Migrants In Translation Caring And The Logics Of Difference In Contemporary Italy:

Migrants in Translation Cristiana Giordano, 2014-05-16 Migrants in Translation is an ethnographic reflection on foreign migration mental health and cultural translation in Italy. Its larger context is Europe and the rapid shifts in cultural and political identities that are negotiated between cultural affinity and a multicultural multiracial Europe. The issue of migration and cultural difference figures as central in the process of forming diverse yet unified European identities. In this context, legal and illegal foreigners, mostly from Eastern Europe and Northern and Sub-Saharan Africa, are often portrayed as a threat to national and supranational identities, security, cultural foundations, and religious values. This book addresses the legal, therapeutic, and moral techniques of recognition and cultural translation that emerge in response to these social uncertainties. In particular, Migrants in Translation focuses on Italian ethno psychiatry as an emerging technique that provides culturally appropriate therapeutic services exclusively to migrants, political refugees, and victims of torture and trafficking. Cristiana Giordano argues that ethno psychiatry's focus on cultural identifications as therapeutic inasmuch as it complies with current political desires for diversity and multiculturalism also provides a radical critique of psychiatric legal and moral categories of inclusion and allows for a rethinking of the politics of recognition.

Migration Literature in Translation Mattea

Cussel, 2025-05-02 Migration Literature in Translation explores the unique case of Latinx literature translated into Spanish, drawing from Latinx studies, sociology, political philosophy, and cultural studies. The book focuses on works by Helena Mar a Viramontes, Achy Obejas, Daisy Hernandez, and Junot Diaz, analysing migration literature and translation as a social practice. Cussel introduces the integrated translation critique, a new methodology that examines the transformation of texts through translation and their reception while incorporating empirical social research methods. This innovative approach highlights the roles of various actors scholars translators authors reviewers and readers in shaping Latinx literary texts mobility and meaning across languages and cultures Through qualitative research including focus groups questionnaires and fieldwork in Europe Latin America and the US Cussel sheds light on how transnational readers engage with translated migrant stories By addressing the cultural social and political dimensions of translation this interdisciplinary work offers a sociological perspective on literary translation It is essential reading for scholars and students in the sociology of translation Latinx and migration literature and migration studies Critical Perspectives on Immigrants and Refugees Anne C.

Cunningham,2016-07-15 As civil conflict and increasingly dire economic situations spread across areas of the globe refugees have left their homes in countries such as Afghanistan Syria and Somalia in search of a better future for themselves and their children Their often dangerous plights have received much media attention and have led to increased calls for international humanitarian aid and in some cases for increased border control In Critical Perspectives on Immigrants and Refugees students will analyze this important issue and form their own conclusions based on opinions and data from experts advocacy groups and the media Global Language Justice Lydia H. Liu,Anupama Rao,2023-11-21 More than 40 percent of the world's estimated 7 100 languages are in danger of disappearing by the end of this century As with the decline of biodiversity language loss has been attributed to environmental degradation developmentalism and the destruction of Indigenous communities This book brings together leading experts and younger scholars across the humanities and social sciences to investigate what global language justice looks like in a time of climate crisis Examining the worldwide loss of linguistic diversity they develop a new conception of justice to safeguard marginalized languages Global Language Justice explores the socioeconomic transformations that both accelerate the decline of minoritized languages and give rise to new possibilities through population movement unexpected encounters and technological change It also critically examines the concepts that are typically deployed to defend linguistic diversity including human rights inclusiveness and equality Contributors take up topics such as mapping language communities in New York City or how Indigenous innovation challenges notions of linguistic purity They demonstrate the need to reckon with linguistic diversity in order to achieve a sustainable global economic system and show how the concept of digital vitality can push language justice in new directions Interspersed with their essays are multilingual works by world renowned poets and artists that engage with and deepen the book's themes Integrating ambitious theoretical exploration with concrete solutions Global Language Justice offers vital new perspectives on the place of linguistic diversity in ongoing ecological crises Italian Mobilities Ruth Ben-Ghiat,Stephanie Hom,2015-07-24 The Italian nation state has been defined by practices of mobility Tourists have flowed in from the era of the Grand Tour to the present and Italians flowed out in massive numbers in the late 19th and early 20th centuries Italians made up the largest voluntary emigration in recorded world history As a bridge from Africa to Europe Italy has more recently been a destination of choice for immigrants whose tragic stories of shipwreck and confinement are often in the news This first of its kind edited volume offers a critical accounting of those histories and practices shedding new light on modern Italy as a flashpoint for mobilities as they relate to nationalism imperialism globalization and consumer leisure and labor practices The book s eight essays reveal how a country often appreciated for what seems immutable its classical and Renaissance patrimony has in fact been shaped by movement and transit

Vital Subjects Rhiannon Noel Welch,2016 Since World War II Italy has struggled to recast both its colonial past and its alliance with Nazi Germany For many years pervading much intellectual and public discourse was the contention that prior to the great influx of racialized migrants in the mid 1980s and with the exception of the Fascist period there simply was no race racialized others racist intolerance etc in Italy Vital Subjects examines cultural production literature sociology and public health discourse and early film from the years between Unification and the end of the First World War ca 1860 and 1920 in order to explore how race and colonialism were integral to modern Italian national culture rather than a marginal afterthought or a Fascist aberration Drawing from theorizations of biopolitics a term coined by political theorists from Michel Foucault to Giorgio Agamben Roberto Esposito and numerous others to address how the life and productivity of the population emerges as a distinctively modern political question the book repositions discourses of race and colonialism with regard to post Unification national culture Vital Subjects reads cultural texts in a biopolitical key arguing that the tenor of racial discourse was overwhelmingly positive focusing on making Italians as vital subjects robust vigorous well nourished and re productive

Social Protection Programmes Michela Semprebon,2023-05-23 This book deals with social protection programmes targeted to people trafficked for the scope of sexual exploitation It provides empirical evidence on the N A Ve programme in the northeastern Italian Veneto Region and its evolution It elaborates on the programme by narrating the subjective experiences of practitioners and of a specific group of beneficiaries young Nigerian women some in transition towards the age of majority The book builds on qualitative research including a long ethnographic observation and semi structured interviews carried out in the period 2019 2021 before and during the COVID 19 pandemic It takes an intersectional social work and humanitarian governance perspective to examine the multiple dimensions of vulnerability age gender geographical origin type of exploitation characterising trafficked and sexually exploited Nigerian women It draws attention to the precariousness of protection trajectories but also their variability stressing on the agency of these women This is done with a postcolonial feminist approach by building on the autonomy of migration and the critical humanitarian governance literature while shedding light on the temporal tensions between biographical and institutional times Calling for greater space for women s voices and for their involvement in the co development of protection programmes this book will appeal to scholars of sociology anthropology social work and politics as well as to practitioners and policymakers interested in migration and trafficking The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

Emergency in Transit Eleanor Paynter,2024-11-26 A free ebook version of this title is available through

Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more Emergency in Transit responds to the crisis framings that dominate migration debates in the global north This capacious interdisciplinary study reformulates Europe's so called migrant crisis from a sudden disaster to a site of contested witnessing where competing narratives threaten uphold or reimagine migrant rights Focusing on Italy a crucial port of arrival Eleanor Paynter draws together testimonials from ethnographic research alongside literature film and visual art to interrogate the colonial racial logics that inform emergency responses to migration She also examines the media discourses policies and practices that shape lived experiences of migration well beyond international borders Centering the witnessing of Black Africans in Italy Emergency in Transit reveals how this emergency apparatus operates and posits a vision of mobility that refutes the notions of crisis so often imposed on those who cross the Mediterranean Sea

Crimes of Peace Maurizio Albahari, 2015-08-12 Among the world's hotly contested obsessively controlled and often dangerous borders none is deadlier than the Mediterranean Sea Since 2000 at least 25 000 people have lost their lives attempting to reach Italy and the rest of Europe most by drowning in the Mediterranean Every day unauthorized migrants and refugees bound for Europe put their lives in the hands of maritime smugglers while fishermen diplomats priests bureaucrats armed forces sailors and hesitant bystanders waver between indifference and intervention with harrowing results In Crimes of Peace Maurizio Albahari investigates why the Mediterranean Sea is the world's deadliest border and what alternatives could improve this state of affairs He also examines the dismal conditions of migrants in transit and the institutional framework in which they move or are physically confined Drawing on his intimate knowledge of places people and European politics Albahari supplements fieldwork in coastal southern Italy and neighboring Mediterranean locales with a meticulous documentary investigation transforming abstract statistics into names and narratives that place the responsibility for the Mediterranean migration crisis in the very heart of liberal democracy Global fault lines are scrutinized between Europe Africa and the Middle East military and humanitarian governance detention and hospitality transnational crime and statecraft the universal law of the sea and the thresholds of a globalized yet parochial world Crimes of Peace illuminates crucial questions of sovereignty and rights for migrants trying to enter Europe along the Mediterranean shore the answers are a matter of life or death

Collective Movements and Emerging Political Spaces Angharad Closs Stephens, Martina Tazzioli, 2024-05-31 Collective Movements and Emerging Political Spaces addresses the politics of new forms of collective movements ranging from anti austerity protests to migrant struggles and anticolonial demonstrations Drawing on examples from various countries as well as struggles taking place across borders this book traces the emergence of new practices of being political described as collective movements These represent something looser than a common identity long held as necessary for a political struggle to cohere They also suggest a different understanding of emancipation to the promise of transformation in time By addressing various examples of collective movements the chapters in this book examine other ways of being political together formed through relations carved in cramped spaces or small movements that rearrange our ideas about what is possible Drawing on the temporary and fleeting nature of many migrants struggles the chapters develop concepts and approaches that acknowledge how such mobilisations trouble many standard political sociological categories including nation identity and citizenship In combining an attentiveness to theories of affect emotion and atmosphere they also go beyond a focus on either individuals or collectives to address the ways bodies are moved by the world and by others Overall the chapters propose new questions methods and starting points for addressing collective movements in emerging political spaces and for understanding how what counts as politics is being redrawn on the ground This book will interest students researchers and scholars of international political sociology human geography international relations critical security studies and migration studies

Stigma Syndemics

Merrill Singer, Shir Lerman Ginzburg, Bayla Ostrach, 2017-09-07 Central to this volume and critical to its unique creative significance and contribution is the conceptual unification of syndemics and stigma Syndemics theory is increasingly recognized in social science and medicine as a crucial framework for examining and addressing pathways of interaction between biological and social aspects of chronic and acute suffering in populations While much research to date addresses known syndemics such as those involving HIV diabetes and mental illness this book explores new directions just beginning to emerge in syndemics research revealing what syndemics theory can illuminate about for example the health consequences of socially pathologized pregnancy or infertility when stigmatization of reproductive options or experiences affect women's health In other chapters newly identified syndemics affecting incarcerated or detained individuals are highlighted demonstrating the physical psychological structural and political economic effects of stigmatizing legal frameworks on human health through a syndemic lens Elsewhere in the volume scholars examine the stigma of poverty and how it affects both nutritional and oral health The common thread across all chapters is linkages of social stigmatization structural conditions and how these societal forces drive biological and disease interactions affecting human health in areas not previously explored through these lenses

Island of Hope

Megan A. Carney, 2021-05-18 With thousands of migrants attempting the perilous maritime journey from North Africa to Europe each year transnational migration is a defining feature of social life in the Mediterranean today On the island of Sicily where many migrants first arrive and ultimately remain the contours of migrant reception and integration are frequently animated by broader concerns for human rights and social justice Island of Hope sheds light on the emergence of social solidarity initiatives and networks forged between citizens and noncitizens who work together to improve local livelihoods and mobilize for radical political change Basing her argument on years of ethnographic fieldwork with frontline communities in Sicily anthropologist Megan Carney asserts that such mobilizations hold significance not only for the rights of migrants but for the material and affective well being of society at large

Policing race, ethnicity and culture

Jan Beek, Thomas Bierschenk, Annalena Kolloch, Bernd Meyer, 2023-03-28 How to deal with differences based on culture ethnicity and race has become a key issue of policing This edited collected explores everyday often mundane interactions between police officers and migrantised actors in European countries and asks how both sides deal with perceived differences. The contributions reflect that such differences are not just out there but are being situationally re-produced in police-citizen encounters. By taking a comparative approach, the book develops a distinctly European perspective on these questions. The book contains 12 ethnographies from ten European countries based on new and often innovative empirical research, two theoretical contributions, an introduction and a postface.

Cultural Expertise, Law, and Rights Livia Holden, 2023-05-19. Cultural Expertise, Law, and Rights introduces readers to the theory and practice of cultural expertise in the resolution of conflicts and the claim of rights in diverse societies. Combining theory and case studies of the use of cultural expertise in real situations and in a great variety of fields, this is the first book to offer a comprehensive examination of the field of cultural expertise: its intellectual orientations, practical applications, and ethical implications. This book engages an extensive and interdisciplinary variety of topics ranging from race, language, sexuality, Indigenous rights, and women's rights to immigration and asylum laws, international commercial arbitration, and criminal law. It also offers a truly global perspective covering cultural expertise in Africa, Asia, Australia, Europe, Latin America, the Middle East, and North America. Finally, the book offers theoretical and practical guidance for the ethical use of cultural expert knowledge. This is an essential volume for teachers and students in the social sciences, especially law, anthropology, and sociology, and members of the legal professions who engage in cross-cultural dispute resolution, asylum, and migration, private international law, and other fields of law in which cultural arguments play a role. The Open Access version of this book is available at www.taylorfrancis.com. It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 license.

Handbook of Migration and Health Felicity Thomas, 2016-12-30. Migration is now firmly embedded as a leading global policy issue of the twenty-first century. Whilst not a new phenomenon, it has altered significantly in recent decades with changing demographics, geopolitics, conflict, climate change, and patterns of global development shaping new types of migration. Against this evolving backdrop, this Handbook offers an authoritative overview of key debates underpinning migration and health in a contemporary global context.

Collateral Damages Nadia El-Shaarawi, 2025-05-13. More than twenty years after the US-led invasion and occupation of Iraq, there has yet to be a meaningful public reckoning with the war. Collateral Damages brings Iraqi stories which have been systematically excluded from dominant Western narratives of the war to the fore. Drawing on a decade of ethnographic fieldwork, Nadia El-Shaarawi traces Iraqis' experiences of the 2003 invasion and the violence and displacement that followed from urban exile in Cairo to efforts to rebuild by pursuing third-country resettlement, often in the very country responsible for them becoming refugees. Iraqis' theorizations of war and displacement illuminate how prevailing histories and memories of both the Iraq War and the larger Global War on Terror can be understood as imperial, unknowing, epistemological, and relational practices by which imperial power produces conditions of ignorance, hubris, obfuscation, and a willful turning away. Iraqis' accounts draw attention to that which empire prefers to keep hidden and offer possibilities for knowing the social and political effects of war differently Enveloped Lives Rima Praspaliauskiene, 2022-11-15 Handing envelopes containing money or gifts to doctors in public health care is often seen as a remnant of socialism that continues as an integral part of the Lithuanian health care system Rima Praspaliauskiene uses the envelope to explore complex doctor patient interactions that go beyond notions of the gift or the bribe She reshapes our definition of corruption and encourages seeing these practices as emerging forms of care that impede the neoliberal health care reforms effected in the post Soviet era Enveloped Lives extends the analytical categories of gift care money and transparency shifting attention away from material transactions by prioritizing relations and practices that transcend economic rationality At a time when health care reforms and the costs of care are being widely debated this book is a contribution to the larger discussion about the ethics and future of health care around the world

Perilous Intimacies SherAli Tareen, 2023-09-19 Finalist 2024 Award for Excellence in the Study of Religion Textual Studies American Academy of Religion Longlist 2024 Karwaan Book Award Karwaan The Heritage Exploration Initiative Friendship particularly interreligious friendship offers both promise and peril After the end of Muslim political sovereignty in South Asia how did Muslim scholars grapple with the possibilities and dangers of Hindu Muslim friendship How did they negotiate the incongruities between foundational texts and attitudes toward non Muslims that were informed by the premodern context of Muslim empire and the realities of British colonialism which rendered South Asian Muslims a political minority In this groundbreaking book SherAli Tareen explores how leading South Asian Muslim thinkers imagined and contested the boundaries of Hindu Muslim friendship from the late eighteenth to the mid twentieth centuries He argues that often what was at stake in Muslim scholarly discourse and debates on Hindu Muslim friendship were unresolved tensions and fissures over the place and meaning of Islam in the modern world Perilous Intimacies considers a range of topics including Muslim scholarly translations of Hinduism Hindu Muslim theological polemics the question of interreligious friendship in the Qur'an intra Muslim debates on cow sacrifice and debates on emulating Hindu customs and habits Based on the close reading of an expansive and multifaceted archive of Arabic Persian and Urdu sources this book illuminates the depth complexity and profound divisions of the Muslim intellectual traditions of South Asia Perilous Intimacies also provides timely perspective on the historical roots of present day Hindu Muslim relations considering how to overcome thorny legacies and open new horizons for interreligious friendship Asylum Determination in Europe Nick Gill, Anthony Good, 2018-12-05 Drawing on new research material from ten European countries Asylum Determination in Europe Ethnographic Perspectives brings together a range of detailed accounts of the legal and bureaucratic processes by which asylum claims are decided The book includes a legal overview of European asylum determination procedures followed by sections on the diverse actors involved the means by which they communicate and the ways in which they make life and death decisions on a daily basis It offers a contextually rich account that moves beyond doctrinal law to uncover the gaps and variances between formal policy and legislation and law as actually practiced The contributors employ a variety of disciplinary perspectives sociological anthropological geographical and linguistic but are united in their use of an ethnographic methodological approach Through this lens the book captures the confusion improvisation inconsistency complexity and emotional turmoil inherent to the process of claiming asylum in Europe
