

A Treatise on the Gift of Perseverance

St. Augustine

On The Gift Of Perseverance

Edward Harold Browne

On The Gift Of Perseverance:

A Treatise on the Gift of Perseverance Saint Augustine of Hippo, Aeterna Press, In the first part of the book he proves that the perseverance by which a man perseveres in Christ to the end is God's gift for that it is a mockery to ask of God that which is not believed to be given by God. Moreover that in the Lord's prayer scarcely anything is asked for but perseverance according to the exposition of the martyr Cyprian by which exposition the enemies to this grace were convicted before they were born. He teaches that the grace of perseverance is not given according to the merits of the receivers but to some it is given by God's mercy to others it is not given by His righteous judgment. Aeterna Press A Treatise on the Gift of Perseverance St. Augustine, 2018-08-06 In the first part of the book he proves that the perseverance by which a man perseveres in Christ to the end is God's gift for that it is a mockery to ask of God that which is not believed to be given by God. Moreover that in the Lord's prayer scarcely anything is asked for but perseverance according to the exposition of the martyr Cyprian by which exposition the enemies to this grace were convicted before they were born On the Gift of Perseverance Saint Augustine, Saint Augustine of Hippo, 2015-06-08 Augustine the man with upturned eye with pen in the left hand and a burning heart in the right as he is usually represented is a philosophical and theological genius of the first order towering like a pyramid above his age and looking down commandingly upon succeeding centuries. He had a mind uncommonly fertile and deep bold and soaring and with it what is better a heart full of Christian love and humility. He stands of right by the side of the greatest philosophers of antiquity and of modern times. We meet him alike on the broad highways and the narrow footpaths on the giddy Alpine heights and in the awful depths of speculation wherever philosophical thinkers before him or after him have trod. As a theologian he is facile princeps at least surpassed by no church father schoolman or reformer. With royal munificence he scattered ideas in passing which have set in mighty motion other lands and later times. He combined the creative power of Tertullian with the churchly spirit of Cyprian the speculative intellect of the Greek church with the practical tact of the Latin. He was a Christian philosopher and a philosophical theologian to the full Answer to the Pelagians Saint Augustine, Roland J. Teske, 1999 The four works printed in this volume reply to a series of problems which various Catholic monks of Africa and Gaul found with Augustine's doctrine of grace and predestination. They do not deal directly with Pelagianism but are clearly related to the anti Pelagian works of Augustine in their discussions of the doctrines on grace and predestination. The monks who raised these questions however posed them as difficulties they faced in accepting these doctrines not as an overt desire to contradict Augustine and the Church as the heretics did. The first two works Grace and Free Choice and Rebuke and Grace respond to problems at Hadrumetum where a group of monks thought that Augustine's teaching on grace destroyed free choice and human merits and eliminated the possibility of anyone giving rebukes and exhortations. The second two works The Predestination of the Saints and The Gift of Perseverance reply to the letters of Prosper of Aquitaine and Hilary. They reported to Augustine the objections of various persons in monastic groups in

Gaul who held that the beginning of faith and the initiative for salvation came from the human will not from God These monks also rejected Augustine's doctrine that divine predestination and the grace of final perseverance are utterly gratuitous gifts of God In his responses to the monks concerns Augustine depends on Scripture to prove his points He encourages his questioners to pray for understanding and to thank God for the understanding they have so far which is surely a free gift of God as he emphasizes grace and eternal life

Original Sin and Time Andre Barbera, 2024-12-12 The Christian doctrine of original sin properly understood uniquely expresses the human condition People lament their sins and mistakes although they assume guilt only for the former Are they also responsible for their mistakes perhaps even for all that they deem unpleasant or catastrophic in the world earthquakes hurricanes volcanic eruptions and the cruelty of others Andr Barbera explores the latter possibility arguing that a proper understanding of original sin renders each and every person guilty for all misery and woe Two entirely common experiences provide clues for the argument that original sin and time are the same thing The first is waiting pure and simple Everyone waits every day The second experience is people's vain attempt to hold together one another in thought word and image This practice is especially conscious when the person whom someone attempts to hold together has died Time heals all is a euphemism for Sin kills love The argument regarding original sin and time pertains directly to the questions of predestination individual freedom divine foreknowledge and universal salvation By extension it could be applied to the discussion regarding pronouns and gender identification and to the rhetoric surrounding abortion

After Merit Charles Raith II, 2016-07-11 In this study Charles Raith II fills a gap in Reformation era scholarship by analyzing Calvin's teaching on works and reward in light of medieval theological developments surrounding the doctrine of merit While significant analysis has been given to Calvin's doctrine of justification its relation to sanctification the notion of union with Christ and the role of participation there is as yet no sustained analysis of how these teachings are shaped by the most hostile and pervasive of his polemics namely his confrontation with a merit based framework for understanding Christian salvation This volume however interprets Calvin s own theological constructions as contextually determined by the reigning polemics of his day In addition previous scholarship on these topics has largely failed to properly contextualize Calvin s own thought against the background of scholastic theological developments developments that Calvin both accepts and rejects in the formulation of his own theology After Merit addresses these gaps by 1 analyzing Calvin s tracts scriptural commentaries and Institutes to demonstrate Calvin s unique distain for the doctrine of merit among the early Reformers and the pervasiveness of this polemic within his theological program 2 reviewing the scholastic developments surrounding the doctrine of merit from the High to Late Middle Ages as background to Calvin s thought 3 highlighting Calvin s principle problems with the doctrine of merit the competitive causal schema between divine and human causality merit as a basis for justification and good works as deserving of reward and 4 unpacking Calvin s theology of justification sanctification the worth of works and the role of works in salvation as an alternative to the opponents doctrine of merit The volume concludes by reflecting on the reception of Calvin s theology of works and reward in later Reformed thought

Augustine of Hippo, Both by nature and by grace Augustin was formed to be the champion of truth in this controversy Of a naturally philosophical temperament he saw into the springs of life with a vividness of mental perception to which most men are strangers and his own experiences in his long life of resistance to and then of yielding to the drawings of God s grace gave him a clear apprehension of the great evangelic principle that God seeks men not men God such as no sophistry could cloud However much his philosophy or theology might undergo change in other particulars there was one conviction too deeply imprinted upon his heart ever to fade or alter the conviction of the ineffableness of God s grace This book comprises St Augustine s writings and thoughts regarding the Anti Pelagian dispute
