This Thing Called Reason Benjamin K. Akih, 2025-05-06 This book offers a conceptual analysis of reason proposing a plausible theory to resolve persistent vagueness in the historical use of the concept The proposed theory leads to the view that reason is fundamentally subjective and dependent on non inferential matters of faith Despite the inherent subjectivity we can arrive at a consensus in reasoning exercises because we all participate in a universal minimum religion that grounds all reasoning True atheism is therefore impossible This analysis bears on debates about the relation between faith and reason as well as the relation between ethics based on reason and ethics based on sentiments The book further shows that this new and original view of religiously constrained reason ought to equally inform our thinking about applied ethics such as politics law and economics

The Divine Manifold Roland Faber, 2014-07-30. The Divine Manifold is a postmodern enquiry in intersecting themes of the concept and reality of multiplicity in a chaosmos that does not refuse a dimension of theopoetics but rather defines it in terms of divine polyphilia the love of multiplicity In an intricate play on Dante's Divine Comedy this book engages questions of religion and philosophy through the aporetic dynamics of love and power locating its discussions in the midst of and in between the spheres of a genuine philosophy of multiplicity This philosophy originates from the poststructuralist approach of Gilles Deleuze and the process philosophical inspirations of Alfred N Whitehead As their chaosmos invites questions of ultimate reality religious pluralism and multireligious engagement a theopoetics of love will find paradoxical dissociations and harmonizations with postmodern sensitivities of language power knowledge and embodiment At the intersection of poststructuralism's and process theology's insights in the liberating necessity of multiplicity for a postmodern cosmology the book realizes its central claim If there is a divine dimension of the chaosmos it will not be found in any identification with mundane forces or supernatural powers but on the contrary in the absolute difference of polyphilic love from creativity Yet the concurrent indifference of love and power its mystical undecidability in terms of any conceptualization will lead into existential questions of the insistence on multiplicity in a world of infinite becoming as inescapable background for its importance and creativeness formulating an ecological and ethical impulse for a mystagogy of becoming intermezzo
