Metaphor And Meaning In Psychotherapy:

Metaphor and Meaning in Psychotherapy Ellen Y. Siegelman, 1993-08-01 When therapists hear patients talk of feeling imprisoned burning with rage trapped or unequipped they are witnessing manifestations of the symbolic attitude the hallmark of all depth psychology Most clinicians naturally respond to and use metaphors but they often fail to understand the full potential of metaphoric images This volume in addressing the transforming power of metaphor demonstrates how clinicians can deepen the therapeutic encounter

Psychotherapeutic Metaphors: A Guide To Theory And Practice Philip Barker, 2013-10-28 Provides a theoretical and practical introduction to the use of metaphors in therapy outlining which clinical situations lend themselves to the use of metaphorical strategies and how to use metaphors to develop rapport between therapist and client

Metaphor in Psychotherapy Dennis Tay, 2013-07-25 This book represents a bold attempt to address contemporary issues in both metaphor and psychotherapy research On one hand metaphor research is increasingly concerned not just with describing metaphors in discourse but how they could be used more adroitly in purposive real world contexts such as psychotherapy On the other hand while a growing number of mental health professionals believe that metaphors contribute in some way to the psychotherapy process their ability and willingness to use metaphors might be compromised by a relative unfamiliarity with the various nuanced aspects of metaphor theory The present analysis of metaphors in authentic psychotherapeutic talk brings these theoretical aspects to the forefront and suggests how they can be applied to enhance the use of communication of metaphors in psychotherapy It should be of interest to metaphor researchers mental health professionals and discourse analysts in general

Metaphors in Psychotherapy Kevin William Grant, 2020-01-28 Kevin William Grant examines the cognitive processes that produce metaphors in psychotherapy The I Ching Task is the measure of metaphor production applied in this research inquiry Two cognitive processes are hypothesized to be necessary for the production of a metaphor The first hypothesized cognitive process is sensory imaginal processing where attention is concentrated into one's internal experiencing and sensory awareness to form sensory impressions or sensory images The second type of processing is called integration synthesis processing and this is hypothesized to work in parallel with sensory imaginal processing Integration synthesis processing functions to combine conflicting or contradictory elements into an integrated whole Metaphor is the meeting point of these processes and all of them are important in the production of metaphor in psychotherapy Revised and updated from the first edition published in 1991

Mio,Albert N. Katz,2018-10-24 Research on metaphor has been dominated by Aristotelian questions of processes in metaphor understanding Although this area is important it leaves unasked Platonic questions of how structures of the mind affect such processes Moreover there has been relatively little work on how metaphors affect human behavior Although there are numerous postdictive or speculative accounts of the power of metaphors to affect human behavior in particular areas such as clinical or political arenas empirical verification of these accounts has been sparse To fill this void the editors have compiled this work dedicated to empirical examination of how metaphors affect human behavior and understanding The book is divided into four sections metaphor and pragmatics clinical uses of metaphor metaphor and politics and other applications of metaphor Chapters contained within these sections attempt to merge Aristotelian questions with Platonic ones Doing Research in Counselling and Psychotherapy John McLeod, 2014-11-30 From leading researcher and bestselling author John McLeod this substantially rewritten and restructured third edition is the most accessible and comprehensive how to guide on conducting a successful research project in counselling and psychotherapy Taking you step by step through the research process this new edition includes A list of 9 basic principles for doing meaningful and practically useful research Chapters on basic research skills developing a research question critically evaluating research studies compiling a research proposal using qualitative and quantitative methods and fulfilling the requirements of ethics committees Chapters on 5 main types of research product that can be accomplished by novice researchers qualitative interview studies systematic case studies practice based outcome research autoethnographic inquiry and publishable literature reviews Guidance on how to get your work published Supported by a companion website offering relevant journal articles sample ethical consent forms links to open access research tools and more this is an indispensable resource for any counselling trainee or practitioner learning about the research process for the first time John McLeod is Emeritus Professor of Counselling at the University of Abertay Dundee
