marketed by Avalon Hill Games that simulates actions of approximately company or battalion size in World War II. It is a detailed game system for two or more players with solitaire play also possible. Components include the ASL Rulebook and various games called modules. ASL modules provide the standard equipment for playing ASL including geomorphic mapboards and counters. The mapboards are divided into hexagons to regulate fire and movement and depict generic terrain that can represent different historical locations. The counters are cardboard pieces that depict squads of soldiers, crews, individual leaders, support weapons, heavy weapons, and vehicles. Twelve core modules provide representations of nearly every troop type, vehicle, and weapon to see combat action from any nationality involved in World War II. Each module comes with 6 to 20 researched situations depicting historical battles. These scenarios are printed on card stock with specifications of game length, mapboard configuration, counters involved, special rules for the conditions of the particular battle such as weather and victory conditions. In addition to the scenarios published in the modules, there are numerous other sources for scenarios, both official and unofficial. There is also a detailed set of instructions in the ASL Rulebook for
