues pertaining to the power of literature to represent, misrepresent, and debate matters related to different subaltern subjects: the postcolonial subject, the poor subject, the poor other, and the female subject. She also discusses the ahuman other in the context of the subjectivity of the natural world, the dead, and the unborn, and shows how these aspects are present in all the different societies addressed and point to the mystical dimension that permeates most societies. With regard to Couto's work, this ahuman other is approached mostly through a discussion of the holistic animist values and epistemologies that inform and guide Mozambican traditional societies, while in further analyses, the notion is approached via discussions on phenomenology, elementality, and divinity following the philosophies of Levinas and Irigaray and mystical consciousness in Zen Buddhism and the psychology of Jung.

Asian Diaspora and East-West Modernity Sheng-mei

Ma, 2012 In this book Asian Diaspora and East West Modernity Sheng mei Ma analyzes Asian diaspora and Orientalist discourse and probes into the conjoinedness of West and East and modernity's illusions Drawing from Anglo American Asian American and Asian literature as well as J horror and manga Chinese cinema the internet and the Korean Wave Ma's analyses render fluid the two hemispheres of the globe the twin states of being and nonbeing and things of value and nonentity Suspended on the stylistic tightrope between research and poetry critical analysis and intuition Asian Diaspora restores affect and heart to diaspora in between East and West at homeness and exilic attrition Diaspora by definition stems as much from socioeconomic and collective displacement as it points to emotional reaction This book thus challenges the fossilized conceptualizations in area studies ontology and modernism

Gombrowicz, Polish Modernism, and the Subversion of Form Michael Goddard, 2010 Gombrowicz Polish Modernism and the Subversion of Form provides a new and comprehensive account of the writing and thought of the Polish writer Witold Gombrowicz While Gombrowicz is probably the key Polish modernist writer with a stature in his native Poland equivalent to that of Joyce or Beckett in the English language he remains little known in English As well as providing a commentary on his novels plays and short stories this book sets Gombrowicz's writing in the context of contemporary cultural theory The author performs a detailed examination of Gombrowicz's major literary and theatrical work showing how his conception of form is highly resonant with contemporary postmodern theories of identity This book is the essential companion to one of Eastern Europe's most important literary figures whose work banned by the Nazis and suppressed by Poland's Communist government has only recently become well known in the West

up the former and the latter as distinct but historically analogous moments and argues that both the European Romantic reinvention of the sublime and its later Chinese transformation represent cultural movements built on the excessive and capacious nature of the sublime to counter their shared sense of historical crisis The author further postulates through a critical analysis of Edmund Burke's Inquiry into the Origins of Our Ideas of the Sublime and Beautiful William Wordsworth's Prelude and Guo Moruo's experimental poem Fenghuang Niepan Nirvana of the Phoenix and verse drama Qu Yuan that these aesthetic practices of modernity suggest a deliberate historical hyperbolization of literary agency Such an agency is in turn constructed imaginatively and affectively as a means to redress different cultures' traumatic encounter with modernity The volume will be of interest to scholars including graduate students of Romanticism philosophy history English literature Chinese literature comparative literature and comparative cultural studies

Reconsidering the Emergence of the Gay Novel in English and German James P. Wilper, 2016-02-15 In Reconsidering the Emergence of the Gay Novel in English and German James P. Wilper examines a key moment in the development of the modern gay novel by analyzing four novels by German British and American writers Wilper studies how the texts are influenced by and respond and react to four schools of thought regarding male homosexuality in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The first is legal codes criminalizing sex acts between men and the religious doctrine that informs them The second is the ancient Greek erotic philosophy in which a revival of interest took place in the late nineteenth century The third is sexual science or sexology which offered various medical and psychological explanations for same sex desire and was employed variously to defend as well as to attempt to cure this perversion And fourth in the wake of the scandal caused by his trials and conviction for gross indecency Oscar Wilde became associated with a homosexual stereotype based on unmanly behavior Wilper analyzes the four novels Thomas Mann's Death in Venice E. M. Forster's Maurice Edward Prime Stevenson's Imre A Memorandum and John Henry Mackay's The Hustler in relation to these schools of thought and focuses on the exchange and cross cultural influence between linguistic and cultural contexts on the subject of love and desire between men

Romantic Revisions in Novels from the Americas Lauren Rule Maxwell, 2013 Returning to British Romantic poetry allows the novels to extend the Romantic poetics of landscape that traditionally considered the British subject's relation to place By recasting Romantic poetics in the Americas these novels show how negotiations of identity and power are defined by the legacies of British imperialism illustrating that these nations their peoples and their works of art are truly postcolonial While many postcolonial scholars and critics have dismissed the idea that Romantic poetry can be used to critique colonialism Maxwell suggests that on the contrary it has provided contemporary writers across the Americas with a means of charting the literary and cultural legacies of British imperialism in the New World The poems of the British Romantics offer postcolonial writers particularly rich material Maxwell argues because they characterize British influence at the height of the British empire

Nation and Region in Modern American and European Fiction Thomas O. Beebe, 2008 In his book Nation and Region in Modern
