Becoming an Existential-Humanistic Therapist Julia Falk, Louis Hoffman, 2021-12-02 Existential humanistic psychology recognizes that an essential part of becoming a good therapist is developing a way of being that is healing. This makes the journey to becoming an existential humanistic therapist a personal and transforming journey. In Becoming an Existential Humanistic Therapist, editors Julia Falk and Louis Hoffman have collected the stories of 11 influential existential humanistic therapists including Kirk Schneider, Lisa Xochitl Vallejos, Ed Mendelowitz, Katerina Zymnis, Mark Yang, Myrtle Heery, Nathaniel Granger, Orah Krug, Xuefu Wang, Kathleen Galvin, and Shawn Rubin. As these prominent leaders share their stories of becoming, they also consider what it means to be an existential humanistic therapist and their vision for the future of this school of psychotherapy. Alongside these stories, HeeSun Park reviews two important research studies on becoming an existential humanistic therapist, while Falk and Hoffman highlight the central themes emerging from the narratives. Park, Falk, and Hoffman also share their own stories of becoming. The book concludes with reflective exercises for individuals considering pursuing a career as an existential humanistic counselor or therapist, as well as exercises for current therapists to reflect upon their own journey. Whether already an existential humanistic therapist wanting to reflect upon your journey or a student considering pursuing becoming an existential humanistic therapist, this volume is essential reading to clarify and deepen one's journey.

Psychotherapy and Personal Change Ahron Friedberg,Sandra Sherman,2020-12-23 Psychotherapy and Personal Change Two Minds in a Mirror offers unique day to day accounts of patients undergoing psychotherapy and what happens during talk therapy to startle the complacent conscious mind and expose the unconscious It is a candid moment by moment revelation of how the therapist s own memories feelings and doubts are often as much a factor in the process as those of the patient In the process of healing both the therapist and the patient reflect on each other and on themselves As the therapist develops empathy for the patient and the patient develops trust in the therapist their shared memories feelings and associations interact and entwine almost kaleidoscopically causing each to ask questions of the other and themselves In this book Dr Friedberg reveals personal insights that arose as he recalled memories to share with patients These insights might not have arisen but for the therapy which operates in multiple directions as patient and therapist explore the present the past and the unknown Readers will see the therapist like the patient as a complex vulnerable human being influenced by parents colleagues and friends whose conscious and unconscious minds ramify through each other It is a truism of psychotherapy that in order to commit to the process whatever the reservations or misconceptions one must understand that therapy is not passive The patient must expect to become personally involved with the therapist The patient learns about the therapist even as the therapist helps the patient to gain insight into him or herself Psychotherapy and Personal Change shows how this exchange develops and how each actor is affected Through specific examples the book raises the reader's understanding of what to expect from psychotherapy and enhances his/her insight into therapy that he or she may have had already
