A Different Germany Claude Desmarais, 2015-01-12 A Different Germany looks at German film popular literature theatre garden culture and popular music as examples of how people of German Turkish descent women and culture writ large are thriving in a Germany that is for all of the struggles this entails already a country of great diversity Germany the authors argue in their own particular contexts is much more than the few tropes that circulate through the Cold War lens in much of the English speaking world

A New History of German Cinema Jennifer M. Kapczynski, Michael David Richardson, 2012 A dynamic event centered exploration of the hundred year history of German language film This dynamic event centered anthology offers a new understanding of the hundred year history of German language film from the earliest days of the Kintopp to contemporary productions like The Lives of Others Each of the more than eighty essays takes a key date as its starting point and explores its significance for German film history pursuing its relationship with its social political and aesthetic moment While the essays offer ample temporal and topical spread this book emphasizes the juxtaposition of famous and unknown stories granting attention to a wide range of cinematic events Brief section introductions provide a larger historical and film historical framework that illuminates the essays within it offering both scholars and the general reader a setting for the individual texts and figures under investigation Cross references to other essays in the book are included at the close of each entry encouraging readers not only to pursue familiar trajectories in the development of German film but also to trace particular figures and motifs across genres and historical periods Together the contributions offer a new view of the multiple intersecting narratives that make up German language cinema The constellation that is thus established challenges unidirectional narratives of German film history and charts new ways of thinking about film historiography more broadly Jennifer Kapczynski is Associate Professor of German at Washington University St Louis and Michael Richardson is Associate Professor of German at Ithaca College

Contemporary Trauma Narratives Jean-Michel Ganteau, Susana Onega, 2014-06-27 This book provides a comprehensive compilation of essays on the relationship between formal experimentation and ethics in a number of generically hybrid or liminal narratives dealing with individual and collective traumas running the spectrum from the testimonial novel and the fictional autobiography to the fake memoir written by a variety of famous more neglected contemporary British Irish US Canadian and German writers Building on the psychological insights and theorizing of the fathers of trauma studies Janet Freud Ferenczi and of contemporary trauma critics and theorists the articles examine the narrative strategies structural experimentations and hybridizations of forms paying special attention to the way in which the texts fight the unrepresentability of trauma by performing rather than representing it The ethicality or unethicity involved in this endeavor is assessed from the combined perspectives of the non foundational non cognitive discursive ethics of alterity inspired by Emmanuel Levinas and the ethics of vulnerability This approach makes Contemporary Trauma Narratives an excellent resource for scholars of contemporary literature trauma studies and literary theory Annual Report on English and American Studies ,2006 Journal of Commonwealth and Postcolonial Studies ,2006 The Greenwood Encyclopedia of World Popular Culture Gary Hoppenstand,2007 An encyclopedia describes all aspects of world culture broken down into six regional categories discussing the art dance fashion food pastimes periodicals recreation and transportation of each region Crossed Correspondences Vanessa Guignery,2016-02-08 While some writers adamantly refuse to allow anyone to read let alone comment upon their literary production until it is published others are willing to submit their manuscripts and work in progress to their peers in the hope of receiving critical judgment that might validate their choices or prompt them to introduce changes Correspondences between writers thus contain treasures of literary analysis when the recipient of a piece annotates it criticises it judges it inciting the sender to justify or defend his her choices to reconsider his her method and to discuss his her aesthetic principles The aim of this collection of essays is to analyse the specificity of letters in which writers comment not only on the production of their correspondent but also on their own artistic approach and their own work while it is still in progress or only just completed but not yet published Examining epistolary exchanges from the sixteenth to the twenty first century between English American and French authors contributors particularly concentrate on the points of contact between correspondences and literary criticism on the way writers reveal themselves as their peers first critics This process can help both parties delineate more clearly their trains of thoughts and accompany works in their gestation The epistolary genre thus becomes an aesthetic laboratory and a place for literary debates Tradition and Innovation H.T. Wilson,2023-11-06 First published in 1984 Tradition and Innovation by viewing Western civilization as a culture puts the common perspectives of our major Western institutions in bolder relief The author shows how the institutionalization of central modes of Western rationality found in capitalism industrialization science science based technology bureaucracy the rule of law the social and behavioral sciences has created a culturally and historically unique form of collective life advanced industrial society Indicative of this development is the nature and meaning of the so called innovative society itself where rationality is increasingly seen to repose in institutions and organized structures rather than in individuals Professor Wilson argues that this rationality is becoming traditionalized as a central artifact of our form of life one which believes in the independent existence of the facts of life This is borne out by the increasing autonomy of what professor Wilson calls disembodied disciplined observation determined as it is to annihilate contemplation and reflection in its effort to reconstitute practice in its own image This is an interesting read for students of sociology political science public administration and social science in general MLA International Bibliography of

Vander Schel,2023-05-20 From the closing decades of the eighteenth century German theology has been a major intellectual force within modern western thought closely connected to important developments in idealism romanticism historicism phenomenology and hermeneutics Despite its influential legacy however no recent attempts have sought to offer an overview of its history and development Oxford History of Modern German Theology Vol I 1781 1848 the first of a three volume series provides the most comprehensive multi authored overview of German theology from the period from 1781 1848 Kaplan and Vander Schel cover categories frequently omitted from earlier overviews of the time period such as the place of Judaism in modern German society race and religion and the impact of social history in shaping theological debate Rather than focusing on individual figures alone Oxford History of Modern German Theology Vol I 1781 1848 describes the narrative arc of the period by focusing on broader intellectual and cultural movements ongoing debates and significant events It furthermore provides a historical introduction to each of the chronological subsections that divides the book Moreover unlike previous efforts to introduce this time period and geographical region the volume offers chapters covering such previously neglected topics as religious orders the influence of Romantic art secularism religious freedom and important but overlooked scholarly initiatives such as the Corpus Reformatorum Attention to such matters will make this volume an invaluable repository of scholarship and knowledge and an indispensable reference resource for decades to come Racial Experiments in Cuban Literature and Ethnography Emily A. out the work of Lydia Cabrera as emblematic of the experimentation with genre that characterized the age Maguire constructs a series of counterpoints that place Cabrera's work in dialogue with that of her Cuban contemporaries including Fernando Ortiz Nicol's Guill'n and Alejo Carpentier An illuminating final chapter on Cabrera and Zora Neale Hurston widens the scope to contextualize Cuban texts within a hemispheric movement to represent black culture Emily A Maguire is associate professor of Spanish at Northwestern University Urban Popular Culture and Entertainment Antje

Innovation and Cultural Rewriting in the Cold War Era and After M. Cornis-Pope, 2016-04-30 Narrative Innovation and Cultural Rewriting undertakes a systematic study of postmodernism's responses to the polarized ideologies of the postwar period that have held cultures hostage to a confrontation between rival ideologies abroad and a clash between champions of uniformity and disruptive others at home Considering a broad range of narrative projects and approaches from polysystemic fiction to surfiction postmodern feminism and multicultural postcolonial fiction this book highlights their solutions to ontological division real vs imaginary wordly and other worldly sociocultural oppositions of race class gender and narratological dualities imitation vs invention realism vs formalism A thorough rereading of the best experimental work published in the US since the mid 1960s reveals the fact that innovative fiction has been from the beginning concerned with redefining the relationship between history and fiction narrative and cultural articulation Stepping back from traditional polarizations innovative novelists have tried to envision an alternative history of irreducible particularities excluded middles and creative intercrossings
