Rhetoric, Scripture and Theology Stanley E. Porter, Thomas H. Olbricht, 1996-09-01 Rhetoric Scripture and Theology aptly describe the contents of this collection of essays from the 1994 Pretoria Rhetoric Conference The conference marked a significant dialogue among scholars gathered from many nations to consider how rhetoric engages with the study of scripture and theology South Africa provided a suitable context for such discussion Although the contributors are not only from South Africa the addressing of issues pertinent to a South African context shows through in many of the essays Those that do not address particularly South African issues raise equally important issues regarding the topic of rhetoric and its relation to contemporary theological discourse

Bernard Malamud Victoria Aarons, Gustavo Sánchez Canales, 2016-09-12 Readers of American literary criticism and Jewish studies alike will appreciate this collection

A Theory of Art Karol Berger, 2002 This philosophical theory of art has three main objectives to shift the focus of aesthetics from What is art to What is art for to describe the social and historical situation of art today and to combine aesthetics with poetics and hermeneutics

Reading with a Passion Jeffrey Staley, 2002-06-01 In this strikingly personal account of recent literary approaches to the Bible Jeffrey Staley shows how people s life experiences relate to what they read in the Scriptures He illustrates his argument from theories of autobiography where recent literary and feminist critiques provide him with tools for reflecting upon his childhood on a Navajo reservation and his family s five generations of contact with the Navajo people in northern Arizona and New Mexico Using Tony Hillerman s popular detective novels as a lens to refract his own childhood memories Staley investigates how his cross cultural childhood and family history have contributed to his understanding of the Fourth Gospel By combining such diverse materials as popular fiction medieval passion plays cultural anthropology rhetorical studies and autobiographical reflection Staley takes his readers on a fascinating spiritual and intellectual journey through the Gospel of John      Playful Memories Jordana Blejmar, 2016-12-28 This volume examines the blending of fact and fiction in a series of cultural artefacts by post dictatorship writers and artists in Argentina many of them children of disappeared or persecuted parents Jordana Blejmar argues that these works which emerged after the turn of the millennium pay testament to a new cultural formation of memory characterised by the use of autofiction and playful aesthetics She focuses on a range of practitioners including Laura Alcoba Lola Arias Félix Bruzzone Albertina Carri María Giuffrè Victoria Grigera Dupuy Mariana Eva Pérez Lucila Quieto and Ernesto Semán who look towards each other's works across boundaries of genre and register as part of the way they address the legacies of the 1976-1983 dictatorship Approaching these works not as second hand or adoptive memories but as memories in their own right Blejmar invites us to recognise the subversive power of self figuration play and humour when dealing with trauma      Reader's Guide to Lesbian and Gay Studies Timothy F. Murphy, 2000 A guide to existing academic literature on issues persons periods and topics important in lesbian and gay studies With a focus on book length studies in English entries offer a very brief introduction and a more detailed overview of the secondary literature including the relative merits of each source under consideration While the overall arrangement of entries is alphabetical other means of access include a booklist general indexes cross references and a thematic list African American culture AIDS art and artists Asian studies biological sciences lesbian and gay culture education family gender studies history law literature media studies medicine music performing arts politics psychology philosophy and ethics and others Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR      Nazi Germany and the Holocaust in Historical Crime Fiction Anthony Lake, 2023-07-24 This is the first book length academic study of the portrayal in contemporary historical crime fiction of Nazi Germany and the Holocaust and their legacies It discusses novels written by five authors David Downing Philip Kerr Luke McCallin Joseph Kanon and David Thomas Their work belongs to a subgenre of the historical crime novel that has emerged since the late 1980s to become a significant body of writing located at the intersection of crime fiction and Holocaust literature The readings of these novels explore questions of form and genre to ask how popular fiction might approach the Holocaust Themes of resistance and complicity and the relationship between them and problems of guilt and responsibility are also discussed This book also explores questions of justice to show how these novels explore social and moral justice and vengeance and revenge as alternatives to ordinary legal justice after the Holocaust      Theory and Practice of Sociocriticism Edmond Cros, 1988 Theory and Practice of Sociocriticism was first published in 1988 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions Edmond Cros is a leading French Hispanicist whose work is unique in Continental theory because it brings Spanish and Mexican texts into current literary debates which have so far centered mainly on the French and German traditions Equally distinctive is the nature of his work which Cros terms sociocriticism Unlike most sociological approaches to literature which leave the structure of texts untouched sociocriticism aims to prove that the encounter with ideological traces and with antagonistic tensions between social classes is central to any reading of texts. Cros's method distinguishes between the semiotic and ideological elements within a text and involves the patient exacting reconstruction of the concrete text from these elements, a process that enables the sociocritic to interpret its fault lines, its internal contradictions, in the end its irreducibly social nature. As its title suggests, Theory and Practice of Sociocriticism is structured in two parts. Its opening chapters analyze sociological theories of discourse including those of Foucault, Bakhtin, and Goldman; in the second part, Cros applies theory to practice in readings of specific works: the film Scarface, contemporary Mexican poetry and prose, Octavio Paz, Carlos Fuentes, and the picaresque novel of the Spanish Golden Age. In their foreword, Jürgen Link and Ursula Link Heer differentiate sociocriticism from other social approaches to literature and show how Cros's method works in specific textual readings. They emphasize his resistance to the reductive modes and misreadings that dominate much of contemporary theory. Edmond Cros is a professor of literary theory and Hispanic studies at the Université Paul Valéry in Montpellier, France, and Andrew W. Mellon Professor of Hispanic Studies at the University of Pittsburgh. Jürgen Link teaches at the Ruhr Universität Bochum, and Ursula Link Heer at the Universität Siegen, both in West Germany.

Mockingbird Passing Holly Blackford, 2011-06. Blackford finds the basis of Mockingbird's broad appeal in its ability to embody the mainstream culture of romantics like Emerson and social reform writers like Stowe, even as alternative canons—southern gothic, deadpan humor, queer literatures, regional women's novels—lurk in its subtexts. Central to her argument is the notion of passing: establishing an identity that conceals the inner self so that one can function within a closed social order. For example, the novel's narrator Scout must suppress her natural tomboyishness to become a lady. Meanwhile, Scout's father Atticus Finch must contend with competing demands of thoughtfulness, self-reliance, and masculinity that ultimately stunt his effectiveness within an unjust society. Blackford charts the identity dilemmas of other key characters: the mysterious Boo Radley, the young outsider Dill modeled on Lee's lifelong friend Truman Capote, the oppressed victim Tom Robinson, in similarly intriguing ways.

Literature: An Introduction to Theory and Analysis Mads Rosendahl Thomsen, Lasse Horne Kjøeldgaard, Lis Møller, Lilian Munk Røsing, Peter Simonsen, Dan Ringgaard, 2017-03-09. How does literature work? And what does it mean? How does it relate to the world, to politics, to history, to the environment? How do we analyse and interpret a literary text, paying attention to its specific poetic and fictitious qualities? This wide-ranging introduction helps students to explore these and many other essential questions in the study of literature, criticism, and theory. In a series of introductory chapters, leading international scholars present the fundamental topics of literary studies through conceptual definitions as well as interpretative readings of works familiar from a range of world literary traditions. In an easy-to-navigate format, Literature: An Introduction to Theory and Analysis covers such topics as: Key definitions from plot, character, and style to genre, trope, and author; Literature's relationship to the surrounding world: ethics, politics, gender, and nature; Modes of literature and criticism from books to performance, from creative to critical.
