Paris 1961 Algerians State Terror And Memory:

Paris 1961 Jim House, Neil MacMaster, 2006-09-28 The massacre of Algerian demonstrators by the Paris police on the night of 17 October 1961 is one of the most contested events in contemporary French history This book provides a multi layered investigation of the repression through a critical examination of newly opened archives oral sources the press and contemporary political movements and debates The roots of violence are traced back to counter insurgency techniques developed by the French military in North Africa and introduced into Paris to crush the independence movement among Algerian migrant workers The study shows how and why this event was rapidly expunged from public visibility in France but was kept alive by immigrant and militant minorities to resurface in a dramatic form after the 1980s Through this case study the authors explore both the dynamics of state terror as well as the complex memorial processes by which these events continue to inform and shape post colonial society Multidirectional Memory Michael Rothberg, 2009-06-15

Multidirectional Memory brings together Holocaust studies and postcolonial studies for the first time to put forward a new theory of cultural memory and uncover an unacknowledged tradition of exchange between the legacies of genocide and colonialism The Algerian War in French/Algerian Writing Jonathan Lewis, 2018-10-05 This book will enlighten readers on the importance of literature in contributing to historical knowledge Will provide readers with comprehensive understanding of the development of writing by French authors of Algerian origin from its emergence in the 1980s to the present day Emphasizes the contemporary relevance of the Algerian War and the afterlives of empire on twenty first century society and culture Transnational French Studies Charles Forsdick, Claire Launchbury, 2023-10-01 The contributors to Transnational French Studies situate this disciplinary subfield of Modern Languages in actively transnational frameworks The key objective of the volume is to define the core set of skills and methodologies that constitute the study of French culture as a transnational transcultural and translingual phenomenon Written by leading scholars within the field chapters demonstrate the type of inquiry that can be pursued into the transnational realities both material and non material that are integral to what is referred to as French culture The book considers the transnational dimensions of being human in the world by focussing on four key practices which constitute the object of study for students of French language and multilingualism the construction of transcultural places and the corresponding sense of space the experience of time and transnational subjectivities The underlying premise of the volume is that the transnational is present and has long been present throughout what we define as French history and culture Chapters address instances and phenomena associated with the transnational from prehistory to the present opening up the geopolitical map of French studies beyond France and including sites where communities identified as French have formed A Divided Republic Emile Chabal, 2015-04-02 A bold interpretation of contemporary French political culture that uses current political debates to understand how the French engage with politics Decolonizing Memory Jill Jarvis, 2021-05-10 The magnitude of the legal violence exercised by the French to colonize and occupy Algeria 1830 1962 is such that only aesthetic works have been able to register its enduring effects In Decolonizing Memory Jill Jarvis examines the power of literature to provide what demographic data historical facts and legal trials have not in terms of attesting to and accounting for this destruction Taking up the unfinished work of decolonization since 1962 Algerian writers have played a crucial role in forging historical memory and nurturing political resistance their work helps to make possible what state violence has rendered almost unthinkable Drawing together readings of multilingual texts by Yamina Mechakra Waciny Laredj Zahia Rahmani Fadhma A th Mansour Amrouche Assia Djébar and Samira Negrouche alongside theoretical juridical visual and activist texts from both Algeria s national liberation war 1954 1962 and war on civilians 1988 1999 this book challenges temporal and geographical frameworks that have implicitly organized studies of cultural memory around Euro American reference points Jarvis shows how this literature rewrites history disputes state authority to arbitrate justice and cultivates a multilingual archive for imagining decolonized futures

Palimpsestic Memory Max Silverman, 2013-02-01 The interconnections between histories and memories of the Holocaust colonialism and extreme violence in post war French and Francophone fiction and film provide the central focus of this book It proposes a new model of palimpsestic memory which the author defines as the condensation of different spatio temporal traces to describe these interconnections and defines the poetics and the politics of this composite form In doing so it is argued that a poetics dependent on tropes and techniques such as metaphor allegory and montage establishes connections across space and time which oblige us to perceive cultural memory not in terms of its singular attachment to a particular event or bound to specific ethno cultural or national communities but as a dynamic process of transfer between different moments of racialized violence and between different cultural communities The structure of the book allows for both the theoretical elaboration of this paradigm for cultural memory and individual case studies of novels and films

Europeanising Spaces in Paris Hugh McDonnell, 2016-07-01 Europeanising Spaces in Paris c 1947 1962 examines the myriad urban political and cultural forms in which ideas of Europe and of what it meant to be European were represented in Paris in the post war era

Writing Postcolonial France Fiona Barclay, 2011-09-16 This book examines the way in which France has failed to come to terms with the end of its empire and is now haunted by the legacy of its colonial relationship with North Africa It examines the form assumed by the ghosts of the past in fiction from a range of genres travel writing detective fiction life writing historical fiction women's writing produced within metropolitan France and assesses whether moments of haunting may in fact open up possibilities for a renewed relational structure of cultural memory By viewing metropolitan France through the prism of its relationship with its former colonies in North Africa the book maps the complexities of contemporary France demonstrating an emerging postcoloniality within France itself Law, Order, and Empire Samuel Kalman, 2024-03-15 While much attention has focused on society culture and the military during the Algerian War of Independence Law Order and Empire addresses a vital component of the empire that has been overlooked policing Samuel Kalman examines a critical component of the construction and maintenance of a racial state by settlers in Algeria from 1870 onward in which Arabs and Berbers were subjected to an ongoing campaign of symbolic structural and physical violence The French administration encouraged this construct by expropriating resources and territory exploiting cheap labor and monopolizing government all through the use of force Kalman provides a comprehensive overview of policing and crime in French Algeria including the organizational challenges encountered by officers Unlike the metropolitan variant imperial policing was never a simple matter of law enforcement but instead engaged in the defense of racial hegemony and empire Officers and gendarmes waged a constant struggle against escalating banditry

the assault and murder of settlers and nationalist politics anticolonial violence that rejected French rule Thus policing became synonymous with repression and its brutal tactics foreshadowed the torture and murder used during the War of Independence To understand the mechanics of empire Kalman argues that it was the first line of defense for imperial hegemony Law Order and Empire outlines not only how failings in policing were responsible for decolonization in Algeria but also how torture massacres and quotidian colonial violence introduced from the very beginning of French policing in Algeria created state directed aggression from 1870 onward

France's Colonial Legacies Fiona Barclay, 2013-10-15 In an era of commemoration France's Colonial Legacies contributes to the debates taking place in France about the place of empire in the contemporary life of the nation debates that have been underway since the 1990s and that now reach across public life and society with manifestations in the French parliament media and universities France's empire and the gradual process of its loss is one of the defining narratives of the contemporary nation contributing to the construction of its image both on the international stage and at home While certain intellectuals present the imperial period as an historical irrelevance that ended in the years following the Second World War the contested legacies of France's colonies continue to influence the development of French society in the view of scholars of the postcolonial This volume surveys the memorial practices and discourses that are played out in a range of arenas drawing on the expertise of researchers working in the fields of politics media cultural studies literature and film to offer a wide ranging picture of remembrance in contemporary France
