

The background of the entire cover is a photograph of an industrial setting, likely a steel mill. Two workers wearing full-body protective suits and helmets are visible. One worker is in the foreground, facing away from the camera, while the other is slightly behind and to the right. They are surrounded by complex machinery, including pipes, structural beams, and a large, dark, rectangular object that could be a mold or part of a furnace. The lighting is warm and orange, typical of industrial environments. In the top left corner, a small sign with the word "EMERGENCIA" is visible. The title "Metalurgia general" is centered in a large, white, sans-serif font. Below it, the authors' names "F. R. Morral / E. Jimeno / P. Molera" and the volume "Tomo I" are also in white. At the bottom, the publisher's name "EDITORIAL REVERTÉ" is on a black banner.
