Paradoxes De La Conscience Et Limites De L'automatisme:

Cybernetics and the Origin of Information Raymond Ruyer, 2023-12-19 One of the lost classics of French philosophy Cybernetics and the Origin of Information has never before been published in English Raymond Ruyer who was a major influence on Simondon and Deleuze among others originally wrote this book one of the first critiques of Norbert Wiener's cybernetics program in 1954 At once critical and analytical it is a deep exploration of information theory cybernetics and the philosophical assumptions and implications of both Among the themes covered in the book are the main types of information machines information's relationship to behavior and communication and the nature of entropy and time in cybernetics This translation contributes to understanding the rich history of cybernetics and the philosophy of information A true hidden gem in the history of philosophical thought this text will help readers understand foundational criticisms of ideas that have led to artificial intelligence Paradoxes de la Conscience Et Limites de L'automatisme Raymond RUYER, 1966 Deleuze's

Philosophical Lineage Graham Jones, 2009-03-31 The philosophy of Gilles Deleuze is increasingly gaining the prestige that its astonishing inventiveness calls for in the Anglo American theoretical context His wide ranging works on the history of philosophy cinema painting literature and politics are being taken up and put to work across disciplinary divides and in interesting and surprising ways However the backbone of Deleuze's philosophy the many and varied sources from which he draws the material for his conceptual innovation has until now remained relatively obscure and unexplored This book takes as its goal the examination of this rich theoretical background Presenting essays by a range of the world's foremost Deleuze scholars and a number of up and coming theorists of his work the book is composed of in depth analyses of the key figures in Deleuze's lineage whose significance as a result of either their obscurity or the complexity of their place in the Deleuzian text has not previously been well understood This work will prove indispensable to students and scholars seeking to understand the context from which Deleuze's ideas emerge Included are essays on Deleuze's relationship to figures as varied as Marx Simondon Wronski Hegel Hume Maimon Ruyer Kant Heidegger Husserl Reimann Leibniz Bergson and Freud appropriate for scholars and advanced students in media management and economics Paradoxes de la conscience et limites de l'automatisme Raymond Ruyer, 1966 Rethinking The Subject James Faubion, 2018-02-06 Since the early seventies European thinkers have departed notably from their predecessors in order to pursue analytical programs more thoroughly their own Rethinking the Subject brings together in one volume some of the most influential writings of Foucault Habermas Bourdieu Pizzorno Macfarlane and other authors whose ideas have had a worldwide influence in recent social theory This anthology is testament to the central importance of three contemporary themes each familiar to earlier thinkers but never definitively formulated or resolved The first two concern the nature and modalities of power and legitimacy in society The third and most fundamental deals with the nature and modalities of the self or subject These themes owe their special contemporary relevance to an array of events from the collapse of colonialism to the birth of test tube babies James Faubion's introduction traces the historical context of these influential events and themes It also traces the lineaments of a still inchoate intellectual movement of which the anthology's contributors are the vanguard Whether modernist or post modernist this movement leads away from a world constituting subject which in one guise or another has served as the ontological ground of social reflection and research since Kant It points instead toward ontological pluralism and toward polythetic diagnostics of heterogeneous forces that constitute a multiplicity of worlds and subjects The Incorporeal

Elizabeth Grosz, 2017-03-14 Philosophy has inherited a powerful impulse to embrace either dualism or a reductive monism either a radical separation of mind and body or the reduction of mind to body But from its origins in the writings of the Stoics the first thoroughgoing materialists another view has acknowledged that no forms of materialism can be completely self inclusive space time the void and sense are the incorporeal conditions of all that is corporeal or material In The Incorporeal Elizabeth Grosz argues that the ideal is inherent in the material and the material in the ideal and by tracing its development over time she makes the case that this same idea reasserts itself in different intellectual contexts Grosz shows that not only are idealism and materialism inextricably linked but that this belonging together of the entirety of ideality and the entirety of materiality is not mediated or created by human consciousness Instead it is an ontological condition for the development of human consciousness Grosz draws from Spinoza's material and ideal concept of substance Nietzsche's amor fati Deleuze and Guattari's plane of immanence Simondon's preindividual and Raymond Ruyer's self survey or autoaffection to show that the world preexists the evolution of the human and that its material and incorporeal forces are the conditions for all forms of life human and nonhuman alike A masterwork by an eminent theoretician The Incorporeal offers profound new insight into the mind body problem A Shock to Thought Brian Massumi, 2005-07-05 A Shock to Thought brings together essays that explore Deleuze and Guattari's philosophy of expression in a number of contemporary contexts. It will be of interest to all those in philosophy, cultural studies and art theory. The volume also contains an interview with Guattari which clearly restates the aesthetic paradigm that organizes both his and Deleuze's work Books and Pamphlets, Including Serials and Contributions to Periodicals Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1968 Legal science, philosophy Jacques Havet, 2019-06-04 No detailed description available for Legal science philosophy Repatriation to France and Germany Matthias Walther, 2014-05-19 A significant amount of German and French career agents are involved with international careers. Applying Bourdieu's Theory of Practice, Matthias Walther compares the repatriation of German and French career agents into the external labor markets of their parent country career fields. A qualitative content analysis of 40 semi-structured interviews shows that the German and French career agents' career capital and habitus develops during expatriation, which has an important impact on the re-integration into the parent country career field. The Author shows that in an international career mobility context, the rules of the game change compared to the rules in a pure national career context, which challenges the pertinence of national career models in understanding repatriation in a Franco-German context.

The Logic of Practice Pierre Bourdieu, 1990 Our usual representations of the opposition between the civilized and the primitive derive from willfully ignoring the relationship of distance our social science sets up between the observer and the observed. In fact, the author argues, the relationship between the anthropologist and his object of study is a particular instance of the relationship between knowing and doing, interpreting and using, symbolic mastery and practical mastery, or between logical logic armed with all the accumulated instruments of objectification and the universally pre-logical logic of practice. In this his fullest statement of a theory of practice, Bourdieu both sets out what might be involved in incorporating one's own standpoint into an investigation and develops his understanding of the powers inherent in the second member of many oppositional pairs: that is, he explicates how the practical concerns of daily life condition the transmission and functioning of social or cultural forms. The first part of the book, Critique of Theoretical Reason, covers more general questions such as the objectivization of the generic relationship between social scientific observers and their objects of study, the need to overcome the gulf between subjectivism and objectivism, the interplay between structure and practice, a phenomenon Bourdieu describes via his concept of the habitus, the place of the body, the manipulation of time, varieties of symbolic capital and modes of domination. The second part of the book, Practical Logics, develops detailed case studies based on Bourdieu's ethnographic fieldwork in Algeria. These examples touch on kinship patterns, the social construction of domestic space, social categories of perception and classification, and ritualized actions and exchanges. This book develops in full detail the theoretical positions sketched in Bourdieu's Outline of a Theory of Practice. It will be especially useful to readers seeking to grasp the subtle concepts central to Bourdieu's theory to theorists interested in his points of departure from structuralism.

especially from Levi Strauss and to critics eager to understand what role his theory gives to human agency It also reveals Bourdieu to be an anthropological theorist of considerable originality and power

Jacques Lacan: Dialectic of Desire and Structure of the sensorial Perception Antonio Rainone, 2016-11-07 This book aims at outlining what the Dialectic of Desire is in Lacan Starting from the analysis of the concept of desire for desire I dwell on considering the function that the desire for the Other has in structuring both in the Logic of Fantasy or of Unconscious and in the way the phenomenical representation of the Real is established Moreover I examine how the classical aesthetic theory subjected to the Logic of Fantasy is taken back to an ethic of intersubjectivity and how within this step a topological redefinition of language and of the space of subjectivity is achieved

An Artificial History of Natural Intelligence David W. Bates, 2024-04-02 What would it mean to make a decision against the acceleration of automation and for humanity In An Artificial History of Natural Intelligence David W Bates lays the groundwork for such a decision by rethinking the history of human cognition and its entanglements with technology Tracing evolving lines of thought from the early modern period to the present Bates confronts the intimate connection between autonomy and automaticity in how we have understood the capacities of the human mind At the heart of this entanglement is a total mechanistic understanding of nature that began in the seventeenth century and saw the body as machine the nervous system as control mechanism and the brain as the center of cognition Reading varied thinkers from Descartes to Kant to Turing Bates reveals how new ideas and experiences reconfigured the ways in which the automaticity of the body could be linked with technical systems while at the same time the mind could still create the space for autonomy The result is a new theorization of the human in which the human dependent on technology produces itself as an artificial automation that has no natural origin

Deleuze and the Non/Human H. Stark, J. Roffe, 2015-04-23 This groundbreaking interdisciplinary collection interrogates the significance of Deleuze's work in the recent and dramatic nonhuman turn It confronts questions about environmental futures animals and plants nonhuman structures and systems and the place of objects in a more than human world

Adolf Portmann Filip Jaroš, Jiří Klouda, 2021-09-07 This edited volume is the first specialized book in English about the Swiss zoologist and anthropologist Adolf Portmann 1897-1982 It provides a clarification and update of Portmann's theoretical approach to the phenomenon of life characterized by terms such as inwardness and self presentation Portmann's concepts of secondary altriciality and the social uterus have become foundational in philosophical anthropology providing a benchmark of the difference between humans and animals In its content this book brings together two approaches historical and philosophical analysis of Portmann s studies in the life sciences and application of Portmann s thought in the fields of biology anthropology and biosemiotics Significant attention is also paid to the methodological implications of his intended reform of biology Besides contributions from contemporary biologists philosophers and historians of science this volume also includes a translation of an original essay by Portmann and a previously unpublished manuscript from his most remarkable English speaking interpreter philosopher Marjorie Grene Portmann s conception of life is unique in its focus on the phenomenal appearance of organisms Confronted with the enormous amount of scientific knowledge being produced today it is even clearer than it was during Portmann s lifetime that although biologists employ physical and chemical methods biology itself is not only physics and chemistry These exact methods must be applied according to what has meaning for living beings If biology seeks to understand organisms as autonomous agents it needs to take display and the interpretation of appearances as basic characteristics of life The topic of this book is significantly relevant to the disciplines of theoretical biology philosophy philosophical anthropology and biosemiotics The recent epigenetic turn in biology acknowledging the interconnections between organismal development morphology and communication presents an opportunity to revisit Portmann s work and to reconsider and update his primary ideas in the contemporary context

Modern Paradigms Ilie Gyurcsik,2017-05-30 The book addresses students and professors interested in comparative literature and the complex problematic of modernity postmodernity hermeneutics literary and cultural theory within the past few decades of the 20th century The author explores the works of Dostoyevsky Thomas Mann M Proust W Faulkner and Emil Cioran It is a welcome opportunity for the scholarly audience to familiarize themselves with contemporary Romanian literature and literary theory

Shared Habitats Ursula Damm,Mindaugas Gapsevicius,2021-05-10 The interactions between artistic technical scientific living and nonliving things have inspired new artistic approaches The contributors to this volume either relate to theoretical discourses raised by artworks show how young artists today approach cultural issues or develop situations of living together with other species All the contributions to this publication by writers artists technologies and other organisms invite the reader into new experiences and new imaginaries The reader is also invited to rethink the role of art and the role of the artist within umwelts milieus and habitats

Expanding the Category "Human" Patrick M. Whitehead,2017-12-20 The climate within the discipline of psychology has changed considerably since the middle of the twentieth century More specifically what it means to be a human has changed In Expanding the Category Human Nonhumanism Posthumanism and Humanistic Psychology Patrick M Whitehead argues that the metaphysical problems that psychologists faced sixty years ago are not the same ones they face today Humanistic psychologists could once choose to protect the integrity of human beings as well as to engage in open inquiry and accept all human beings but Whitehead contends that a choice between the two must now be made This book is recommended for scholars and practitioners of psychology and philosophy
