New Media In Art World Of Art:

New Media in Art Michael Rush, 2005 Presents an overview of the use of new intellectual and scientific technologies in modern art discussing the creations of such influential artists as Eadweard Muybridge Robert Rauschenberg and Bill Viola and incorporating into the latest edition coverage of new developments in digital work Original New Media in the White Cube and Beyond Christiane Paul, 2008 New Media in the White Cube and Beyond perceptively addresses the challenges inherent in the digital arts The book will be a great asset to the study and practice of presenting media art for many years to come Barbara London curator Museum of Modern Art New York Provocative and original New Media in the White Cube and Beyond represents an important contribution to the fields of new media museum studies and contemporary art Alexander Alberro author of Conceptual Art and the Politics of Publicity Art Practice in a Digital Culture Hazel Gardiner, Charlie Gere, 2016-04-15 Much as art history is in the process of being transformed by new information communication technologies often in ways that are either disavowed or resisted art practice is also being changed by those same technologies One of the most obvious symptoms of this change is the increasing numbers of artists working in universities and having their work facilitated and supported by the funding and infrastructural resources that such institutions offer This new paradigm of art as research is likely to have a profound effect on how we understand the role of the artist and of art practice in society In this unique book artists art historians art theorists and curators of new media reflect on the idea of art as research and how it has changed practice Intrinsic to the volume is an investigation of the advances in creative practice made possible via artists engaging directly with technology or via collaborative partnerships between practitioners and technological experts ranging through a broad spectrum of advanced methods from robotics through rapid prototyping to the biological sciences

Multidisciplinary Perspectives on New Media Art Soares, Celia, Simão, Emília, 2020-06-26 New media has been gaining importance in the academic world as well as the artistic world through the concept of new media art As the connections between art and communication technologies grow and further embrace a wide range of concepts interpretations and applications the number of disciplines that will be touched will likewise continue to expand Multidisciplinary Perspectives on New Media Art is a collection of innovative research on the methods and intersections between new media artistic practices and digital technologies While highlighting topics including audience relationship digital art and computer animation this book is ideally designed for academicians researchers high level art students and art professionals New Collecting: Exhibiting and Audiences after New Media Art Beryl Graham, 2016-04-29 The collections of museums galleries and online art organisations are increasingly broadening to include more new media art Because new media is used as a means of documenting archiving and distributing art and because new media art might be interactive with its audiences this highlights the new kinds of relationships that might occur between audiences as viewers participants selectors taggers or taxonomisers New media art presents many challenges to the curator and collector but there is very little published analytical material available to help meet those challenges This book fills that gap Drawing from the editor's extensive research and the authors' expertise in the field the book provides clear navigation through a disparate arena The authors offer examples from a wide geographical reach including the UK North America and Asia and integrate the consideration of audience response into all aspects of their work The book will be essential reading for those studying or practicing in new media curating or museums and galleries

Confronting the Machine Boris Magrini, 2017-03-20 Artists who work with new media generally adopt a critical media approach in contrast to artists who work with traditional art media Where does the difference lie between media artists and artists who produce modern art Which key art objects illustrate this trend The author investigates the relationship between art and technology on the basis of work produced by Edward Ihnatowicz and Harald Cohen and on the basis of the pioneering computer art exhibition at Documenta X in 1997 His line of argument counters the generally held view that computer art straddles the gap between art and technology Instead he is seeking a genuine interpretation of the origin of media art and to develop new perspectives for it

Museums on the Web Karin de Wild, Nadezhda Povroznik, 2025-03-11 This book gathers insights from leading experts to explore the field of virtual museums It delves into pioneering initiatives from the past deepens our understanding of current museum practices on the Web and examines emerging possibilities for future developments The first virtual museums appeared on the World Wide Web in the early 1990s today digital collections and online activities are integral to museum practice In a remarkably short time online technologies have transformed how museums manage collections design exhibitions and interact with audiences As the digital landscape evolves with advancements like AI and the Semantic Web museums will continue to face new challenges How did we reach this point This book examines the legacies and rapid advancements of virtual museums to provide a deeper understanding of and better leverage for digital technologies This insightful volume is intended for scholars museum professionals and anyone interested in the digital transformation of museums It was originally published as a special issue of the journal Internet Histories
