Franny and Zooey J. D. Salinger, 2019-08-13 Perhaps the best book by the foremost stylist of his generation New York Times J D Salinger's Franny and Zooey collects two works of fiction about the Glass family originally published in The New Yorker Everything everybody does is so I don't know not wrong or even mean or even stupid necessarily But just so tiny and meaningless and sad making And the worst part is if you go bohemian or something crazy like that you're conforming just as much only in a different way A novel in two halves Franny and Zooey brilliantly captures the emotional strains and traumas of entering adulthood It is a gleaming example of the wit precision and poignancy that have made J D Salinger one of America's most beloved writers

My Heart is an Autumn Garage Anne Thériault, 2015-10-12 A raw smart and darkly funny memoir My Heart Is An Autumn Garage unapologetically chronicles a lifelong struggle with clinical depression Anne Thériault neatly lays bare her heart unsparingly detailing the naked self-loathing and self-destructive behaviors that led to her breakdown and subsequent hospitalization at the age of twenty-one Both an examination of the frightening and deeply dehumanizing treatment of psychiatric patients and a wry coming-of-age story this book deftly explores the knife's edge between despair and hope

A Writer's Life Gay Talese, 2007-07-10 The inner workings of a writer's life the interplay between experience and writing are brilliantly recounted by a master of the art Gay Talese now focuses on his own life the zeal for the truth the narrative edge the sometimes startling precision that won accolades for his journalism and best-sellerdom and acclaim for his revelatory books about The New York Times The Kingdom and The Power the Mafia Honor Thy Father the sex industry Thy Neighbor's Wife and focusing on his own family the American immigrant experience Unto the Sons How has Talese found his subjects What has stimulated blocked or inspired his writing Here are his amateur beginnings on his college newspaper his professional climb at The New York Times his desire to write on a larger canvas which led him to magazine writing at Esquire and then to books We see his involvement with issues of race from his student days in the Deep South to a recent interracial wedding in Selma Alabama where he once covered the fierce struggle for civil rights Here are his reflections on the changing American sexual mores he has written about over the last fifty years and a striking look at the lives and their meaning of Lorena and John Bobbitt He takes us behind the scenes of his legendary profile of Frank Sinatra his writings about Joe DiMaggio and heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and his interview with the head of a Mafia family But he is at his most poignant in talking about the ordinary men and women whose stories led to his most memorable work In remarkable fashion he traces the history of a single restaurant location in New York creating an ethnic mosaic of one restaurateur after the other whose dreams were dashed while a successor's were born And as he delves into the life of a young female Chinese soccer player we see his consuming interest in the world in its latest manifestation In these and other recollections and stories Talese gives us a fascinating picture of both the serendipity and meticulousness involved in getting a story He makes clear that every one of us represents a good one if a writer has the curiosity to know it the diligence to pursue it and the desire to get it right Candid humorous deeply impassioned a dazzling book about the nature of writing in one man s life and of writing itself

Why I Didn't Kill My Former In-Law Marge Gleason, 2015-11-05 Why I Didn't Kill My Former In Law This story is based on true events It is the unimaginable horror of what happened to Marge Gleason left with haunting memories of her mother's death and her former in law who continued to make millions by conning the legal system and getting away with it because of her close relatives who are judges in a small town They have a delicious plan to rip off Marge of what was rightfully hers left by her mother in her Will A few hours after the passing of Marge's mother the former in law and two of her children robbed Marge's mother's home where they discovered a hidden fortune left to Marge by her mother This was Marge's money But they stole the documents as proof in order for Marge to fight what was legally hers None of them ever hesitated about having Marge knocked off Marge had no doubt they would do what they have threatened and the chaos was just the beginning But Marge refused to live like a prisoner given the circumstances or the disturbing effect they had on her The former in law was determined to be in control of Marge's mother's Will through the power of her relatives sitting on the bench in the law of justice Marge did not become the angry woman who takes the law into her own hands Instead she followed the law of righteousness and did not kill her former in law even though she was constantly tempted every day Marge learned the hard way how to control her emotions This took every ounce of personal discipline even as she was being stalked daily for months at a time by an evil violent unpredictable sociopath known as the former in law that tried to murder Marge and would have murdered her for her mother's estate Even though Marge found it hard to contain her fright at the thought of being eaten alive she continued to live her life as she prayed for protection every night from a money hungry terrifying nasty former in law who lives without a conscience and her only thoughts are Money is my God All the Names have been Changed until the Guilty are Exposed At the end of the book there is a Self Help chapter which includes Don't Let this Happen to You How to Protect yourself as a Rightful Heir

Garage Sale Edward Fisher, 2017-02-20 Garage Sale is a collection of odds and ends a recollection of summer afternoons on his great grandparents farm in the back hills of West Virginia Among the memorabilia of his boyhood is an assortment of evenings on the earth like keepsakes accumulating in an old shoe box the stuff of our lives and such stuff as dreams are made of set against a backdrop of the stardust in a universe full of holes Finding meaning here requires an awakening to what is truly human in us learning how to lend the helping hand and healing embrace of friendship and love and feeling a kind of kinship with even the lowliest of creatures A blend of narrative and lyric part reminiscence part foreboding these poems are like an old dusty ledger recording the images of a lost world In a bottom line culture that only holds sacred the value of money this poet's toolbox reclaims the language of things left unsaid the unspoken wisdom hidden in the urge to give everything away and join in the dance of dying stars where we are only trespassers on the holiness of light
