Jacobs,1999-01-01 In this interdisciplinary study of gender cross cultural encounters and federal Indian policy Margaret D Jacobs explores the changing relationship between Anglo American women and Pueblo Indians before and after the turn of the century During the late nineteenth century the Pueblos were often characterized by women reformers as barbaric and needing to be uplifted into civilization By the 1920s however the Pueblos were widely admired by activist Anglo American women who challenged assimilation policies and worked hard to protect the Pueblos traditional way of life Deftly weaving together an analysis of changes in gender roles attitudes toward sexuality public conceptions of Native peoples and federal Indian policy Jacobs argues that the impetus for this transformation in perception rests less with a progressively tolerant view of Native peoples and more with fundamental shifts in the ways Anglo American women saw their own sexuality and social responsibilities

Debates in History Teaching Ian Davies,2017-02-16 Now in its second edition Debates in History Teaching remains at the cutting edge of history education It has been fully updated to take into account the latest developments in policy research and professional practice With further exploration into the major issues that history teachers encounter in their daily professional lives it provides fresh guidance for thinking and practice for teachers within the UK and beyond Written by a range of experts in history education chapters cover all the key issues needed for clear thinking and excellent professional action This book will enable you to reach informed judgements and argue your point of view with deeper theoretical knowledge and understanding Debates include What is happening today in history education What is the purpose of history teaching What do history teachers need to know What are the key trends and issues in international contexts What is the role of evidence in history teaching and learning How should you make use of ICT in your lessons Should moral learning be an aim of history education How should history learning be assessed Debates in History Teaching remains essential reading for any student or practising teacher engaged in initial training continuing professional development or Master s level study

Bibliography of the History of Medicine ,1984 Hard Questions Judith L. Pace,2021-02-15 Teaching controversial issues in the classroom is now more urgent and fraught than ever as we face up to rising authoritarianism racial and economic injustice and looming environmental disaster Despite evidence that teaching controversy is critical educators often avoid it How then can we prepare and support teachers to undertake this essential but difficult work Hard Questions Learning to Teach Controversial Issues based on a cross national qualitative study examines teacher educators efforts to prepare preservice teachers for teaching controversial issues that matter for democracy justice and human rights It presents four detailed cases of teacher preparation in three politically divided societies Northern Ireland England and the United States The book traces graduate students learning from university coursework into the classrooms where they work to put what they have learned into practice It explores their application of pedagogical tools and the factors that facilitated or hindered their efforts to teach controversy The book's cross national perspective is compelling to a broad and diverse audience raising critical questions about teaching controversial issues and providing educators researchers and policymakers tools to help them fulfill this essential democratic mission of education Pulp, Paper, and Board; Quarterly Industry Report, 1976 Resources in Education, 1998 Making Sense of History Geoffrey Partington, 2013-07 Much more is known about the past that is interesting valuable and relevant to our problems than any one of us can ever know Making Sense of History proposes we focus on Five Zones of Priority Livelihoods Protection from violence Freedom Relationships and Ideas Partington examines some perennial problems such as Progress or Regression Bias Prejudice and Moral Judgment Depth versus Breadth and the ongoing fabrication of myths and accusations of genocide and cannibalism Partington warns against looking to history for the certainties that physics or mathematics provide We have free will and make decisions rather than react uniformly to external forces Historical understanding is more like proverbial wisdom writ large than the theorems of Pythagoras or Einstein A more serious problem is the ideological capture of much history teaching in countries like Britain the United States Canada Australia and New Zealand Partington does not advocate vainglorious national pride but defends the achievement of those countries in making a better though imperfect balance between freedom and security than has been made at almost every other time or place
