Beginning to End Marcia Hebert,2020-12-08 Beginning to End is the book I needed when I accepted the Director position of my first child care center I could have used a roadmap to navigate the ins and outs of being a leader and of building an education organization at the same time I could have used a book that was clearly written with details and specifics guidelines and know how to help me create a vision for this new program to build my team to add the parent component to set the stage for the children to design environments and program for them to create and fit the many parts of the organization together to make changes when they were needed to think strategically and execute those plans to close the center if that decision was made This is that book And it is my story inspired by the largest child care center that I opened during my career I served as Director there for twenty years and ultimately closed the door I experienced first hand the entire life cycle of a child care center and I have a unique perspective to share what I have learned What I bring to this book is a wealth of hands on real life experience and expertise humor and common sense I know the life of the education business director I have lived it I know the joys and satisfactions I know the problems and pitfalls and the solutions and strategies to avoid them I ve learned a lot because I have built four early childhood programs Beginning to End is a how to and memoir combined It was specifically written as a resource for early childhood educators at all levels but it has appeal and merit for other people centered businesses as well Take the ideas and approaches use them They work Marcia L Hebert Turning High-Poverty Schools into High-Performing Schools William H. Parrett,Ralph G. Leverett,2012-02-08 Is it possible for high poverty schools to be high achieving Of course it is Real schools with students living in poverty do post high levels of student achievement Learn what these schools do to help students succeed and how you and your school can adopt the same practices no matter what socio economic climate students live in Lessons learned and practical advice from seven of these high performing high poverty HP HP schools along with hundreds of others that have been the subject of intensive research are the focus of this book Authors William Parrett and Kathleen Budge have synthesized the research studied the schools in depth and show you critical components that set these institutions apart from their struggling peers After setting the context by examining poverty and its stunning effects on students the authors then zero in on what HP HP schools stopped doing or eliminated and what they started doing or improved on in three key areas of performance Building leadership capacity Fostering a safe healthy and supportive learning environment and Focusing on student professional and system learning Principals teacher leaders and district leaders can benefit from the real world examples and practical guidelines all based on research and experience Rather than suggesting a one size fits all approach the authors acknowledge the unique context of individual schools and urge readers to engage in self assessment reflection and coordinated action to learn together and lead together with rubrics and planning templates provided to guide the process The reality is that any school willing to refocus its efforts can become a high performing school The Guidon ,1891
