The Manaslu Adventure Mark Horrell,2012-03-15 The mountain gods were protective of Manaslu a two pronged peak in the Nepal Himalaya and one of the world's fourteen 8 000m peaks Many years ago a Japanese team tried to climb it but the gods had sent an avalanche in their wake which destroyed a monastery and set the local people against them When they returned the next year they were met with sticks and stones stripped naked and sent home with red cheeks Mark Horrell and his two friends Mark and Ian shared a dream to climb an 8 000m peak but it seemed the gods were against them too They had made no fewer than eight attempts without success though they had managed to return with their clothes on With towering ice walls monsoon rainstorms arm twisting crevasses and most dangerous of all welcoming teahouses ready to entrap them would it be different this time Exile in Global Literature and Culture Asher Z. Milbauer, James Sutton, 2020-06-10

Prompted by centuries of warfare political oppression natural disasters and economic collapses exile has had an enormous impact not only on individuals who have undergone transplantation from one culture to another but also on the host societies they have joined and those worlds they have left behind Written by prominent literary critics creative authors and artists the essays gathered within Exile in Global Literature and Culture Homes Found and Lost meditate upon the painful journeys geographic spiritual emotional psychological brought about due to exilic rupture loss and dislocation Yet exile also fosters potential pleasures and rewards to extend scholar Martin Tucker's formulation wherever the exile might land in flight he bears with him the sweetness of survival the triumph of transcendence the luxury of liminality and the invitation to innovate and invent in new lands Indeed exile embodies both blessing and curse homes found and lost Furthermore this book adheres to and tests the premise that exile's deepest and innermost currents are manifested through writing and other artistic forms
