

An aerial photograph of the New York City skyline at sunset. The sky is filled with dramatic, dark clouds tinged with orange and purple from the setting sun. The city's dense collection of skyscrapers is visible, with the Empire State Building standing out prominently in the center. The Hudson River is visible in the background, and the city's lights are beginning to glow as dusk falls.

Hitler's Last Hostages Mary M. Lane, 2019-09-10 Adolf Hitler s obsession with art not only fueled his vision of a purified Nazi state it was the core of his fascist ideology Its aftermath lives on to this day Nazism ascended by brute force and by cultural tyranny Weimar Germany was a society in turmoil and Hitler s rise was achieved not only by harnessing the military but also by restricting artistic expression Hitler an artist himself promised the dejected citizens of postwar Germany a purified Reich purged of degenerate influences When Hitler came to power in 1933 he removed so called degenerate art from German society and promoted artists whom he considered the embodiment of the Aryan ideal Artists who had produced challenging and provocative work fled the country Curators and art dealers organized their stock Thousands of great artworks disappeared and only a fraction of them were rediscovered after World War II In 2013 the German government confiscated roughly 1 300 works by Henri Matisse George Grosz Claude Monet and other masters from the apartment of Cornelius Gurlitt the reclusive son of one of Hitler s primary art dealers For two years the government kept the discovery a secret In Hitler s Last Hostages Mary M Lane reveals the fate of those works and tells the definitive story of art in the Third Reich and Germany s ongoing struggle to right the wrongs of the past

Exhibiting Abstraction Christina Bartosch, 2025-05-20 The time around 1910 has entered art history as the moment when abstraction was invented However where and when works of non figurative art became present in the public eye has been afforded little attention to date Exhibiting Abstraction is the first publication to be devoted entirely to the presentation of abstract art between 1908 and 1915 It uncovers strategies for the dissemination of early abstract painting in exhibitions with the aid of a register of exhibited works by Giacomo Balla Umberto Boccioni Wassily Kandinsky Frantisek Kupka Kazimir Malevich Piet Mondrian and Francis Picabia shown to the public within this period and an analysis of the artists exhibition activities The key role played by art exhibitions in the works introduction and dissemination is highlighted

Religious Individualisation Martin Fuchs, Antje Linkenbach, Martin Mulsow, Bernd-Christian Otto, Rahul Bjørn Parson, Jörg Rüpke, 2019-12-16 This volume brings together key findings of the long term research project Religious Individualisation in Historical Perspective Max Weber

Centre for Advanced Cultural and Social Studies Erfurt University Combining a wide range of disciplinary approaches methods and theories the volume assembles over 50 contributions that explore and compare processes of religious individualisation in different religious environments and historical periods in particular in Asia the Mediterranean and Europe from antiquity to the recent past Contrary to standard theories of modernisation which tend to regard religious individualisation as a specifically modern or early modern as well as an essentially Western or Christian phenomenon the chapters reveal processes of religious individualisation in a large variety of non Western and pre modern scenarios Furthermore the volume challenges prevalent views that regard religions primarily as collective phenomena and provides nuanced perspectives on the appropriation of religious agency the pluralisation of religious options dynamics of de traditionalisation and privatisation the development of elaborated notions of the self the facilitation of religious deviance and on the notion of dividuality

Textiles as National Heritage: Identities, Politics and Material Culture Gabriele Mentges,Lola Shamukhitdinova,2017 The edited volume discusses the role of textile heritage in relation to the dynamics of nation building cultural identity politics economy and the globalization of markets It was sparked by a research project investigating the role of textiles textile design and contemporary fashion in the post Soviet societies of Central Asia and also includes perspectives on similar developments in Algeria and Peru in order to question dichotomous narrations of modernity relations between textile cultures and heritage building cultural property and the concept of cultural heritage Thus this book intends to stimulate the ongoing debate about textile culture as national heritage or as means of nation branding

Self-reflection in Literature ,2019-12-16 Self reflection is fundamental for human thinking on many levels Philosophy has described the mind s capacity to observe itself as a core element of human existence Political and social sciences have shown how modern democracies depend on society s ability to critically reflect on their own values and practices And literature of all ages has proven self reflexivity to be a crucial trait of cultural production This volume provides the first diachronic panorama of genres forms and functions of literary self reflection and their connections with social political and philosophical discourses from the 17th century to the present Far beyond the usual focus on postmodernist opacity these contributions present a rich tradition of critical transparency Literary texts that show us what is behind and beyond them

Creative Practice Research in the Age of Neoliberal Hopelessness Agnieszka Piotrowska,2020-07-06 In Creative Practice Research in Film and Media creative practitioners discuss their experiences and examine how to retain integrity during times of political and economic battles in higher education and attempts to quantify creative work It uses the notion of tactical compliance to evaluate whether and when creative practitioners compromise their creativity by working within the higher education system It offers a space for reflection for both practitioners and theorists and it presents a much needed intervention which will be of interest to all academics engaged with creative practice as research

Huffman,2024-11-18 In Anglophone literature historical questions about urban socio economic political religious and cultural development have often been answered using Anglo French Anglo Low Countries and Anglo Italian paradigms and sources Medieval Germany has been largely overlooked seen as a peripheral and irrelevant anomaly Conversely scholars from the German Rhineland have mostly remained within the traditions of civic public history and Landesgeschichte. As a result they rarely engage with the historical questions raised in wider European discourses. This volume challenges these historiographical propensities by offering a fresh perspective on medieval urban Germany. It aims to integrate Cologne and the Rhineland more accurately and equitably into the wider histories of medieval Europe. The book engages with historical questions of wider relevance across both German and European medieval histories. It invites all scholars and students of medieval Europe to utilize Cologne as a key source for their research and writing.

Healing Trauma with Guided Drawing Cornelia Elbrecht, 2018-12-04. A body focused trauma informed art therapy that will appeal to art therapists, somatic experiencing practitioners, bodyworkers, artists and mental health professionals. While art therapy traditionally focuses on therapeutic image making and the cognitive or symbolic interpretation of these creations, Cornelia Elbrecht instructs readers how to facilitate the body focused approach of guided drawing. Clients draw with both hands and eyes closed as they focus on their felt sense. Physical pain, tension and emotions are expressed without words through bilateral scribbles. Clients then with an almost massage like approach find movements that soothe their pain, discharge inner tension and emotions and repair boundary breaches. Archetypal shapes allow therapists to safely structure the experience in a nonverbal way. Sensorimotor art therapy is a unique and self empowering application of somatic experiencing. It is both body focused and trauma informed in approach and assists clients who have experienced complex traumatic events to actively respond to overwhelming experiences until they feel less helpless and overwhelmed and are then able to repair their memories of the past. Elbrecht provides readers with the context of body focused trauma informed art therapy and walks them through the thinking behind and process of guided drawing including 100 full color images from client sessions that serve as helpful examples of the work.

Decolonial Mourning and the Caring Commons Encarnación Gutiérrez Rodríguez, 2023-08-15. This book is the product of an endless individual and collective process of mourning. It departs from the author's mourning for her parents, their histories and struggles in Germany as Gastarbeiter while it also engages with the political mourning of intersectional feminist movements against femicide in Central and South America, the struggles against state and police misogynoir violence of SayHerName in the United States, the resistance of refugees and migrantized people against the coloniality of migration in Germany and the intense political grief work of families, relatives and friends who lost their loved ones in racist attacks from the 1980s until today in Germany. Bearing witness to their stories and accounts, this book explores how mourning is shaped both by its historical context and the political labor of caring commons while it also follows the building of a conviviality infrastructure of support against migration, coloniality, necropolitics, dwelling toward transformative and reparative practices of common justice.

New Museums Katharina Beisiegel, Art Centre Basel, 2017. The Secret in Medieval Literature Albrecht Classen, 2022-10-17 The Secret in Medieval Literature Alternative Worlds in the Middle Ages explores the many strange phenomena both in the Middle Ages and today that do not find any good rational explanations Those do not pertain to magic or to religion in the traditional sense of the word they are secrets of an epistemological kind and tend to defy human rationality without being marginal or irrelevant At first sight we might believe that we face elements from fairy tales but the medieval cases discussed here go far beyond such a simplistic approach to the mysterious dimension of secrets In fact as this book argues medieval poets commonly engaged with alternative forces and described their workings within the human context both in the Latin West and in the East without being able to come to terms with them critically Those mysteries appear both in heroic epics and courtly romances among other genres and they figure more frequently than we might have assumed On the one hand we could conceive of those secrets as the product of literary liberties and imagination on the other those secrets prove to be rather serious agents intervening in the lives of the fictional protagonists By the same token our modern world is not all rationality and material conditions either The study of secrets in the Middle Ages thus opens the pathway toward a new epistemology both for the people in the pre modern age and us today

Marking Modern Movement Susan Funkenstein, 2020-10-26 Imagine yourself in Weimar Germany you are visually inundated with depictions of dance Perusing a women s magazine you find photograph after photograph of leggy revue starlets clad in sequins and feathers coquettishly smiling at you When you attend an art exhibition you encounter Otto Dix s six foot tall triptych Metropolis featuring Charleston dancers in the latest luxurious fashions or Emil Nolde s watercolors of Mary Wigman with their luminous blues and purples evoking her choreographies mystery and expressivity Invited to the Bauhaus you participate in the Metallic Festival and witness the school s transformation into a humorous shiny technological total work of art you costume yourself by strapping a metal plate to your head admire your reflection in the tin balls hanging from the ceiling and dance the Bauhaus signature step in which you vigorously hop and stomp late into the night Yet behind the razzle dazzle of these depictions and experiences was one far more complex involving issues of gender and the body during a tumultuous period in history Germany s first democracy 1918 1933 Rather than mere titillation the images copiously illustrated and analyzed in Marking Modern Movement illuminate how visual artists and dancers befriended one another and collaborated together In many ways because of these bonds artists and dancers forged a new path in which images revealed artists deep understanding of dance their dynamic engagement with popular culture and out of that a possibility of representing women dancers as cultural authorities to be respected Through six case studies Marking Modern Movement explores how and why these complex dynamics occurred in ways specific to their historical moment Extensively illustrated and with color plates Marking Modern Movement is a clearly written book accessible to general readers and undergraduates Coming at a time of a growing number of major art museums showcasing large scale exhibitions on images of dance the audience exists for a substantial general public interest in this topic Conversing across German studies art history dance studies gender studies and popular culture studies Marking Modern Movement is intended to engage readers coming from a wide range of perspectives and interests
