,1928 Belonging and Estrangement in the Poetry of Philip Larkin, R.S. Thomas and Charles Causley Rory Waterman,2016-04-22 Focusing on the significance of place connection and relationship in three poets who are seldom considered in conjunction Rory Waterman argues that Philip Larkin R S Thomas and Charles Causley epitomize many of the emotional and societal shifts and mores of their age Waterman looks at the foundations underpinning their poetry the attempts of all three to forge a sense of belonging with or separateness from their readers the poets varying responses to their geographical and cultural origins the belonging and estrangement that inheres in relationships including marriage the forced estrangements of war the antagonism between social belonging and a need for isolation and finally the charged issues of faith and mortality in an increasingly secularized country The Practice of Criticism D. H. Rawlinson,1968-11-01

Many people associate practical criticism with a short sighted brand of literary analysis which kills a student's interest in literature by drilling him to concentrate narrowly on verbal detail Handled properly however practical criticism can play a vital part in a literature course especially in the crucial stages in the last years at schools or first university year when many students are coming to literature seriously for the first time This 1968 book is a useful introduction to practical criticism for students It offers an impressive range of closely analysed passages and exercises in prose and verse Mr Rawlinson considers the problems of the beginner and discussed the mistakes and misconceptions that sometimes spoil practical criticism courses. In his general discussion of topics such as rhythm, tone and imagery, the author is careful not to be too abstract throughout. The book precept is reinforced by example: theory by practice.

Notes and Queries: a Medium of Inter-communication for Literary Men, Artists, Antiquaries, Genealogists, Etc, 1895. The Figure of the Shaman in Contemporary British Poetry Shamsad Mortuza, 2014-08-11. This genealogical study focuses on the work of five contemporary British poets in order to locate them in a counter-cultural tradition that is informed by strategic responses to state terrorism. It identifies some historical moments of ruptures such as the persecution of the Celtic druids by the Romans, the killing of the Welsh bards by Edward I, the appropriation of bardic materials by Romantic poets writing in a post-French Revolution era and the beatnik response to a post-World War bipolar world in order to contextualise and discuss the poets of British Poetry Revival writing under Thatcherism. Drawing on Mircea Eliade's notion of shamanism as archaic techniques of ecstasy, these poets have transformed Eliade's version of the shaman's elective trauma and enacted a critical rejection of totalitarian tools of the state and society. Categorised as the Technicians of the Sacred and the Technicians of the Body, these shamanic poets include Iain Sinclair, Jeremy Prynne, Brian Catling, Barry MacSweeney and Maggie O'Sullivan. Their poetic strategy is not a New Age fad; it rather investigates and inventories the hidden energies of past and present to wrest spirituality away from the confines of religion and politics while embodying it in textual praxis.
