The program which began in 2001 trains Marines and U S Navy personnel attached to Marine units in unarmed combat edged weapons weapons of opportunity and rifle and bayonet techniques. It also stresses mental and character development including the responsible use of force leadership and teamwork. The program uses an advancement system of colored belts similar to that of most martial arts. The different levels of belts are Tan belt the lowest color belt and conducted during entry level training signifies the basic understanding of the mental physical and character disciplines. It is the minimum requirement of all Marines with a training time of 27.5 hours and has no prerequisites. Recruits receive these belts after completion of a practical application test on all of the basic techniques of the Tan Belt. Gray belt is the second belt attained after 25 hours of training. It signifies an intermediate understanding of the basic disciplines. The Marine must complete the Leading Marines course from the Marine Corps Institute and most instructors will require a report be completed on the Marine Raiders. Green belt is the third belt requiring 25 hours of training. This belt signifies understanding of the intermediate fundamentals of the different disciplines. This is the first belt level in which one can become an instructor which allows him or her to teach tan grey and green belt techniques with the power to award the appropriate belt The prerequisites for this belt include a recommendation from reporting senior Brown belt is the fourth belt level requiring 33 hours of training It introduces Marines to the advanced fundamentals of each discipline In addition as with green belts they may be certified as MAIs and teach tan through brown techniques Prerequisites for this belt include recommendation of reporting senior Black belt 1st degree is the highest belt color and requires 40 hours of supervised training It signifies knowledge of the advanced fundamentals of the different disciplines A 1st degree black belt instructor may teach fundamentals from tan to black belt and award the appropriate belt In addition a black belt can become an instructor trainer which authorizes

A Path to Black Belt David Deich,2010-05-07 A Path to Black Belt provides new insights into the methods used in martial arts training Both Eastern and Western perspectives are used to explain how the historical training methods worked together to create the complete martial artist What creates an effective martial artist The raw material matters but what about the training To be an effective martial artist you have to understand the training If you knew the most efficient ways to train wouldn t you choose those for your martial regimen Unfortunately much of the historical training knowledge gained through centuries of martial development has been misplaced The training map has been distorted so that the current training directions can often create more problems than they solve How do you plot the right course The author answers this question and more by taking you step by step through the historical training methods Each method s place in an overall training regimen is explained from Eastern and Western perspectives How and why you train is just as important as what you train Marine Corps Martial Arts Program U. S. Marine Corps,2010-10-04 The Marine Corps Martial Arts Program consists of a belt ranking system that begins at Tan Belt and progresses up to 6th Degree Black Belt Each belt level consists of specific techniques of the four components of the physical discipline Rifle Bayonet Edged Weapons Weapons of Opportunity and Unarmed Combat Techniques begin with fundamentals and become more difficult as each level is reached In addition each belt level has a corresponding number of Mental and Character discipline requirements that help develop the Warrior Ethos in conjunction with the increased levels of lethality The ultimate goal for each of us should be to become a Master at Arms the epitome of the professional warrior International Standard for Martial Arts Black Belt Forms Len Losik Ph D,2020-01-26 This standard provides a desk reference that benefits those students and Black Belts seeking a traditional and repeatable instruction and enduring learning process This standard is for traditional Forms that can stop the continuous refinements in execution of Forms that degrades the traditional learning process for students and Black Belts This standard is for teaching and learning a traditional martial art s Forms up to 10th Dan Black Belt and allowing those who have postponed their training to return without having to start over increasing the likelihood that past students and Black Belts will return to training The posted use of this standard in a conspicuous location to be easily seen may increase student attendance by allowing students and Black Belts who have stopped training to return and returning students and Black Belts will help to grow a school by using a standard s demanding process The use of this standard will also improve the quality of the students effectiveness and instruction by Black Belts teaching requirements for a traditional martial arts training program This standard has become necessary due to a large number of people claiming to have earned a Black Belt Instructor whose training is suspect particularly those individuals who are quick to criticize others that are usually projecting their own incompetence Since is common to employ the strategy that says the best defense against being incompetent is to attack others competence claiming they are incompetent This document is one in a series of standards for martial arts instruction that identifies the fundamental information in Forms that Blacks Belts need to have for a repeatable training program devoid of refinements This standard will be maintained by releasing corrected and or improved revisions to keep this standard as a viable tool for maintaining the quality of traditional martial arts programs by increasing the quality of the behavior from Black Belts and students
