From Homicide to Slavery : Studies in American Culture David Brion Davis Sterling Professor of History Yale University, 1986-11-20 For more than twenty years David Brion Davis has been recognized as a leading authority on the moral and ideological responses to slavery in the Western world

From Homicide to Slavery Davis's first book of collected essays brings together selections reflecting his wide ranging interests in colonial history Afro American history the social sciences and American literature The essays are interconnected by Davis's central concern with violence irrationality and the definition of moral limits during a period when Americans believed they were breaking free from historical constraints and acquiring new powers of self perfection Topics range from a socially revealing murder trial in 1843 to debates over capital punishment movements of counter subversion the iconography of race the cowboy as an American hero the portrayal of violence in American literature the historiography of slavery and the British and American antislavery movements Richard Wright Kenneth Kinnamon, 2014-11-04 African American writer Richard Wright 1908-1960 was celebrated during the early 1940s for his searing autobiography Black Boy and fiction Native Son By 1947 he felt so unwelcome in his homeland that he exiled himself and his family in Paris But his writings changed American culture forever and today they are mainstays of literature and composition classes He and his works are also the subjects of numerous critical essays and commentaries by contemporary writers This volume presents a comprehensive annotated bibliography of those essays books and articles from 1983 through 2003 Arranged alphabetically by author within years are some 8320 entries ranging from unpublished dissertations to book length studies of African American literature and literary criticism Also included as an appendix are addenda to the author's earlier bibliography covering the years from 1934 through 1982 This is the exhaustive reference for serious students of Richard Wright and his critics Instructor's Guide for Use with New Worlds of Literature Carolina Hospital, Jerome Beaty, Carlos Medina, 1994-01 An introduction to literature and also a text for courses in composition multicultural or contemporary American literature With the Face of the Enemy Katharina Motyl, 2024-11-20 With the Face of the Enemy focuses on the writings of Arab American authors between 2001 and 2011 Positioned as Arab Americans in the post 9/11 U.S. this underexamined group of writers projects unique insights into both the Western and Arab worlds Using the lens of postcolonial literary theory Katharina Motyl explores how the War on Terror turned Arab Americans into enemies within their own country Countering the master narrative of a clash of civilizations between the Islamic world and the West the fictional and poetic texts discussed in this book alternate between deconstructing neo Orientalist stereotypes and critiquing U.S. neocolonialism in the Greater Middle East on the one hand and critically examining Arab culture for instance its patriarchal outlook on the other Motyl pays special attention to texts written by Arab American women who have radically advocated for self determination in areas like sexuality and mode of dress thus rejecting the stereotype of Arab women as oppressed victims With the Face of the Enemy takes a serious look at how the aesthetics of Arab American literature negotiates the many psychosocial consequences the domestic War on Terror and the U.S. wars in Iraq and Afghanistan have had on the Arab American community An Introduction to Social Anthropology Clark Wissler, 1929 Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century David Pierce, 2000 Arranged chronologically by decade from the 1890s to the 1990s each decade is divided into two different types of writing critical documentary and imaginative writing and is accompanied by a headnote which situates it thematically and chronologically. The Reader is also structured for thematic study by listing all the pieces included under a series of topic headings. The wide range of material encompasses writings of well known figures in the Irish canon and neglected writers alike. This will appeal to the general reader but also makes Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century ideal as a core text providing a unique focus for detailed study in a single volume. BOOK JACKET Religion and American Cultures Gary Laderman, Luis

León, 2014-12-17 This four volume work provides a detailed multicultural survey of established as well as new American religions and investigates the fascinating interactions between religion and ethnicity, gender, politics, regionalism, ethics and popular culture. This revised and expanded edition of Religion and American Cultures: Tradition, Diversity and Popular Expression presents more than 140 essays that address contemporary spiritual practice and culture with a historical perspective. The entries cover virtually every religion in modern day America as well as the role of religion in various aspects of U.S. culture. Readers will discover that Americans aren't largely Protestant, Catholic or Jewish anymore and that the number of popular religious identities is far greater than many would imagine. And although most Americans believe in a higher power, the fastest growing identity in the United States is the none, those Americans who elect none when asked about their religious identity, thereby demonstrating how many individuals see their spirituality as something not easily defined or categorized. The first volume explores America's multicultural communities and their religious practices, covering the range of different religions among Anglo Americans and Euro Americans as well as spirituality among Latino, African American, Native American and Asian American communities. The second volume focuses on cultural aspects of religions, addressing topics such as film, Generation X, public sacred spaces, sexuality and new religious expressions. The new third volume expands the range of topics covered with in-depth essays on additional topics such as interfaith families, religion in prisons, belief in the paranormal and religion after September 11, 2001. The fourth volume is devoted to complementary primary source documents. The Historical Practice of Diversity Dirk Hoerder, Christiane Harzig, Adrian

Shubert, 2003-09-01 While multicultural composition of nations has become a catchword in public debates, few educators not to speak of the general public realize that cultural interaction was the rule throughout history. Starting with the Islam-Christian-Jewish-Mediterranean world of the early modern period, this volume moves to the empires of the 18th and 19th centuries and the African Diaspora of the Black Atlantic. It ends with questioning assumptions about citizenship and underlying homogeneous received cultures through the analysis of the changes in various literatures. This volume clearly shows that the life worlds of settled as well as migrant populations in the past were characterized by cultural change and exchange, whether conflictual or peaceful. Societies reflected on such change in their literatures as well as in their concepts of citizenship. Realism and Regionalism (1860-1910) Roger Lathbury, Jerry Phillips, Michael Anesko, Karen Meyers, 2010

Explores the social, cultural and historical contexts of American literature from 1860 to 1910. World Literature in
