Rhetorical Occasions Michael Bérubé,2007-09-06 A nationally known scholar essayist and public advocate for the humanities Michael Berube has a rapier wit and a singular talent for parsing complex philosophical theoretical and political questions Rhetorical Occasions collects twenty four of his major essays and reviews plus a sampling of entries on literary theory and contemporary culture from his award winning weblog Selected to showcase the range of public writing available to scholars the essays are grouped into five topical sections the Sokal hoax and its effects on the humanities cosmopolitanism American studies and cultural studies daily academic life inside and outside the classroom the events of September 11 2001 and their political aftermath and the potential discursive and tonal range of academic blog writing In lively and entertaining prose Berube offers a wide array of interventions into matters academic and nonacademic By example and illustration he reminds readers that the humanities remain central to our understanding of what it means to be human

Manual of Deixis in Romance Languages Konstanze Jungbluth, Federica Da Milano, 2015-10-16 Deixis as a field of research has generated increased interest in recent years It is crucial for a number of different subdisciplines pragmatics semantics cognitive and contrastive linguistics to name just a few The subject is of particular interest to experts and students philosophers teachers philologists and psychologists interested in the study of their language or in comparing linguistic structures The different deictic structures not only the items themselves but also the oppositions between them reflect the fact that neither the notions of space time person nor our use of them are identical cross culturally This diversity is not restricted to the difference between languages but also appears among related dialects and language varieties This volume will provide an overview of the field focusing on Romance languages but also reaching beyond this perspective Chapters on diachronic developments language change comparisons with other non European languages and on interfaces with neighboring fields of interest are also included The editors and authors hope that readers regardless of their familiarity with Romance languages will gain new insights into deixis in general and into the similarities and differences among deictic structures used in the languages of the world

Chassis Handbook Bernhard Heiing, Metin Ersoy, 2010-11-09 In spite of all the assistance offered by electronic control systems the latest generation of passenger car chassis still relies on conventional chassis elements With a view towards driving dynamics this book examines these conventional elements and their interaction with mechatronic systems First it describes the fundamentals and design of the chassis and goes on to examine driving dynamics with a particularly practical focus This is followed by a detailed description and explanation of the modern components A separate section is devoted to the axles and processes for axle development With its revised illustrations and several updates in the text and list of references this new edition already includes a number of improvements over the first edition

The Straw Manual Bill Butterworth, 2012-12-06 This book is not about what might be done with straw one day It is about what can be done with it right now on the farm It is about today s technology allowing decisions to be made about what to do with straw this year in order to minimize costs minimize management problems and maximize yields and profits It can be read cover to cover chapter by chapter or dipped into as a reference book Whichever way this manual is aimed at helping the farmer to understand the technology and do the job that has to be done profitably Action Plans which summarize the relevant data and ease decision making appear at the end of each chapter The final part is a Decision Planner which will help with tackling the job in hand on the day

Graph-Based Representations in Pattern Recognition Cheng-Lin Liu,Bin Luo,Walter G. Kropatsch,Jian Cheng,2015-05-04 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 10th IAPR TC 15 International Workshop on Graph Based Representations in Pattern Recognition GbRPR 2015 held in Beijing China in May 2015 The 36 papers presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 53 submissions The accepted papers cover diverse issues of graph based methods and applications with 7 in graph representation 15 in graph matching 7 in graph clustering and classification and 7 in graph based applications Using Neurophysiological Signals that Reflect Cognitive or Affective State Anne-Marie Brouwer,Thorsten O. Zander,Jan B. F. van Erp,2015-07-27

What can we learn from spontaneously occurring brain and other physiological signals about an individual s cognitive and affective state and how can we make use of this information One line of research that is actively involved with this question is Passive Brain Computer Interfaces BCI To date most BCIs are aimed at assisting patients for whom brain signals could form an alternative output channel as opposed to more common human output channels like speech and moving the hands However brain signals possibly in combination with other physiological signals also form an output channel above and beyond the more usual ones they can potentially provide continuous online information about an individual s cognitive and affective state without the need of conscious or effortful communication The provided information could be used in a number of ways Examples include monitoring cognitive workload through EEG and skin conductance for adaptive automation or using ERPs in response to errors to correct for a behavioral response While Passive BCIs make use of online neuro physiological responses and close the interaction cycle between a user and a computer system neuro physiological responses can also be used in an offline fashion Examples of this include detecting amygdala responses for neuromarketing and measuring EEG and pupil dilation as indicators of mental effort for optimizing information systems The described field of applied neuro physiology can strongly benefit from high quality scientific studies that control for confounding factors and use proper comparison conditions Another area of relevance is ethics ranging from dubious product claims acceptance of the technology by the general public privacy of users to possible effects that these kinds of applications may have on society as a whole In this Research Topic we aimed to publish studies of the highest scientific quality that are directed towards applications that utilize spontaneously effortlessly generated neurophysiological signals brain and or other physiological signals reflecting cognitive or affective state We especially welcomed studies that describe specific real world applications demonstrating a significant benefit compared to standard applications We also invited original new kinds of proposed applications in this area as well as comprehensive review articles that point out what is and what is not possible according to scientific standards in this field Finally we welcomed manuscripts on the ethical issues that are involved Connected to the Research Topic was a workshop held on June 6 during the Fifth International Brain Computer Interface Meeting June 3 7 2013 Asilomar California that brought together a diverse group of people who were working in this field We discussed the state of the art and formulated major challenges as reflected in the first paper of the Research Topic
