

WELCOME SPEECH FOR SEMINAR

Distinguished Delegates, participants, and partakers!

It is a glorious moment to extend my warm wishes on behalf of the Centre For Natural Resources. I want to convey my heartfelt gratitude to the Ministry of Agriculture for accepting the invitation and presiding over this seminar on "Wastewater Management in India".

It is an opportune moment to refurbish and debate upon the problems of mutual interest with our esteemed delegates from the Ministry for the day. The seminar schedule brushes upon a spectrum of exciting and benefitting themes that discuss the aspects of water and fertility management.

On behalf of my institution, I am compelled to all the research scholars and paper presenters from various parts of the country, who have made it to the seminar conference. These papers would enlighten all of us present here on the importance of waste management, the approaches, conversion of wastewater, and how to use it judiciously, thus, ensuring to save it for our future generations.

Dr's view on the "Domestic Sewage: A Major Roadblock for Water Management" has been a piece of beneficial information to add to our knowledge. His research paper focuses on specific essential facts, which mainly include domestic sewage.

Domestic waste comprises of many suspended impurities, and the soaps and detergents used during the house cleaning process contaminate the water around leading to water pollution.

Human feces can dissolve in chemical water, merges with open rivers and streams, and acts as the source of food for the bacteria present in the water. One of the main consequences of this process is the growth of bacteria and algae. These components tend to overpopulate underwater and make life difficult for aquatic creatures.

This is an unknown aspect of domestic water that is problematic and leads to water pollution. Sewage treatment of water is a process divided into three significant steps.

- Primary
- Secondary, and
- Tertiary treatment.

The primary treatment of water separates solids waste from the liquid. In this process, the wastewater is let to pass through a grate that strains out the large impurities and the remaining water catches to a tank. The smaller particles like clay, sand, lint, and other materials settle at the bottom of the tank. At this point in the treatment process, the liquid wastewater contains many harmful pollutants. These pollutants are hazardous when humans or the environment meets them.
