Migration Theory Talking Across Disciplines:

Migration Theory Caroline Brettell, James Frank Hollifield, 2000 First published in 2000      Migration Theory Caroline B. Brettell, James F. Hollifield, 2013-05-13 During the last decade the issue of migration has increased in global prominence and has caused controversy among the host countries around the world Continuing their interdisciplinary approach editors Catherine Brettell and James Hollifield have included revised essays from the first edition in such fields as anthropology political science and history This edition also features new essays by a demographer geographer and sociologist

Migration Theory Caroline B. Brettell, James F. Hollifield, 2022-07-01 The revised fourth edition of Migration Theory continues to offer a one stop synthesis of contemporary thought on migration Editors Caroline B Brettell and James F Hollifield remain committed to include coverage that is comparative and global in scope while enhancing similarities and differences between one academic field and the next All chapters have been revised to highlight cutting edge issues in the field of migration studies today The fourth edition welcomes two new authors Professors Marie Price and Fran ois H ran to offer a fresh approach with their chapters on geography and demography respectively Designed for undergraduate and graduate courses in migration studies a primary goal of the text is to assist instructors in guiding students who may have little background on migration to understand important issues and the scientific debates This ensures Migration Theory is a highly valuable guide not only to the perspectives of one s own discipline but also to those of cognate fields      Reseña de "Migration Theory. Talking across Disciplines", de Caroline Brettel y James Hollifield (editores). María Eugenia Anguiano Téllez, 2001      Migration Michael Samers, Michael Collyer, 2016-12-08 While the subject of migration has received enormous attention in academic journals and books across the social sciences introductory texts on the matter are few and far between Even fewer books have explored migration through a critical and explicit engagement with spatial concepts Now in its second edition Migration remains the only text in more than a decade that emphasizes how geographical or spatial concepts can be used critically to understand migration The multi disciplinary text draws on insights from human geography political science social anthropology sociology and to a lesser extent economics All of the chapters focus on key terms theories concepts and issues concerning migration and immigration The book argues that in the context of migration two opposing spatial positions have emerged in the wake of the critique of methodological nationalism On one hand is the significance of transnationalism and on the other the importance of sub national or local processes Both require more nuance and integration while many of the concepts and theories which have thus far neglected space or have not been treated spatially need to be re written with space in mind Pedagogically the text combines a carefully defined structure accessible language boxes that explore case studies of migrant related experiences in particular places annotated suggestions for further reading useful websites and relevant films and summary questions for student learning at the end of each chapter Migration provides a critical multi disciplinary advanced and theoretically informed introduction to migration and immigration Revised and updated with new material new maps and illustrations and an accompanying website <https://migration2ndedition.wordpress.com> it continues to be aimed at advanced undergraduates and Masters level graduate students undertaking courses on migration and immigration

Social Networks and Migration in Wartime

Afghanistan K. Harpviken, 2009-05-14 Drawing on fieldwork in the Herat area Afghanistan this book addresses migration patterns throughout three decades of war It launches a framework for understanding the role of social networks for people's responses to war and disaster as well as mobilizing or maintaining material resources for security and gathering information

African Migrations Abdoulaye Kane, Todd H. Leedy, 2013-02-18 Engaging case studies add to understanding the social processes of voluntary and forced displacement within the continent and across the seas Choice Spurred by major changes in the world economy and in local ecology the contemporary migration of Africans both within the continent and to various destinations in Europe and North America has seriously affected thousands of lives and livelihoods The contributors to this volume reflecting a variety of disciplinary perspectives examine the causes and consequences of this new migration The essays cover topics such as rural urban migration into African cities transnational migration and the experience of immigrants abroad as well as the issues surrounding migrant identity and how Africans re create community and strive to maintain ethnic gender national and religious ties to their former homes

Being Available and Reachable Mbeanwoah

Tazanu, 2012-06-27 The book investigates what have become of Cameroonian transnational family and friendship ties in the age of the mobile phone and the internet that make people readily available and reachable Most theoretical literature states that these tools of sociality cement transnational social relationships through instantaneous interaction To capture the different experiences and impressions on the significance of these media in easing communication for migrants and non migrants Tazanu draws on ethnographic accounts based on his fieldwork in Freiburg Germany and Buea Cameroon He argues that it is mainly the migrants who maintain or are expected to maintain ties with non migrants back in Cameroon through calls and material support The main finding of the study is that cell phones and the internet have facilitated discontents grudges insults fights avoidance arguments and estrangement of relationships much more than they have contributed to binding friends or families through direct mediation Underlying these aspects of distancing are the high expectations and sometimes contradictory motives for instant virtual interaction Non migrants accounts suggest that direct availability and reachability should lead to uninterrupted transnational interaction and also that the cultural practices of remittances from migrants are easily requested and coordinated Such motives are generally contrary to migrants wishes willingness or ability to support friends and families in Cameroon These unexpected outcomes arising from rapid speed of interaction questions the advantages that are often associated with instant sociality across space and time The finding is a call for the cultural background and life world experiences of media users to be taken into consideration when theorising the significance of information technology in the debate on media globalisation

Homecomings Fran Markowitz, Anders H.

Stefansson,2004-11-09 Despite the mass dislocation and repatriation efforts of the last century the study of return movements still sits on the periphery of anthropology and migration research Homecomings explores the forces and motives that drive immigrants war refugees political exiles and their descendants back to places of origin By including a range of homecoming experiences Markowitz and Stefansson destabilize the key oppositions and the key terminologies that have vexed migration studies for decades analyzing migration and repatriation home and homeland and host returnee and newcomer through a comparative ethnographic lens The volume provides rich answers to the following questions Does group repatriation sponsored and sometimes coerced by national governments or supranational organizations create resettlement conditions more or less favorable than those experienced by individuals or families who made this journey alone How important are first impressions living conditions and initial reception in shaping the experience of home in the homeland What are the expectations that a mythologized homeland encourages in those who have left Filling a conspicuous gap in the literature on migration in diverse fields such as anthropology politics international law and cultural studies Homecomings and the gripping ethnographic studies included in the volume demonstrate that a home and a homeland remain salient cultural imperatives that can inspire a call to political action

The Politics of Migration in Indonesia and Beyond

Riwanto Tirtosudarmo,2019-01-22 This book examines the social and political dimensions of migration from a perspective between the realms of demography and politics It approaches the issue of migration by highlighting the important power relations that have previously been neglected in studies in the area The book starts by investigating Indonesian migration to provide an understanding of internal migration It then looks beyond its national borders for a wider understanding of Asia and showcases several case studies both in Indonesia and beyond to illustrate the intricate politics of migration Further it considers the politics of migration from the sending country perspective and unravels the link between migration and security The book provides reviews of the wider literature relating to population mobility and distribution and shows readers how to adopt a new perspective in the study of movement of people an issue that is becoming increasingly important as movement of people unfolds globally in terms of both volume and direction This book is a valuable resource for students academics and researchers in the area of demography and social politics especially those interested in migration and refugees It also offers insights for those interested in understanding decentralization in greater depth

South Asia's

Modern History Michael Mann,2014-10-24 This comprehensive history of modern South Asia explores the historical development of the Subcontinent from the beginning of the eighteenth century to the present day from local and regional as opposed to European perspectives Michael Mann charts the role of emerging states within the Mughal Empire the gradual British colonial expansion in the political setting of the Subcontinent and shows how the modern state formation usually associated with Western Europe can be seen in some regions of India linking Europe and South Asia together as part of a shared world history This book looks beyond the Subcontinent's post colonial history to consider the political economic social and cultural development of Pakistan and Bangladesh as well as Sri Lanka and Nepal and to examine how these developments impacted the region's citizens. South Asia's Modern History begins with a general introduction which provides a geographical, environmental, and historiographical overview. This is followed by thematic chapters which discuss Empire Building and State Formation, Agriculture and Agro Economy, Silviculture and Scientific Forestry, Migration, Circulation, and Diaspora, Industrialisation and Urbanisation, and Knowledge, Science, Technology, and Power, demonstrating common themes across the decades and centuries. This book will be perfect for all students of South Asian history.

From Sweatshop to Fashion Shop Jihye Kim, 2021-08-26 Since their arrival in the 1960s, Korean immigrants in Argentina have been massively involved in the garment industry. Nevertheless, despite their decades-long concentration in the same sector, over time they have reshaped their motivations and business styles throughout the twists and turns of the host country's junctures. Applying rigorous immigrant entrepreneurship theories yet wary of orthodoxies, Kim examines the intriguing paths which Korean entrepreneurs have taken to develop their businesses in the Argentine garment industry amidst complex, frantically volatile social and economic circumstances and argues for the application of a new approach that combines existing theories with historically contextual perspectives. This unique case study on Korean immigrant entrepreneurship in Latin America represents a significant milestone in the fields of migration and Korean studies and a substantial contribution to bridging the gap between the North, where such inquiries abound, and the South, where the history, settlement, and current status of Korean immigrants have been notoriously under-examined.

The Perfect Business? Anti-Trafficking and the Sex Trade along the Mekong Sverre Molland, 2012-09-10 For those at the high end of the trafficking chain, the sex trade is an alluring and lucrative business: the supply of girls is constant, the costs of operations are low, and interference from law enforcement is weak to non-existent. Anti-trafficking organizations and governments commonly appropriate such market metaphors of supply and demand as they struggle with the moral, political dimensions of a business involving trade, labor, prostitution, migration, and national borders. But how apt are they? Is the sex trade really the perfect business? This provocative new book examines the social worlds and interrelationships of traffickers, victims, and trafficking activists along the Thai-Lao border. It explores local efforts to reconcile international legal concepts, the bureaucratic prescriptions of aid organizations, and global development ideologies with on-the-ground realities of sexual commerce. Author Sverre Molland provides an insider's view of recruitment and sex commerce gleaned from countless conversations and interviews in bars and brothels, a view that complicates popular stereotypes of women forced or duped into prostitution by organized crime. Molland's fine-grained ethnography shows a much more varied picture of friends recruiting friends and families helping relatives. A recruiter rationalizes her act as a benefit or favor to a village friend; relationships between prostitutes and bar owners are cloaked in kin terms and familial metaphors. Sex work in the Mekong region follows patron-client cultural scripts about mutual help and obligation, which makes distinguishing the victims from the traffickers difficult. Molland's research illuminates the methods and motivations of recruiters as well as the economic incentives and predicaments of victims The Perfect Business is the first book to go beyond the usual focus on migrants and sex commerce to explore the institutional context of anti trafficking Its author himself a former advisor for a United Nations anti trafficking project raises crucial questions about how an increasingly globalized development aid sector responds to what might more accurately be described as an extraterritorial development challenge of human mobility His book will offer insights to students and scholars in anthropology gender studies and human geography as well as anyone interested in one of the most controversial issues of development policy

Redirecting Ethnic Singularity Yiorgos Anagnostou, Yiorgos D. Kalogeras, Theodora Patrona, 2022-05-03 Winner Vasiliki Karagiannaki Prize for the Best Edited Volume in Modern Greek Studies Promotes the understanding of Italian Americans and Greek Americans through the study of their interactions and juxtapositions Redirecting Ethnic Singularity Italian Americans and Greek Americans in Conversation contributes to U S ethnic and immigration studies by bringing into conversation scholars working in the fields of Italian American and Greek American studies in the United States Europe and Australia The work moves beyond the single group approach an approach that privileges the study of ethnic singularity to explore instead two ethnic groups in relation to each other in the broader context of the United States The chapters bring into focus transcultural interfaces and inquire comparatively about similarities and differences in cultural representations associated with these two groups This co edited volume contributes to the fields of transcultural and comparative studies The book is multi disciplinary It features scholarship from the perspectives of architecture ethnomusicology education history cultural and literary studies and film studies as well as whiteness studies It examines the production of ethnicity in the context of American political culture as well as that of popular culture including visual representations documentary film TV series and low brow crime fiction It includes analysis of literature It involves comparative work on religious architecture transoceanic circulation of racialized categories translocal interconnections in the formation of pan Mediterranean identities and the making of the immigrant past in documentaries from Italian and Greek filmmakers This volume is the first of its kind in initiating a multidisciplinary transcultural and comparative study across European Americans

Immigration and the Border David L. Leal, José E. Limón, 2013-06-05 The advent of the twenty first century marks a significant moment in the history of Latinos in the United States The fourth wave of immigration to America is primarily Latino and the last decades of the twentieth century saw a significant increase in the number of Latino migrants a diversification of the nations contributing to this migration and an increase in the size of the native born Latino population A backlash against unauthorized immigration which may indict all Latinos is also underway Understanding the growing Latino population especially its immigrant dimensions is therefore a key task for researchers in the social sciences and humanities The contributors to Immigration and the Border address immigration and border politics and policies focusing on the U S side of the border The volume editors have arranged the essays into five sections The two chapters in the first section set the stage and discuss the binational lives of Mexican migrants chapters in the subsequent sections highlight specific political and policy themes civic engagement public policies political reactions against immigrants and immigrant leadership Because the immigration experience encompasses many facets of political life and public policy the varied perspectives of the contributors offer a mosaic that contextualizes the impact of and contributions by contemporary Latino immigrants Their research will appeal not only to scholars but to policymakers and the public and will inform contentious debates about migration and migrants

Remittance-led Development: Rebuilding Old Dependencies Or a Powerful Source of Human Development? Jörg Helmke, 2010

An Immigration History of Britain Panikos Panayi, 2014-09-11 Immigration ethnicity multiculturalism and racism have become part of daily discourse in Britain in recent decades yet far from being new these phenomena have characterised British life since the 19th century While the numbers of immigrants increased after the Second World War groups such as the Irish Germans and East European Jews have been arriving settling and impacting on British society from the Victorian period onwards In this comprehensive and fascinating account Panikos Panayi examines immigration as an ongoing process in which ethnic communities evolve as individuals choose whether to retain their ethnic identities and customs or to integrate and assimilate into wider British norms Consequently he tackles the contradictions in the history of immigration over the past two centuries migration versus government control migrant poverty versus social mobility ethnic identity versus increasing Anglicisation and above all racism versus multiculturalism Providing an important historical context to contemporary debates and taking into account the complexity and variety of individual experiences over time this book demonstrates that no simple approach or theory can summarise the migrant experience in Britain

Global Surveillance and Policing Elia Zureik, Mark Salter, 2013-01-11 Since the 9 11 attacks in North America and the accession of the Schengen Accord in Europe there has been widespread concern with international borders the passage of people and the flow of information across borders States have fundamentally changed the ways in which they police and monitor this mobile population and its personal data This book brings together leading authorities in the field who have been working on the common problem of policing and surveillance at physical and virtual borders at a time of increased perceived threat It is concerned with both theoretical and empirical aspects of the ways in which the modern state attempts to control its borders and mobile population It will be essential reading for students practitioners policy makers

Harbinger of Modernity Dalia Wassner, 2013-09-25 In Harbinger of Modernity Marcos Aguinis and the Democratization of Argentina Dalia Wassner presents an integrated analysis of the civic work and literary oeuvre of Marcos Aguinis who served as Secretary of Culture during Argentina's transition from dictatorship to democracy Situating his writings in their historical and intellectual context Wassner explores Aguinis's engagement with the dialectic of modernization as a Jewish public intellectual equally dedicated to fostering Argentine democracy and to inscribing himself in the annals of westernization Encompassing intellectual history literary criticism Latin American history and Jewish studies Wassner's work illuminates the intersecting roles of Jews and public intellectuals in bringing democracy to post dictatorship Argentina      The Shelley-Byron Circle and the Idea of Europe

P. Stock, 2010-04-12 This book investigates how Lord Byron Percy Shelley and their circle understood the idea of Europe What geographical cultural and ideological concepts did they associate with the term What does this tell us about politics and identity in early nineteenth century Britain In addressing these questions Paul Stock challenges prevailing nationalist interpretations of Romanticism but without falling prey to imprecise alternative notions of cosmopolitanism or world citizenship Instead his book accounts for both the transnational and the local in Romantic writing reassessing the period in terms of more complex multi layered identity politics
