How We Missed the Story Roy Gutman, 2008 Examining the U S foreign policy missteps leading up to 9 11 , Chinese Military Strategy in the Third Indochina War Edward C. O'Dowd, 2007-04-16 This well researched volume examines the Sino Vietnamese hostilities of the late 1970s and 1980s attempting to understand them as strategic operational and tactical events The Sino Vietnamese War was the third Indochina war and contemporary Southeast Asia cannot be properly understood unless we acknowledge that the Vietnamese fought three not two wars to establish their current role in the region The war was not about the Sino Vietnamese border as frequently claimed but about China s support for its Cambodian ally the Khmer Rouge and the book addresses US and ASEAN involvement in the effort to support the regime Although the Chinese completed their troop withdrawal in March 1979 they retained their strategic goal of driving Vietnam out of Cambodia at least until 1988 but it was evident by 1984 85 that the PLA held back by the drag of its Maoist organization doctrine equipment and personnel was not an effective instrument of coercion Chinese Military Strategy in the Third Indochina War will be of great interest to all students of the Third Indochina War Asian political history Chinese security and strategic studies in general

Speaking Out on Human Rights Pearl Eliadis, 2014-04-01 Canadians like to see themselves as champions of human rights in the international community Closer to home however the human rights system in Canada particularly its public institutions such as commissions and tribunals has been the object of sustained debate and vehement criticism based largely on widespread myths about how it works In Speaking Out on Human Rights Pearl Eliadis explodes these myths analysing the pervasive distortions and errors on which they depend Canada's human rights system a unique legal tradition operating within a powerful modern constitution is a fundamental mechanism for ensuring the practical application of our national commitment to tolerance and inclusion Drawing on in depth interviews with Canada's leading human rights experts and extensive original research Eliadis explores the evolution of commissions and tribunals as vehicles of public policy and considers their mandate to mediate rights conflicts in such contested areas as hate speech religious freedoms and sexuality She provides a frank assessment of how Canada's human rights system functions and argues that misplaced critiques have prevented urgent and necessary discussions about the reforms that are needed to improve fairness and equality before the law and to ensure institutional independence impartiality and competence Speaking Out on Human Rights shows how our human rights system plays a unique and important role in the rights revolution both in Canada and internationally and offers promising avenues for its future development

Congressional Record United States. Congress, 1995

Perspectives on Western Sahara Anouar Boukhars, Jacques Roussellier, 2013-12-18 The ongoing conflict in Western Sahara is one of the more intractable legacies of European colonization in North Africa Following the withdrawal of Spain

this territorial dispute escalated in 1975 into a war of independence between the Sahrawi people of the Polisario Front who were backed by Algeria and the states of Mauritania and Morocco In 1976 the Polisario Front established the Sahrawi Arab Democratic Republic which was not admitted in the UN but won recognition by a few states After multiple peace efforts the conflict reemerged in 2005 as the independence Intifada Today the Polisario Front controls about 20% of Western Sahara At the heart of the conflict lie geopolitical interests and incompatible claims aggravated by the use of military force and decades of mostly unproductive diplomatic maneuvers by international bodies and regional or foreign powers This thorough impartial survey brings together some of the best experts on the Sahara question to provide a broad based analysis of the problem from a range of perspectives Featuring new research the chapters examine the roots of the conflict its dynamics and potential solutions This groundbreaking text also addresses questions of law human rights natural resources from an analytical point of view Contributed by scholars from North Africa Europe and the U S it is an essential contribution to the literature of Middle East and African studies

First Do No Harm John Lister, 2014-05-01 The EU funded HeaRT Health Reporter Training project 2010 2012 laid an important foundation by investigating the existing very limited provision of specialist education and training courses for health journalists throughout the EU and also in the USA where the existence of a large professional body has influenced the availability of training resources Their findings indicate a widespread almost universal lack of an institutional investment in health journalism This is also borne out by the reports from journalists themselves responding to the snapshot HeaRT survey of health journalists and journalists covering health stories in the six partner countries Estonia Finland Germany Greece the UK and Romania The lack of academic engagement in the training of journalists in this specialist field also helps to explain the shortage of literature on health journalism This book is an effort to take this work further and to draw in experience from North America in order to ensure that the fight for improved quality of health reporting continues to be raised The chapters are intended to offer more scope for health journalists to develop their understanding of the relevant issues topics and skills and test out a variety of potential sources of useful information Throughout the book we identify sources and useful contacts and information to enable health journalists to work more effectively and deliver more knowledgeable informative stories for their audience The contributors welcome feedback and comment we hope this is the start of a growing self awareness of many who are working as health reporters and a lively debate on the best ways to deliver quality health journalism

Jihadi Culture on the World Wide Web Gilbert Ramsay, 2013-10-10 This volume examines jihadi content on the Internet by drawing on both Arabic and English primary source materials After examining this content as digital media the work looks at how it is productively consumed by online communities including how jihadi individuals construct themselves online and how jihadism is practiced and represented as an online activity The work also discusses the consumption of such jihadi media by those who are hostile to radical Islam and the relation between fantasy pleasure ideology and ordinary life This unique survey features case studies such as the
