Memories of May '68 Chris Reynolds, 2011-09-15 This book charts and analyses the emergence of the conventional representation of the French events of 1968 and argues that the dominance of this narrative despite its limitations stems from the convenience that such a consensus provides for those that have been pivotal in shaping the collective memory of this critical moment in recent history

Understanding Derrida, Understanding Modernism Jean-Michel Rabaté, 2019-05-30 This volume makes a significant contribution to both the study of Derrida and of modernist studies The contributors argue first that deconstruction is not modern neither is it postmodern nor simply modernist They also posit that deconstruction is intimately connected with literature not because deconstruction would be a literary way of doing philosophy but because literature stands out as a modern notion The contributors investigate the nature and depth of Derrida s affinities with writers such as Joyce Kafka Antonin Artaud Georges Bataille Paul Celan Maurice Blanchot Theodor Adorno Samuel Beckett and Walter Benjamin among others With its strong connection between philosophy and literary modernism this highly original volume advances modernist literary study and the relationship of literature and philosophy

Japan on the Jesuit Stage Haruka Oba, Akihiko Watanabe, Florian Schaffenrath, 2021-11-01 Japan on the Jesuit Stage offers a comprehensive overview of the representations of Japan in early modern European Neo Latin school theater The chapters in the volume catalog and analyze representative plays which were produced in the hundreds all over Europe from the Iberian Peninsula to present day Croatia and Poland Taking full account of existing scholarship but also introducing a large amount of previously unknown primary material the contributions by European and Japanese researchers significantly expand the horizon of investigation on early modern European theatrical reception of East Asian elements and will be of particular interest to students of global history Neo Latin and theater studies Métamorphoses Françoise Py,2006 Madame Pamplemousse and the Enchanted Sweet Shop Rupert Kingfisher,2010-09-06 Madeline is thrilled to make a new friend Madame Bonbon the owner of an enchanted sweet shop where the candies have magical powers unaware that she is actually a dangerous enemy from Madame Pamplemousse's past Isis ,1928 Brief table of contents of vols I XX in v 21 p 502 618 Coping with Homelessness Dragana Avramov,2018-12-17 First published in 1999 The phenomenon of homelessness is not new but it has only recently been perceived as a social problem in European Member States Even in the early 1990s little was known about the paths in and out of homelessness This volume presents the papers arising from EUROHOME Emergency and Transitory Housing for Homeless people Needs and Best Practices This project enabled a review of the state of knowledge in the field an analysis of recent trends and a discussion of the prospects for improvement in the prevention of homelessness and the public response to housing in Europe EUROHOME and this collection thus bring together experts in the study of L'imaginaire du secret Pierre Brunel,1998 Violence Michel Wieviorka,2009-01-28 Violence is sadly central to social life and yet oddly marginal to social theory It's there in the background not least as Weber defines the state by its monopoly of legitimate violence But as the example suggests it's the control of violence that looms large Michel Wieviorka does a considerable service by calling our attention to violence itself and to the theories like those of Sorel and Fanon who took it seriously Wieviorka addresses the state the media and social movements But perhaps his most important contributions come in examination of the ways in which violence informs and is informed by different dimensions of subjectivity Thoughtfully intertwining classical theory and contemporary observation this is an engaging book and one that should spark much new thought and research Craig Calhoun London School of Economics and Political Science Violence is an ever present phenomenon obstinately resistant to interpretation This text offers new tools to understand and analyze violence presenting a new approach based on the subjectivity of the actor and on the relation between violence and meaning The first section discusses violence and conflict violence and the state and violence and the media This provides critical context for developing a new paradigm in the second section that gives more importance to the concept of the subject than more classical paradigms The text distinguishes different possible relations between the meaning of action and violence and proposes a new typology of the subjects involved in violence It gives particular emphasis to discussing cruelty violence for violence sake and pure violence The relationship between conflict and violence the place of victims and the role of the media all shape new forms of violence This text is an engaged response to these new forms that presents a convincing interpretation and new tools that will be essential for researchers in the social sciences An Anthropology of Lying Sylvie Fainzang,2016-03-09 In the era of health democracy where a patient's right to be informed is not only widely advocated but also guaranteed by law what is the real situation regarding patient information Do patients receive the information that they request with regard to their diagnosis prognosis or treatments And what information do patients themselves give to their doctors Drawing on observational research in hospitals and covering the exchanges between doctors and patients on the subject of cancer treatment and that of other pathologies this book reveals that the practice of telling lies is widespread amongst parties on both sides of the medical relationship With attention to the manner in which information of various types is withheld and the truth concealed on either side of the doctor patient relationship the author explores the boundaries between what is said and what is left unsaid and between those who are given information and those who are lied to Considering the misunderstandings that occur in the course of medical exchanges and the differences between the lies told by doctors and patients An Anthropology of Lying Information in the Doctor Patient Relationship analyses the role of mendacity in the exercise of and resistance to power A fascinating study of the mechanisms at work and social conditions surrounding the accomplishment of lying in medical settings this book casts fresh light on a subject that has so far been overlooked As such it will appeal not only to sociologists and anthropologists of health and medicine but also to medical professionals

An Anthropology of Lying: Information in the Doctor-Patient Relationship Dr Sylvie Fainzang, 2015-05-28 With attention to the manner in which information of various types is withheld and the truth concealed on both sides of the doctor patient relationship the author explores the boundaries between what is said and what is left unsaid and between those who are given information and those who are lied to Considering the misunderstandings that occur in the course of medical exchanges and the differences between the lies told by doctors and patients An Anthropology of Lying Information in the Doctor Patient Relationship analyses the role of lies in the exercise of and resistance to power

Fascist Visions Matthew Affron, Mark Antliff, 2022-02-08 Bringing together studies by art historians historians and political scientists Fascist Visions explores the themes and paradigms that pervaded protofascist and fascist aesthetic discourse cultural policy and artistic production in France and Italy Whether traditionalist or innovative in idiom art functioned as the expression of fascism's ideological polarities nihilism and idealism modernism and antimodernism revolution and reaction This volume charts the unfolding of fascist aesthetics from its genesis in nationalist and antimaterialist ideologies before World War I to its full development during the interwar period and World War II It also highlights the shared motivations of advocates of fascist aesthetics including artists art critics political activists and government officials outside of Germany The eight essays in this book investigate the intersection of fascist ideology and aesthetics through a wide range of historical examples Topics include theories of cultural regeneration in Italy from the Risorgimento to fascism the impact of fascism upon the work of such artists and art critics as Ardengo Soffici Mario Sironi Valentine de Saint Point and Waldemar George the theories of modernist urbanism developed by Georges Valois's Faisceau and official sponsorship of painting and the decorative arts in Mussolini's Italy and in Vichy France The contributors to this volume include Walter Adamson Matthew Affron Mark Antliff Emily Braun Michèle Cone Emilio Gentile Nancy Locke and Marla Stone

The Crime of Destruction and the Law of Genocide Caroline Fournet, 2016-03-16 This highly original work provides a thought provoking and valuable resource for researchers and academics with an interest in genocide criminology international organizations and law and society In her book Caroline Fournet examines the law relating to genocide and explores the apparent failure of society to provide an adequate response to incidences of mass atrocity The work casts a legal perspective on this social phenomenon to show that genocide fails to be appropriately remembered due to inherent defects in the law of genocide itself The book thus connects the social response to the legal theory and practice and trials in particular Fournet s study illustrates the shortcomings of the Genocide Convention as a means of preventing and punishing genocide as well as its consequent failure to ensure the memory of this heinous crime
