society Drawing on texts by Balzac Flaubert Maupassant Zola and the Goncourt brothers the author examines contemporary constructions of women as reflected in the portrayal of the humble bonne tout faire from P re Grandet s pearl of a servant Grande Nanon to the sluts of Zola s Pot Bouille The book concludes with an analysis of relations between maid and mistress shown as governed sometimes by the laws of class difference but also in several of these texts by a profoundly felt feminine complicity Mémoires de M. le préfet de la Seine & de M. le préfet de police et procès-verbaux des délibérations Seine (France). Giving Life, Giving Death Lucien Scubla,2016-09-01 Although women alone have the ability to bring children into the world modern Western thought tends to discount this female prerogative In Giving Life Giving Death Lucien Scubla argues that structural anthropology sees women as objects of exchange that facilitate alliance building rather than as vectors of continuity between generations Examining the work of L vi Strauss Freud and Girard as well as ethnographic and clinical data Giving Life Giving Death seeks to explain why in constructing their master theories our greatest thinkers have consistently marginalized the cultural and biological fact of maternity In the spirit of Freud s Totem and Taboo Scubla constructs an anthropology that posits a common source for family and religion His wide ranging study explores how rituals unite violence and the sacred and intertwine the giving of death and the giving of life The Wild Girl, Natural Man, and the Monster Julia V. Douthwaite,2010-11-15 This study looks at the lives of the most famous wild children of eighteenth century Europe showing how they open a window onto European ideas about the potential and perfectibility of mankind Julia V Douthwaite recounts reports of feral children such as the wild girl of Champagne captured in 1731 and baptized as Marie Ang lique Leblanc offering a fascinating glimpse into beliefs about the difference between man and beast and the means once used to civilize the uncivilized A variety of educational experiments failed to tame these feral children by the standards of the day After telling their stories Douthwaite turns to literature that reflects on similar experiments to perfect human subjects Her examples range from utopian schemes for progressive childrearing to philosophical tales of animated statues from revolutionary theories of regenerated men to Gothic tales of scientists run amok Encompassing thinkers such as Rousseau Sade Defoe and Mary Shelley Douthwaite shows how the Enlightenment conceived of mankind as an infinitely malleable entity first with optimism then with apprehension Exposing the darker side of eighteenth century thought she demonstrates how advances in science gave rise to troubling ethical concerns as parents scientists and politicians tried to perfect mankind with disastrous results Reconstructing Woman Dorothy Kelly,2010-11 Reconstructing Woman explores a scenario common to the works of four major French novelists of the nineteenth century Balzac Flaubert Zola and Villiers In the texts of each author a new Pygmalion as Balzac calls one of his characters turns away from a real woman he has loved or desired and prefers instead his artificial re creation of her All four authors also portray the possibility that this simulacrum which replaces the woman could become real The central chapters examine this plot and its meanings in multiple texts of each author with the exception of the chapter on Villiers in which only L'Eve future is considered The premise is that this shared scenario stems from the discovery in the nineteenth century that humans are transformable Because scientific innovations play a major part in this discovery Dorothy Kelly reviews some of the contributing trends that attracted one or more of the authors mesmerism dissection transformism and evolution new understandings of human reproduction spontaneous generation puericulture the experimental method These ideas and practices provided the novelists with a scientific context in which controlling changing and creating human bodies became imaginable At the same time these authors explore the ways in which not only bodies but also identity can be made In close readings Kelly shows how these narratives reveal that linguistic and coded social structures shape human identity Furthermore through the representation of the power of language to do that shaping the authors envision that their own texts would perform that function The symbol of the reconstruction of woman thus embodies the fantasy and desire that their novels could create or transform both reality and their readers in quite literal ways Through literary analyses we can deduce from the texts just why this artificial creation is a woman
