officials and active media practitioners Media Law in the time of liquid modernity Jacek Sobczak, Jędrzej Skrzypczak, Ksenia Kakareko, 2017 Political and social changes that took place at the turn of the 20th and 21st centuries and additionally technological revolution and the process of digitalisation have resulted in significant social economic and legal transformations Then it can be even said metaphorically that together with the development of the Internet we discovered a new continent Colonization of this area resembles conquering new areas in times of great geographical discoveries At first power and violence were prevailing and only later people tried to introduce effective methods of law enforcement Nowadays the next problem is the non territoriality of phenomena on the Internet From the point of view of legal actions it is generally limited to a legal system of a given country and seems to be a fundamental issue As it appears law and legal systems do not handle the challenges of global space and it is rather a gunslinger's speed that turns out to be essential here However it should be hoped that with time as in the case of the real world experience power will be replaced with powerful arguments based on effective legal mechanisms in particular All the more so as these changes happen very rapidly Thus referring to the known concept of liquid modernity by Zygmunt Bauman it can also be said that by regulating the media subject in the field of law to fundamental changes we are confronted with the uncertainty of legal institutions concerning this part of social life Hence we should return to the basics and again pose fundamental questions about media law such as for instance what should the press radio television be called and who can be treated as a journalist Additionally we should face new legal phenomena and challenges The collective work we are passing to the readers is an attempt to analyse the current state and present a forecast about further changes as well as answers to at least several questions posed above Being aware of the fact that it is impossible to deal with or even settle all the aforementioned problems in such a study the editors hope that thanks to reviews and deliberations of the authors the book will significantly contribute to the discussion on media law in the 21st century The authors of individual chapters of this book are researchers from various Polish scientific institutions and members of the Polish PressLawAssociation European and International Media Law Jan Oster, 2017 This unique textbook offers a comprehensive overview of European and international media law and how globalised communication has shaped it Routledge Handbook of Media Law Monroe E. Price, Stefaan G. Verhulst, Libby Morgan, 2013 Featuring specially commissioned chapters from experts in the field of media and communications law this book provides an authoritative survey of media law from a comparative perspective The handbook does not simply offer a synopsis of the state of affairs in media law jurisprudence rather it provides a better understanding of the forces that generate media rules norms and standards against the background of major transformations in the way information is mediated as a result of democratization economic development cultural change globalization and technological innovation The book addresses a range of issues including Media Law and Evolving Concepts of Democracy Network neutrality and traffic management Public Service Broadcasting in Europe Interception of Communication and Surveillance in Russia State secrets leaks and the media

A variety of rule making institutions are considered including administrative and judicial entities within and outside government but also entities such as associations and corporations that generate binding rules The book assesses the emerging role of supranational economic and political groupings as well as non Western models such as China and India where cultural attitudes toward media freedoms are often very different Monroe E Price is Director of the Center for Global Communication Studies at the Annenberg School for the University of Pennsylvania and Joseph and Sadie Danciger Professor of Law and Director of the Howard M Squadron Program in Law Media and Society at the Cardozo School of Law Stefaan Verhulst is Chief of Research at the Markle Foundation Previously he was the co founder and co director with Professor Monroe Price of the Programme in Comparative Media Law and Policy PCMLP at Oxford University as well as senior research fellow at the Centre for Socio Legal Studies Libby Morgan is the Associate Director of the Center for Global Communication Studies at the Annenberg School for the University of Pennsylvania
