For the first time a linguistic description of Old Turkic 7th to 13th centuries is presented dealing with phonology morphophonology and subphonemic phenomena as reflected in numerous scripts derivational and inflectional morphology syntax and coherence the lexicon and stylistic dialect and diachronic variation Word-Formation - Language Contact and Diachrony Peter O. Müller, Susan Olsen, Franz Rainer, 2025-09-01 This reader is part of a five volume edition and comprises an in depth presentation of the state of the art in word formation Volume 4 studies the mechanisms of diachronic change based on in depth studies of different languages The influence of diachronic change on the productivity patterns is addressed as well as the role of language contact Word-Formation Peter O. Müller, Ingeborg Ohnheiser, Susan Olsen, Franz Rainer, 2016-03-07 This handbook comprises an in depth presentation of the state of the art in word formation The five volumes contain 207 articles written by leading international scholars The XVI chapters of the handbook provide the reader in both general articles and individual studies with a wide variety of perspectives word formation as a linguistic discipline history of science theoretical concepts units and processes in word formation rules and restrictions semantics and pragmatics foreign word formation language planning and purism historical word formation word formation in language acquisition and aphasia word formation and language use tools in word formation research The final chapter comprises 74 portraits of word formation in the individual languages of Europe and offers an innovative perspective These portraits afford the first overview of this kind and will prove useful for future typological research This handbook will provide an essential reference for both advanced students and researchers in word formation and related fields within linguistics Turkish Language, Literature, and History Bill Hickman, Gary Leiser, 2015-10-14 The twenty two essays collected in Turkish Language Literature and History offer insights into Turkish culture in the widest sense Written by leaders in their fields from North America Europe and Turkey these essays cover a broad range of topics focusing on various aspects of Turkish language literature and history between the eighth century and the present The chapters move between ancient and contemporary literature exploring Sultan Selim s interest in dream interpretation translating newly uncovered poetry and exploring the works of Orhan Pamuk Linguistic complexities of the Turkish language and dialects are analysed while new translations of 16th century decrees offer insight into Ottoman justice and power This is a festschrift volume published for the leading scholar Bob Dankoff and the diverse topics covered in these essays reflect Dankoff s valuable contributions to the study of Turkish language and literature This cross disciplinary book offers contributions from academics specialising in linguistics history literature and sociology amongst others As such it is of key interest to scholars working in a variety of disciplines with a focus on Turkish Studies Return To The Silk Routes Mirja Juntunen, Birgit N. Schlyter, 2013-10-28 First Published in 1999 The majority of the contributions to this volume have their origin in a symposium which was held in Stockholm on 27-29 September 1996 under the Swedish title of Nordisk Centralasienforskning språk kultur samhäll i e Nordic Central Asia Research Language Culture Society The main purpose of this meeting was to obtain a general view of current research activities and study programmes in this field and to help establish contact between Central Asia researchers in the Nordic countries Diachrony of Verb Morphology Martine Robbeets, 2015-07-24 This book deals with shared verb morphology in Japanese and other languages that have been identified as Transeurasian traditionally Altaic in previous research It analyzes shared etymologies and reconstructed grammaticalizations with the goal to provide evidence for the genealogical relatedness of these languages Structural Factors in Turkic Language Contacts Lars Johanson, 2013-12-16 Turkic languages present particularly rich sources of data for the study of language contact given the number and diversity of languages with which they have been in contact Many common false generalisations are laid bare and the methodology used in evaluating particular instances of language contact can also be used with profit by students of languages other than the Turkic “Buyurdum ki...” – The Whole World of Ottomanica and Beyond, 2023-09-04 This book is dedicated to Claudia R mer and brings together 33 contributions spanning a period from the 15th to the 20th century and covering the wide range of topics with which the honouree is engaged The volume is divided into six parts that present current research on language literature and style as well as newer approaches and perspectives in dealing with sources and terminologies Aspects such as conquest administration and financing of provinces are found as well as problems of endowments and the circulation of goods in the Arab provinces of the Ottoman Empire Another main topic is dedicated to minorities and their role and situation in various provinces and cities of the Ottoman Empire as represented by various sources But also topics like conversion morality and control are illuminated Finally the volume provides an insight into the late Ottoman and early republican period in which some previously unpublished sources such as travel letters memoirs are presented and re-discussed The book is not only aimed at scholars and students of the Ottoman Empire the thematic range is also of interest to linguists historians and cultural historians Transeurasian Verbal Morphology in a Comparative Perspective Lars Johanson, Martine Irma Robbeets, 2010 The term Transeurasian refers to a large group of geographically adjacent languages stretching from the Pacific in the East to the Mediterranean in the West They share a significant amount of linguistic properties and include five linguistic families Japanese Korean Tungusic Mongolic and Turkic There is disagreement among scholars on the question whether these languages are genealogically related in the sense of an Altaic family Many linguists however seem to agree on at least one point namely that investigations into the striking correspondences in the domain of verbal morphology could substantially help unravelling the question The present volume brings together prominent specialists in the field who explore potentially shared features of verbal morphology among the

Transeurasian languages and search for the best way to explain them Important issues dealt with include the following How useful is verbal morphology really in establishing genealogical relations among languages Is there concrete evidence for cognate verbal morphology across the Transeurasian languages Is it possible to draw wider connections with Indo European and Uralic How to distinguish between genealogical retention and copying of verbal morphology In which ways can typological similarities be significant in this context

Insubordination Nicholas Evans, Honoré Watanabe, 2016-11-18 The phenomenon of insubordination can be defined diachronically as the recruitment of main clause structures from subordinate structures or synchronically as the independent use of constructions exhibiting characteristics of subordinate clauses Long marginalised as uncomfortable exceptions insubordinated clause phenomena turn out to be surprisingly widespread and provide a vital empirical testing ground for various central theoretical issues in current linguistics the interplay of langue and parole the emergence of structure the question of where productive syntactic rules give way to constructions the role of prosody in language change and the question of how far grammars are produced by isolated speakers as opposed to being collaboratively constructed in dialogue This volume the first book length treatment on the topic assembles studies of languages on all continents by scholars who bring a range of approaches to bear on the topic from historical linguistics to corpus studies to typology to conversational analysis

Man and Nature in the Altaic World. Barbara Kellner-Heinkele, Brigitte Heuer, Elena V. Boykova, 2020-08-10 No detailed description available for Man and Nature in the Altaic World

Introduction to Altaic Philology Igor de Rachewiltz, Volker Rybatzki, 2010-05-31 There are many excellent books dealing with Old Turkic Preclassical and Classical Mongolian and Literary Manchu individually but none providing in a single volume a comprehensive survey of all the three major Altaic languages The present volume attempts to fill this gap at the same time it reviews also the much debated Altaic Hypothesis The book is intended for use by students at university level as well as by general readers with a basic knowledge of linguistics The 39 language texts analysed in the volume are discussed within their historical and cultural context thus vastly enlarging the scope of the purely linguistic investigation

Evaluative Morphology from a Cross-Linguistic Perspective Livia Körtevéyessy, 2015-01-12 This book presents the results of the first interdisciplinary approach to evaluative morphology based on the intersection of evaluative morphology and areal typology and provides the first large scale typological research based on a sample of 200 languages Furthermore it also represents the first work dealing with evaluative morphology as a feature of Standard Average European by comparing the SAE and world samples Methodologically it introduces the parameter of Evaluative Morphology Saturation which identifies the richness of evaluative morphology in individual languages by reflecting the semantic word class and word formation aspects of evaluative morphology As such this book provides a new and innovative approach to studying the semantics of evaluative morphology and evaluative formation represented by two cognitively founded models a radial model of EM semantics and a model of evaluative formation It is also the first contrastive psycholinguistic work that studies phonetic

iconicity in evaluative morphology by way of experimental research into five different age groups of informants speaking three different languages

Exploring the Eastern Frontiers of Turkic Marcel Erdal, Irina Nevskaya, 2006 The papers brought together in the present volume deal with grammatical lexical onomastic and historical issues of non Muslim Turkic languages and dialects spoken in South Siberia in Mongolia and in China and with the areal and genetic relationships between them All of these varieties are socially dominated by non Turkic languages many of them are acutely endangered and in general insufficiently described A number of the articles deal with the oral traditions i e epics proverbs of the peoples speaking these varieties Some typological issues concerning the Turkic languages of the area are also touched upon

The Languages and Linguistics of Northern Asia Edward Vajda, 2024-03-04 The Languages and Linguistics of Northern Asia A Comprehensive Guide surveys the indigenous languages of Asia s North Pacific Rim Siberia and adjacent portions of Inner Eurasia It provides in depth descriptions of every first order family of this vast area with special emphasis on family internal subdivision and dialectal differentiation Individual chapters trace the origins and expansion of the region s widespread pastoral based language groups as well as the microfamilies and isolates spoken by northern Asia s surviving hunter gatherers Separate chapters cover sparsely recorded languages of early Inner Eurasia that defy precise classification and the various pidgins and creoles spread over the region Other chapters investigate the typology of salient linguistic features of the area including vowel harmony noun inflection verb indexing also known as agreement complex morphologies and the syntax of complex predicates Issues relating to genealogical ancestry areal contact and language endangerment receive equal attention With historical connections both to Eurasia s pastoral based empires as well as to ancient population movements into the Americas the steppes taiga forests tundra and coastal fringes of northern Asia offer a complex and fascinating object of linguistic investigation
