Nice Crisis Communitisation Gilles Dauv:

From Crisis to Communitisation Gilles Dauvé, 2019-02-01 Communitisation means something quite straightforward a revolution that starts to change social relations immediately It would extend over years decades probably but from Day One it would begin to do away with wage labour profit productivity private property classes States masculine domination and more There would be no transition period in the Marxist sense no period when the associated producers continue furthering economic growth to create the industrial foundations of a new world Communitisation means a creative insurrection that would bring about communism not its preconditions Thus stated it sounds simple enough The questions are what how and by whom That is what this book is about Communitisation is not the be all and end all that solves everything and proves wrong all past critical theory The concept was born out of a specific period and we can fully understand it by going back to how people personally and collectively experienced the crises of the 1960s and 70s The notion is now developing in the maelstrom of a new crisis deeper than the Depression of the 1930s among other reasons because of its ecological dimension a crisis that has the scope and magnitude of a crisis of civilisation This is not a book that glorifies existing struggles as if their present accumulation were enough to result in revolution Radical theory is meaningful if it addresses the question How can proletarian resistance to exploitation and dispossession achieve more than aggravate the crisis How can it reshape the world
