Myanmar Law Free:

Myanmar's Digital Coup Nicholas Coppel, Lennon Y.C. Chang, 2024-07-23 This book analyses how technologies have been used by both the military junta and resistance movement in Myanmar's digital coup to control information and the transfer of funds and to pursue accountability They have been used to pressure and mobilise external actors and the book critically assesses international responses ranging from the United Nations ASEAN individual countries activist groups donors and international businesses Contact with the military has been criticised as recognising and legitimising the regime and individual firms have come under pressure to exit The authors argue that the National Unity Government overestimates the significance of foreign recognition and activists overestimate the influence of international responses on military behaviour They suggest external actors change from judging and excoriating the responses of the international community and focus on how foreign governments businesses or organisations can support and strengthen Myanmar society If change in Myanmar is to come it will be those that have remained not those that have left that will bring it about

Myanmar's Rohingya Genocide Ronan Lee, 2021-01-28 The genocide in Myanmar has drawn global attention as Nobel Peace Prize laureate Aung San Suu Kyi appears to be presiding over human rights violations forced migrations and extra judicial killings on an enormous scale This unique study draws on thousands of hours of interviews and testimony from the Rohingya themselves to assess and outline the full scale of the disaster Casting new light on Rohingya identity history and culture this will be an essential contribution to the study of the Rohingya people and to the study of the early stages of genocide This book adds convincingly to the body of evidence that the government of Myanmar has enabled a genocide in Rakhine State and the surrounding areas

Myanmar Media in Transition Lisa Broten, Jane Madlyn McElhone, Gayathri Venkiteswaran, 2019-05-13 Myanmar Media in Transition Legacies Challenges and Change is the first volume to overview the country's contemporary media landscape providing a critical assessment of the sector during the complex and controversial political transition Moving beyond the focus on journalism and freedom of the press that characterizes many media focused volumes Myanmar Media in Transition also explores developments in fiction filmmaking social movement media and social media Documenting changes from both academic and practitioner perspectives the twenty one chapters reinforce the volume's theoretical arguments by providing on the ground factual and experiential data intended to open useful dialogue between key stakeholders in the media government and civil society sectors Providing an overview of media studies in the country Myanmar Media in Transition addresses current challenges such as the use of social media in spreading hate speech and the shifting boundaries of free expression by placing them within Myanmar's broader historic social political and economic context

Invalidity Mindy Chen-Wishart, Alexander Loke, Stefan Vogenauer, Hiroo Sono, Burton Ong, 2022 The Studies in the Contract Laws of Asia series charts the divergence in and common principles of contract laws across Asia with a view to providing the scholarly foundations for future harmonization and reform This fourth volume deals with factors affecting the validity of contracts Cyber Law and Ethics Mark Grabowski, Eric P. Robinson, 2021-07-12 A primer on legal issues relating to cyberspace this textbook introduces business policy and ethical considerations raised by our use of information technology With a focus on the most significant issues impacting internet users and businesses in the United States of America the book provides coverage of key topics such as social media online privacy artificial intelligence and cybercrime as well as emerging themes such as doxing ransomware revenge porn data mining e sports and fake news The authors experienced in journalism technology and legal practice provide readers with expert insights into the nuts and bolts of cyber law Cyber Law and Ethics Regulation of the Connected World provides a practical presentation of legal principles and is essential reading for non specialist students dealing with the intersection of the internet and the law Justifying Digital Repression via "Fighting Fake News" SOC052000, Dien Nguyen An Luong, 2022-08-04 Southeast Asian autocracies of Cambodia Myanmar Thailand and Vietnam have politicized vague definitions of fake news to justify diverse tactics of digital repression In these countries what constitutes falseness in fake news has hardly been clearly articulated The governments instead focus on the grave threats the dissemination of fake news could pose to national security public disorder or national prestige As the governments are vested with the power to bend the labelling of fake news to their will they can criminalize those accused of circulating such information to safeguard public interests There are at least four methods by which the governments have tightened the screws on cyberspace under the banner of curbing fake news i prosecute Internet users journalists and dissidents in particular ii pressure Internet Service Providers and social media platforms to block and remove content iii expand and deepen social media monitoring and iv shut down the Internet altogether All four countries have used fake news allegations to penalize critics Cambodia Thailand and Vietnam are inclined to use such allegations to strong arm tech companies into removing content at the behest of the governments Thailand and Vietnam tend to exploit such allegations to beef up online surveillance Myanmar is the only country that turns to Internet shutdowns The interplay between the methods of digital repression that exploit the pretext of cracking down on fake news and the manipulation of online discourse through the deployment of cyber troops would merit further research and in depth examination

Myanmar's Long Road to National Reconciliation Trevor Wilson, 2006 In late 2004 Myanmar's best known general and long serving leader of the military regime was suddenly dismissed This generated widespread uncertainty throughout the country and raised questions about the future This book addresses some of the issues Formation and Third Party Beneficiaries Mindy Chen-Wishart, Alexander Loke, Stefan Vogenauer, 2018-01-19 Studies in the Contract Laws of Asia provides an authoritative account of the contract law regimes of selected Asian jurisdictions including the major centres of commerce where limited critical commentaries have been published in the English language Each volume in the series aims to offer an insider's perspective into specific areas of contract law remedies formation parties contents vitiating factors change of circumstances illegality and public policy and explores how these diverse jurisdictions address common problems encountered in contractual disputes A concluding chapter draws out the convergences and divergences and other themes All the Asian jurisdictions examined have inherited or adopted the common law or civil law models of European legal systems Scholars of legal transplant will find a mine of information on how received law has developed after the initial adaptation and transplant process including the mechanisms of and influences affecting these developments At the same time many points of convergence emerge These provide good starting points for regional harmonization projects Volume II of this series deals with contract formation and contracts for the benefit of third parties in the laws of China India Japan Korea Taiwan Singapore Malaysia Hong Kong Korea Vietnam Cambodia Thailand Indonesia and Myanmar Typically each jurisdiction is covered in two chapters the first deals with contract formation while the second deals with contracts for the benefit of third parties

Freedom of Speech in International Law Amal Clooney, David Neuberger, 2024 Freedom of Speech in International Law charts the minimum protections for speech enshrined in international human rights law It not only addresses the problems facing free speech today but offers recommendations to give effect to the international law obligation to protect freedom of expression

Yearbook on International Investment Law & Policy 2014-2015 Andrea K. Bjorklund, 2016-09-30 Several themes emerge in this 2014 2015 edition of the Yearbook The first is a notable focus on country and region specific developments Different articles focus on key developments in such countries as Australia Brazil China Ghana India Indonesia Russia and South Africa Others focus on regional innovations in particular in Latin America A second area of attention is reform and proposals for reform in investor state dispute settlement and in investment law generally The third theme is the continued concern about states regulatory autonomy and the importance of their retaining ability to protect the interests of their nationals A fourth theme concerns the continued contribution that investment arbitration makes to the development of international law and the influence that it is starting to have on other areas of law whether that is as a source of inspiration in the interpretation of other norms or as a source of potentially powerful persuasive authority given the teeth that investment law has with respect to enforcement Included are the winning memorials of the FDI Moot for both 2014 and 2015 In 2014 a team from the University of Ottawa submitted the winning claimant's memorial while students from Harvard Law School submitted the winning respondent's memorial In 2015 Harvard repeated its stellar performance again winning best respondent's memorial The winning claimant's memorial in 2015 was submitted by students from the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens These excellent memorials reveal once again the growing interest of students in international investment law and demonstrate a striving for excellence and an enthusiasm for grappling with intellectually challenging issues

Privacy and Personal Data Protection Law in Asia Adrian Mak, Ching Him Ho, Anselmo Reyes, 2024-12-12 Covering 16 Asian jurisdictions representing differing stages in the development of data protection regulatory systems this book offers an in depth cross jurisdictional commentary on the developing world of Asian privacy and personal data protection with a special focus on private international law issues It brings together an international team of contributors who reflect on the framework of data privacy and protection laws in their respective regions. Topics discussed range from the extent to which such laws may have extraterritorial effect or may conflict with the laws of other states to shortcomings of existing systems and their potential for improvement. More than a valuable contribution to comparative private conflict of laws literature from an Asian perspective, the book also considers possible future trajectories for existing laws. It covers the extent to which Asian regimes will inevitably need to integrate with ever evolving privacy and personal data protection initiatives in the EU, the USA and China. It also assesses the extent to which existing regimes are sufficiently robust to handle the challenges of future technical developments in data collection and data transfer across borders, especially in relation to the activities of giant corporations such as Meta, Facebook, Google, Amazon, Alibaba and Tencent. The result is a wide ranging and forward thinking resource which provides practitioners and researchers with an account of data privacy law and personal data protection laws in Asia and their cross border implications as those regulations are now and as they might be in the future.

Routledge Handbook of Asian Parliaments

Po Jen Yap, Rehan Abeyratne, 2023-03-24. This handbook showcases the rich varieties of legislatures that exist in Asia and explains how political power is constituted in 17 jurisdictions in East, Southeast and South Asia. Legislatures in Asia come in all stripes. Liberal democracies co-exist cheek by jowl with autocracies, semi-democratic and competitive authoritarian systems abound. While all legislatures exist to make law and confer legitimacy on the political leadership, how representative they are of the people they govern differs dramatically across the continent such that it is impossible to identify a common Asian prototype. Divided into thematic and country-by-country sections, this handbook is a one-stop reference that surveys the range of political systems operating in Asia. Each jurisdiction chapter examines the structure and composition of its legislature, the powers of the legislature, the legislative process, thereby providing a clear picture of how each legislature operates both in theory and in practice. The book also thematically analyses the following political systems operating in Asia: communist regimes, liberal democracies, dominant party democracies, turbulent democracies, presidential democracies, military regimes and protean authoritarian rule. This handbook is a vital and comprehensive resource for scholars of constitutional law and politics in Asia.

Myanmar's Buddhist-Muslim Crisis

John Clifford Holt, 2019-09-30. Myanmar's Buddhist-Muslim Crisis is a probing search into the reasons and rationalizations behind the violence occurring in Myanmar, especially the oppressive military campaigns waged against Rohingya Muslims by the army in 2016 and 2017. Over more than three years, John Holt traveled around Myanmar, engaging in sustained conversations with prominent and articulate participants and observers. What emerges from his peregrinations is a series of compelling portraits revealing both deep insights and entrenched misunderstandings. To understand the conflict, Holt must first accurately capture the viewpoints of his different conversation partners who include Buddhists and Muslims, men and women, monks and laypeople, activists and scholars. Conversations range widely over issues such as the rise of Buddhist nationalism, the sometimes enigmatic and unexpected positions taken by

Aung San Suu Kyi use of the controversial term Rohingya the impact of state sponsored propaganda on the Burmese public resistance to narratives emanating from international media the United Nations and the international diplomatic community the frustrations of local political leaders who have felt left out of the policy making process in the Rakhine State and the constructive hopes and efforts still being made by forward looking activists in Yangon Three main perspectives emerge from the voices he listens to those of Arakanese Buddhists who are native to Rakhine once called Arakan where much of the conflict has taken place Burmese Buddhists or Barmars who make up the vast majority of Myanmar's population and the Rohingya Muslims whose tragic story has been widely disseminated by the international media What surfaces in conversation after conversation among all three groups is a narrative of siege all see themselves as the aggrieved party and all recount a history of being under siege John Holt gives voice to these different perspectives as an engaged and concerned participant offering both a critical and empathetic account of Myanmar's tragic predicament Readers follow the hopes and dismay of this seasoned scholar of Theravada Buddhism as he seeks his own understanding of the variously impassioned forces in play in this still unfolding drama
