Racism in American Popular Media Brian D. Behnken, Gregory D. Smithers, 2015-03-24 This book examines how the media including advertising motion pictures cartoons and popular fiction has used racist images and stereotypes as marketing tools that malign and debase African Americans Latinos American Indians and Asian Americans in the United States Were there damaging racist depictions in Gone with the Wind and children's cartoons such as Tom and Jerry and Mickey Mouse How did widely known stereotypes of the Latin lover the lazy Latino the noble savage and the violent warrior American Indian and the Asian as either a martial artist or immoral and tricky come about This book utilizes an ethnic and racial comparative approach to examine the racism evidenced in multiple forms of popular media enabling readers to apply their critical thinking skills to compare and analyze stereotypes grasp the often subtle sources of racism in the everyday world around us and understand how racism in the media was used to unite white Americans and exclude ethnic people from the body politic of the United States Authors Brian D Behnken and Gregory D Smithers examine the popular media from the late 19th century through the 20th century to the early 21st century This broad coverage enables readers to see how depictions of people of color such as Aunt Jemima have been consistently stereotyped back to the 1880s and to grasp how those depictions have changed over time The book's chapters explore racism in the popular fiction advertising motion pictures and cartoons of the United States and examine the multiple groups affected by this racism including African Americans Latino as Asian Americans and American Indians Attention is also paid to the efforts of minorities particularly civil rights activists in challenging and combating racism in the popular media

Critical Animal and Media Studies Núria Almiron, Matthew Cole, Carrie P. Freeman, 2015-10-14 This book aims to put the speciesism debate and the treatment of non human animals on the agenda of critical media studies and to put media studies on the agenda of animal ethics researchers Contributors examine the convergence of media and animal ethics from theoretical philosophical discursive social constructionist and political economic perspectives The book is divided into three sections foundations representation and responsibility outlining the different disciplinary approaches application to media studies and covering how non human animals and the relationship between humans and non humans are represented by the mass media concluding with suggestions for how the media as a major producer of cultural norms and values related to non human animals and how we treat them might improve such representations

The Routledge Companion to Media and Race Christopher Campbell, 2016-11-03 The Routledge Companion to Media and Race serves as a comprehensive guide for scholars students and media professionals who seek to understand the key debates about the impact of media messages on racial attitudes and understanding Broad in scope and richly presented from a diversity of perspectives the book is divided into three sections first it summarizes the theoretical approaches that scholars have adopted to analyze the complexities of media messages about race and ethnicity from the notion of representation to more recent concepts like Critical Race Theory Second the book reviews studies related to a variety of media including film television print media social media music and video games Finally contributors present a broad summary of media issues related to specific races and ethnicities and describe the relationship of the study of race to the study of gender and sexuality Chapters 1 3 and 11 of this book re freely available as downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Mental Illness in Popular Media Lawrence C. Rubin,2014-01-10 Whether in movies cartoons commercials or even fast food marketing psychology and mental illness remain pervasive in popular culture In this collection of new essays scholars from a range of fields explore representations of mental illness and disabilities across various media of popular culture Contributors address how forms of psychiatric disorder have been addressed in film on stage and in literature how popular culture genres are utilized to communicate often confusing and conflicted relationships with the mentally ill and how popular cultures around the world reflect mental illness and disability Analyses of sources as disparate as the Batman films Broadway musicals and Nigerian home movies reveal how definitions of mental illness mental health and of psychology itself intersect with discourses on race gender law capitalism and globalization Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here The Supervillain Reader Robert Moses Peaslee,Robert G. Like an Animal: Critical Animal Studies Approaches to Borders, Displacement, and Othering, 2021-06-17 The contributors of Like an Animal challenge most fundamental concepts in the fields of racism dehumanization borders displacement and refugees that rest on the assumption of humanism They show how we can bend the arc of the moral universe toward justice at the border The goal of this interdisciplinary collection is twofold First to invite border migration studies to consider a broader social justice perspective that includes nonhuman animals Second to start a discussion if nonhumans maybe refugees of a kind and how humans can address nonhumans interests and needs from the perspective of addressing refugee issues As capitalism and the climate crisis are taking a catastrophic toll on the planet this timely volume exposes the alternative origins of violence that lie at the heart of the planet's destruction

Indigeneity in Latin American Cinema Milton Fernando Gonzalez Rodriguez, 2022-07-28 Indigeneity in Latin American Cinema explores how contemporary films 2000-2020 participate in the evolution and circulation of images and sounds that in many ways define how indigenous communities are imagined at a local, regional, and global scale. The volume reviews the diversity of portrayals from a chronological, geopolitical, linguistic, epistemic, ontological, transnational, and intersectional paradigm-changing and self-representational perspective, allocating one chapter to each theme. The corpus of this study consists of 68 fictional features directed by non-indigenous filmmakers, 31 cinematic works produced by indigenous directors, communities, and 22 Cine Regional Regional Cinema films. The book also draws upon a significant number of engravings, drawings, paintings, photographs, and films produced between 1493 and 2000 as primary sources for the historical review of the visual representations of indigeneity. Through content and close textual analysis, interviews with audiences, surveys, and social media posts analysis, the author looks at the contexts in which Latin American films circulate in international festivals and the paradigm shifts introduced by self-representational cinema. Roma, Mexico, 2018. Conclusively, the author provides the foundations of histrionic indigeneity, a theory that explains how overtly histrionic proclivities play a significant role in depictions of an imagined indigenous Other in recent films.

Feminists, Feminisms, and Advertising Kim Golombisky, Peggy J. Kreshel, 2017-10-16 Women and advertising are both globally ubiquitous. Yet advertising remains one of the most unabashedly misogynist, heterosexist, and racist industries. This edited volume of original unpublished chapters is the first ever to offer explicitly feminist views on advertising. Feminists, Feminisms, and Advertising provides feminist analyses of the historical relationships between the advertising industry and the women's movement in the United States. Contributors consider the ways that advertisers encode race, ethnicity, gender, and heteronormativity into advertising practices and messages exported around the world. They further explore the ways that intersectional audiences such as women of color, Latinas, and lesbian and gay audiences decode, reinterpret, resist, and subvert advertising. With this book, the editors and contributors address the present lack of feminist scholarship, research, knowledge, or curriculum in advertising and begin a more honest dialogue about diversity and intersectional gender in the advertising academy, as well as the advertising industry.

Sisterhood, Science and Surveillance in Orphan Black Janet Brennan Croft, Alyson R. Buckman, 2019-10-30 The BBC America series Orphan Black (2013-2017) won acclaim for its compelling writing, resonant themes, and innovative special effects. And for the bravura acting of Tatiana Maslany, who plays an ever-growing number of clones drawn into an increasingly dangerous world of cutting-edge science, corporate espionage, military secrets, and religious fanaticism. Heir to pioneering shows centered on strong female characters such as Buffy the Vampire Slayer, Dollhouse, Lost, and Xena Warrior Princess, Orphan Black models the current Golden Age of serial form storytelling with themes of identity, bodily autonomy, gender, and sexuality playing against corporate greed and its co-opting of science. This collection of new essays analyzes the diverse clone characters and the series covering topics including motherhood surveillance culture mythology eugenics and special effects as well as the science behind cloning Colonial Advertising & Commodity Racism Wulf D.

Hund, Michael Pickering, 2013 Colonial Advertising Commodity Racism is the latest volume in LIT Verlag's series Racism Analysis Series B Yearbooks This series explores racial discrimination in all its varying historical ideological and cultural patterns It examines the invention of race and the dimensions of modern racism and it inquires into racism avant la lettre Racism Analysis brings together scholars from various disciplines and schools of thought with the key aim of contributing to the conceptualization of racism and to identify the practices of dehumanization that are intrinsic to it The contents of Colonial Advertising Commodity Racism include Advertising White Supremacy Capitalism Colonialism and Commodity Racism Come and Join the Freedom Lovers Race Appropriation and Resistance in Advertising Buffalo Bill's Wild West The Racialization of the Cosmopolitan Imagination Fun Without Vulgarity Commodity Racism and the Promotion of Blackface Fantasies From Oecumene to Trademark The Symbolism of the Moor in the Occident Bittersweet Temptations Race and the Advertising of Cocoa The German Alternative Nationalism and Racism in Afri Cola Series Racism Analysis Series B Yearbooks Vol 4 Fortress Commentary on the Bible Matthew J. M. Coomber, Hugh R. Page Jr., Gale A. Yee, 2015-04-01 The Fortress Commentary on the Bible Old Testament and Apocrypha presents a balanced synthesis of current scholarship enabling readers to interpret Scripture for a complex and pluralistic world The contributors bring a rich diversity of perspectives to the task of connecting solid historical critical analysis of the Scripture with sensitivity to theological cultural and interpretive issues arising in our encounter with the text The contributors represent a broad array of theological commitment Protestants Catholics Jews and others The introductory articles and section introductions in the volume discuss the dramatic challenges that have shaped contemporary interpretation of the Old Testament and Apocrypha Individual book articles provide an introduction and commentary on key sense units that are explored through the lenses of three critical questions The text in its ancient context What did the text probably mean in its original historical and cultural context The text in the interpretive tradition How have centuries of reading and interpreting shaped our understanding of the text The text in contemporary discussion What are the unique challenges and interpretive questions that arise for readers and hearers of the text today The result is a commentary that is comprehensive and useful for preaching teaching and research
