

1. Define metabolism. Metabolism (from the Greek metabole, change) is the totality of an organism's chemical reactions and is an emergent property of life that arises from orderly interaction between molecules. As a whole, metabolism manages the material and energy resources of a cell through metabolic pathways.

2. There are two types of reactions in metabolic pathways: anabolic and catabolic. Anabolic (or biosynthetic) reactions consume energy, build up larger molecules, and include photosynthesis. Catabolic reactions release energy, break down molecules, require enzymes to catalyze reactions, and include cellular respiration. Energy released from the "downhill" reactions of catabolic pathways can be stored and then used to drive "uphill" anabolic reactions.

3. Contrast kinetic energy with potential energy. Kinetic energy is associated with the relative motion of objects; moving objects can perform work by imparting motion to other matter. Potential energy is possessed by matter because of its location or structure (such as water behind a dam), even though it is not presently moving.

4. Which type of energy does water behind a dam have? A mole of glucose? Water behind a dam has potential energy. A mole of glucose has chemical energy, the potential energy available for release in a chemical reaction.

5. What is free energy? What is its symbol? Free energy is the portion of a system's energy that can perform work when temperature and pressure are uniform throughout the system, as in a living cell. This helps define the free energy of a system regardless of its surroundings. Free energy is expressed by G.

6. For an exergonic reaction, is ΔG negative or positive? Only processes with a negative ΔG are spontaneous. Exergonic reactions, resulting in a net release of energy, have a negative ΔG and are energetically favorable.

7. Is cellular respiration an endergonic or an exergonic reaction? What is ΔG for this reaction?

Cellular respiration is an exergonic reaction; ΔG for this reaction, which converts glucose and oxygen to carbon dioxide and water, is -686 kcal/mol.

8. Is photosynthesis endergonic or exergonic? What is the energy source that drives it? Photosynthesis is an endergonic process driven by sunlight.

9. To summarize, if energy is released, ΔG must be what? If energy is released, the change in free energy must be negative.

10. List three main kinds of work that a cell does. Give an example of each. Chemical work drives endergonic reactions that would not occur spontaneously, such as the synthesis of polymers from monomers. Transport work pumps substances across membranes against the direction of spontaneous movement. Mechanical work, involves physical processes such as the College Biology Learning Exercises & Answers Textbook Equity, 2014-08-22 This textbook is designed as a quick reference for College Biology volumes one through three. It contains each Chapter Summary, Art Connection Review, and Critical Thinking Exercises found in each of the three volumes. It also contains the COMPLETE alphabetical listing of the key terms. Black white version. College Biology intended for capable college students is adapted from OpenStax College's open CC BY textbook Biology. It is

Textbook Equity's derivative to ensure continued free and open access and to provide low cost print formats. For manageability and economy, Textbook Equity created three volumes from the original that closely match typical semester or quarter biology curriculum. No academic content was changed from the original. See textbookequity.org/tbq_biology. This supplement covers all 47 chapters. Study Guide for Introduction to Human Anatomy and Physiology Lois A. Ball, 2015-10-13. Ball's Study Guide for Introduction to Human Anatomy and Physiology 4th Edition is a comprehensive learning tool designed to help you better understand the terminology and concepts presented in Solomon's text. Its Table of Contents mirrors that of the text's and its new matching exercises and jumble games fill in the blank study questions, labeling exercises, crossword puzzles, and more give you a fun way to test your mastery of the material. Updated with new content and art, this engaging Study Guide provides you with the tools you need to learn the language of anatomy and physiology. Labeling exercises consisting of art from the textbook reinforce understanding of where the structures of the body are located. Multiple choice end of chapter tests immediately let you know if you have mastered the content of that chapter and better prepare you for multiple choice quizzes and exams in class. Chapter outlines and learning objectives from the textbook highlight essential content and the objectives you should master before beginning the exercises. Crossword puzzle activities encourage the use of new vocabulary words and emphasize the proper spelling of terms. Fill in the blank exercises help you master and retain information in a fun and engaging way. Answers to exercises on Evolve so you can use this Study Guide to test your knowledge. NEW All new matching exercises and jumble games mixed with traditional fill in the blank questions create more variety and give you more options for study. NEW Updated content and art reflects changes made to the new edition of the text and provides you with the tools you need to learn and master the concepts presented in the text.

Biochemistry Pamela C. Champe, Richard A. Harvey, Denise R. Ferrier, 2005. Lippincott's Illustrated Reviews Biochemistry has been the best selling medical level biochemistry review book on the market for the past ten years. The book is beautifully designed and executed and renders the study of biochemistry enormously appealing to medical students and various allied health students. It has over 125 USMLE style questions with answers and explanations as well as over 500 carefully crafted illustrations. The Third Edition includes end of chapter summaries, illustrated case studies, and summaries of key diseases.
