Complex Systems and Sustainability in the Global Auditing, Consulting, and Credit Rating Agency Industries Nwogugu, Michael I. C., 2021-05-07 Current and future issues in the global accounting consulting business opportunity and credit rating agency CRA industries can have significant multiplier effects on international trade sustainable growth and compliance as physical phenomena These three industries are among the most international and human capital intensive of all service industries In these industries analysis of business models and industry dynamics can provide insights about how human computer interaction HCI and contract theory affect the evolution of financial market ecosystems and cross border information flows and how business models work allocation mechanisms and liability allocation can evolve to manage change An often overlooked issue is that non performing loans NPLs sustainability and CRA efficiency can be significantly affected by business processes corporate strategy and HCI in industry ecosystems multinational corporations MNCs and economic systems

Complex Systems and Sustainability in the Global Auditing Consulting and Credit Rating Agency Industries compares these three industries and introduces theories of public policy and inter business processes The book links industry structure complex systems including networks behavioral game theory structural changes and antitrust problems to sustainability and the efficiency of pollution remediation systems The book introduces new informal algorithms and business resource allocation models that solve social choice problems and also contravene impossibility theorems that are at the core of modern computer science and mechanism design This book is essential for professors and masters PhD level students and employees in industry financial services research institutes consulting firms and government agencies who are interested in industrial mathematics and theoretical computer science

Credit Rating Agencies Mohammed Hemraj, 2015-06-22 The book examines the role of credit rating agencies CRAs in the subprime mortgage crisis The CRAs are blamed for awarding risky securities 3 A investment grade status and then failing to downgrade them quickly enough when circumstances changed which led to investors suffering substantial losses The causes identified by the regulators for the gatekeeper failure were conflicts of interest as the issuers of these securities pay for the ratings lack of competition as the Big Three CRAs have dominated the market share and lack of regulation for CRAs The book examines how the regulators both in the US and EU have sought to address these problems by introducing soft law self regulation in accordance with the International Organisation of Securities Commissions Code and hard law statutory regulation such as that found in the Reform Act and Dodd Frank Act in the US and similar provisions in the EU The highly topical book examines these provisions in detail by using a doctrinal black letter law method to assess the success of the regulators in redressing the problems identified It also examines the US case law regulation relating to the legal liability of CRAs The book examines whether the regulations introduced have had a deterrent effect on the actions of CRAs whether investors are compensated for their losses and how the regulators have dealt with the issues of conflicts of interest and an anti competitive environment Should liability be introduced for CRAs through changes in the law so as to compel them to issue reliable ratings and solve the current problems The book seeks to simplify the complex issues involved and is backed by concrete evidence as such it will appeal to both the well informed and the lay general public who are interested in learning more about the role of CRAs in the sub prime mortgage crisis and regulators attempts to remedy the situation Novice readers can familiarise themselves with the legal and financial terminology used by referring to the glossary at the end of the book
