Contested Civil Society in Myanmar Maaïke Matelski, 2025-05-20 This book illustrates the ways in which contestations in Myanmar society are reflected in civil society. It provides an up to date overview of the main identities and contestations in Myanmar society as a whole.

Constitutionalism and Legal Change in Myanmar Andrew Harding, Khin Khin Oo, 2017-01-26 Myanmar's Constitution of 2008 was the road map for the reform process that began in 2011. Despite extensive criticism of this Constitution for its emphasis on the role of the military, much progress has been made towards constitutional government and law reform. With the election of the opposition NLD to government in the general election of November 2015 and the presidential electoral college election of March 2016, now is the time to consider the Constitution and prospects and needs for constitutional change as Myanmar moves towards democracy and the rule of law. Much has been made of the Constitution's rigidity which is seen as an obstacle to reform and inconsistent with embracing the rule of law, human rights and multi party democracy especially with a rapidly transforming state and society. Nonetheless the Constitution is also seen as having potential to be a very positive force for reform. Many issues arise now for constitutionalism and constitutional change: presidency, federalism and territorial governance, the status of minorities and freedom of religion, civil liberties in what is described as a discipline flourishing democracy, the courts, justice and the rule of law, the electoral system and many more. This book is an attempt to gauge the extent and potential for the entrenchment of constitutionalism in Myanmar in a rapidly changing environment.

Consumer Protection in Asia Geraint Howells, Hans-W. Micklitz, Mateja Durovic, André Janssen, 2022-08-25 This book looks at the consumer protection offered in a range of Asian countries for example China, Japan and South Korea in key areas such as consumer sales law, unfair terms, product liability and unfair commercial practices. However, it is interesting to note that consumer protection is on the rise everywhere and to compare how this differs depending upon the legal cultures. It is also fascinating to reflect on the influence of models for law reform such as the EU laws. ASEAN has also affected the development of consumer policy for its member states. The book takes the form of national reports which explain the development of the law and also shed light on how the law works in practice. The book also contains thematic reports which look at each area of the law from a comparative perspective. Commentators from around the globe reflect on their impression of Asian consumer law based on their own differing legal systems and benchmarks. A must read for anyone with an interest in consumer law in Asia and beyond, this book will form the basis of further research and discussion internationally.

The Constitution of Myanmar Melissa Crouch, 2019-09-05 This timely and accessible book is the first to provide a thorough analysis of the 2008 Constitution of Myanmar. Burma in its historical, political and social context. The book identifies and articulates the principles of the Constitution through an in depth analysis of legal and political processes and practises particularly since the 1990s. The core argument of this book is that the 2008 Constitution is crucial to the establishment and maintenance of the military state. The military state promotes the leadership role of the military in governance based on a set of ideological commitments and a centralised form of organisation based on the concept of the Union The book develops this argument by demonstrating how the process of constitution making and the substance of the 2008 Constitution contribute to its lack of credibility and fuel demands for reform The vision offered by the 2008 Constitution and its associated institutions has been the subject of fierce contestation not least for example due to concerns over the militarisation of the state This book is animated by debates over fundamental ideas such as the nature of democracy the possibility of peace and federalism the relationship between the executive and the legislature relations between the Union government and sub national governments debates over judicial independence and the oversized role of the Tatmadaw armed forces Central to the future of the Constitution and the military state is the role of the Tatmadaw which will be a key determinant in any potential shift from the present highly centralised partly democratic Union to a federal or decentralised democratic system of governance

Felix Thiam Kim Tan, 2022-07-14 The recent military coup in Myanmar perpetrated by the Tatmadaw has set the country back to the days of political uncertainty and military authoritarianism This book examines how far the country has come since its nascent attempt at democratic reforms and democratisation in 2010 Each chapter considers some of the more prominent issues that have plagued Myanmar since political reforms started First there have been debates about the extent to which democratic reforms have been achieved since the Constitution was formalised in 2008 Second what has been the significance of the three elections in 2010 2015 and 2020 Third how has the National League for Democracy transformed in the past decade How far has the Union Solidarity and Development Party changed the political landscape What roles did the Tatmadaw play in the last decade Fourth questions surrounding how the ethnic crisis not least the Rohingya issue have continued to dominate the country's political landscape in the last decade thereby overshadowing its democratisation process Finally how far have these efforts at democracy demonstrated Myanmar's futile attempts at appeasing the domestic and international audience Myanmar's relations with the global and regional community vis vis the US China and the Association of Southeast Asian Nations have also taken a toll in the last decade There is already a shift in power politics especially with China determining the direction of Myanmar Myanmar has been locked in a perpetual cycle transitioning between military authoritarianism and democratisation These prevailing issues have led to a fragmented democracy and a lost opportunity to demonstrate its foray into a genuine democracy
