Female Mythologies in Contemporary Chicana Literature Nadine Gebhardt, 2007-08 Thesis M A from the year 2005 in the subject American Studies Literature grade 1 0 Ernst Moritz Arndt University of Greifswald language English abstract In Mexican American Chicano culture feminine archetypes from the Mexican tradition play an important role for woman s subjectivity Traditionally such archetypes epitomize Catholic patriarchal constructions of womanhood Idolized by the figures of the Virgin of Guadalupe La Malinche and La Llorona the most prevailing representations of female sexuality and motherhood evolve around the passive virgin the sinful seductress and the traitorous mother Along the lines of Chicana feminism the traditional definitions of these feminine archetypes can be seen as promoting an image of woman that is detrimental to female subjectivity Although there are three figures these archetypes evoke a binary opposition that defines woman as either good woman or bad woman virgin or whore As such they limit and circumscribe the Chicana s development of subjectivity But these cultural icons may also epitomize feminine power and hence provide the Chicana with possible feminist role models to back up her emancipation Chicana feminists have employed creative writing to counter the Catholic patriarchal discourse on the Virgin of Guadalupe Malinche and La Llorona As they explore these cultural archetypes in their novels short stories and poems Chicana feminists attempt to reveal the mechanisms by which the original images of these mythic figures have been subverted disempowered and distorted But most importantly they seek to deconstruct the virgin whore dichotomy by rewriting the mythic figures Through a revision of existing myths Chicana writers are able to create a feminist mythology that is rooted in cultural tradition but simultaneously serves as an act of resistance to the dominant discourse This Master s thesis will explore the mythic figures of Guadalupe

Baxter,Tara Lee,2014-06-16 What do literary dystopias reflect about the times In Blast Corrupt Dismantle Erase contributors address this amorphous but pervasive genre using diverse critical methodologies to examine how North America is conveyed or portrayed in a perceived age of crisis accelerated uncertainty and political volatility Drawing from contemporary novels such as Cormac McCarthy's The Road, Neil Gaiman's American Gods and the work of Margaret Atwood and William Gibson to name a few, this book examines dystopian literature produced by North American authors between the signing of NAFTA 1994 and the tenth anniversary of 9/11 2011. As the texts illustrate, awareness of and deep concern about perceived vulnerabilities—ends of water, oil, food, capitalism, empires, stable climates, ways of life, non-human species, and entire human civilizations—have become central to public discourse over the same period. By asking questions such as "What are the distinctive qualities of post-NAFTA North American dystopian literature?" and "What does this literature reflect about the tensions and contradictions of the inchoate continental community of North America?" Blast, Corrupt, Dismantle, Erase serves to resituate dystopian writing within a particular geo-social setting and introduce a productive means to understand both North American dystopian writing and its relevant engagements with a restricted, mapped reality.

Feminism on the Border Sonia Saldívar-Hull, 2000-05-09 Sonia Saldívar Hull's book proposes two moves that will no doubt leave a mark on Chicano/a and Latin American Studies as well as in cultural theory. The first consists in establishing alliances between Chicana and Latin American writers/activists like Gloria Anzaldúa and Cherrie Moraga on the one hand, and Rigoberta Menchú and Domitilla Barrios de Chungara on the other. The second move consists in looking for theories where you can find them in the non-places of theories, such as prefaces, interviews, and narratives. By underscoring the non-places of theories, Sonia Saldívar Hull indirectly shows the geopolitical distribution of knowledge between the place of theory in white feminism and the theoretical non-places of women of color and of third-world women. Saldívar Hull has made a signal contribution to Chicano/a Studies, Latin American Studies, and cultural theory.

Walter D. Mignolo, author of Local Histories, Global Designs: Coloniality, Subaltern Knowledges, and Border Thinking. This is a major critical claim for the sociohistorical contextualization of Chicanas who are subject to processes of colonization, our conditions of existence. Through a reading of Anzaldúa, Cisneros, and Viramontes, Saldívar Hull asks us to consider how the subalternized text speaks, how and why it is muted. How do testimonio, autobiography, and history give shape to the literary where embodied wholeness may be possible? It is a critical de-centering of American Studies and Mexican Studies as usual as she traces our cross-ed genealogies situated on the borders.

Postcolonial Literatures in English Anke Bartels, Lars Eckstein, Nicole Waller, Dirk Wiemann, 2019-04-27 The term postcolonial literatures in English designates English language literatures from Africa, Asia, the Americas, and Oceania, as well as the literatures of diasporic communities who have moved from those regions to the global north. This volume introduces the central themes of postcolonial literary studies and delineates how these themes are reflected and elaborated in exemplary literary works by postcolonial authors from around the world It also offers succinct definitions of key terms like Orientalism hybridity Indigeneity or writing back Encyclopedia of Lesbian and Gay Histories and Cultures Bonnie Zimmerman, George Haggerty, 2021-06-13 A rich heritage that needs to be documented Beginning in 1869 when the study of homosexuality can be said to have begun with the establishment of sexology this encyclopedia offers accounts of the most important international developments in an area that now occupies a critical place in many fields of academic endeavors It covers a long history and a dynamic and ever changing present while opening up the academic profession to new scholarship and new ways of thinking A groundbreaking new approach While gays and lesbians have shared many aspects of life their histories and cultures developed in profoundly different ways To reflect this crucial fact the encyclopedia has been prepared in two separate volumes assuring that both histories receive full unbiased attention and that a broad range of human experience is covered Written for and by a widerange of people Intended as a reference for students and scholars in all fields as well as for the general public the encyclopedia is written in user friendly language At the same time it maintains a high level of scholarship that incorporates both passion and objectivity It is written by some of the most famous names in the field as well as new scholars whose research continues to advance gender studies into the future Hybrid Identities Keri E. Iyall Smith, Patricia Leavy, 2008 Combining theoretical and empirical pieces this book explores the emerging theoretical work seeking to describe hybrid identities while also illustrating the application of these theories in empirical research The sociological perspective of this volume sets it apart Hybrid identities continue to be predominant in minority or immigrant communities but these are not the only sites of hybridity in the globalized world Given a compressed world and a constrained state identities for all individuals and collective selves are becoming more complex The hybrid identity allows for the perpetuation of the local in the context of the global This book presents studies of types of hybrid identities transnational double consciousness gender diaspora the third space and the internal colony Contributors include Keri E Iyall Smith Patrick Gun Cuninghame Judith R Blau Eric S Brown Fabienne Darling Wolf Salvador Vidal Ortiz Melissa F Weiner Bedelia Nicola Richards Keith Nurse Roderick Bush Patricia Leavy Trinidad Gonzales Sharlene Hesse Biber Emily Brooke Barko Tess Moeke Maxwell Helen Kim Bedelia Nicola Richards Helene K Lee Alex Frame Paul Meredith David L Brunsuma and Daniel J Delgado Colorblind Tools Marzia Milazzo, 2022-10-15 Winner of the 2023 Association for Ethnic Studies Outstanding Book Award A study of anti Blackness and white supremacy across four continents demonstrates that colorblindness is neither new nor a subtype of racist ideology but a constitutive technology of racism In Colorblind Tools Marzia Milazzo offers a transnational account of anti Blackness and white supremacy that pushes against the dominant emphasis on historical change pervading current racial theory This emphasis on change she contends misses critical lessons from the past Bringing together a capacious archive of texts on race produced in Brazil Cuba Mexico Panama the United States and South Africa from multiple disciplines and genres Milazzo uncovers transnational continuities in structural racism and white supremacist discourse from the inception of colonial modernity to the present In the process she traces the global workings of what she calls colorblind tools technologies and strategies that at once camouflage and reproduce white domination Whether examining Rijn van der Riet's defense of slavery in the Cape Colony discourses of racial mixture in Latin American eugenics and their reverberations in contemporary scholarship the pitfalls of white antiracism or Chicana indigenist aesthetics Milazzo illustrates how white people collectively disavow racism to maintain power across national boundaries and how anti Black and colonial logics can be reproduced even in some decolonial literatures Milazzo's groundbreaking study proves that colorblindness is not new nor is it a subtype of racist ideology or a hallmark of our era It is a constitutive technology of racism a tool the master cannot do without

English Literature and the Other Languages, 2022-06-08 The thirty essays in English Literature and the Other Languages trace how the tangentiality of English and other modes of language affects the production of English literature and investigate how questions of linguistic code can be made accessible to literary analysis This collection studies multilingualism from the Reformation onwards when Latin was an alternative to the emerging vernacular of the Anglican nation the eighteenth century confrontation between English and the languages of the colonies the process whereby the standard British English of the colonizer has lost ground to independent englishes American Canadian Indian Caribbean Nigerian or New Zealand English that now consider the original standard British English as the other languages the interaction between English and a range of British language varieties including Welsh Irish and Scots the Lancashire and Dorset dialects as well as working class idiom Chicano literature translation and self translation Ezra Pound's revitalization of English in the Cantos and the psychogrammar and comic dialogics in Joyce's Ulysses As Norman Blake puts it in his Afterword to English Literature and the Other Languages There has been no volume such as this which tries to take stock of the whole area and to put multilingualism in literature on the map It is a subject which has been neglected for too long and this volume is to be welcomed for its brave attempt to fill this lacuna
